

HUSKER HIGHLIGHTS

By George Miller

Final addenda to the basketball season:

Kansas university cagers selected an all-spar team as well as an all-star team after they finished their campaign. The Jayhawks seemed to have a penchant for getting into scrapes during their season, and were able to be selective in their choice of rival brawlers.

Nebraska fans got a look at the KU team at its best during the Scarlet's narrow win in the season. A full scale riot marred the game. Charlie Black, Jayhawk star, and Nebraska's Joe Loisel stood out in the milling.

Not forgetting, of course, Husker trainer Elwyn Dees, who performed yeoman service in the interests of preserving peace.

One of the hardest workers in the Nebraska spring athletic camp is Jim Sandstedt, regular pitcher on the baseball team last season. Jim received a badly twisted knee during the early stages of the basketball season and was in the hospital and on the sidelines for the rest of the campaign.

Still partially hobbled by the injury, Sandstedt has put in long hours jogging around the track to get the legs back in shape, and has not given up hope of returning to his first string spot on the baseball squad.

While other baseball candidates engage in batting and fielding drills during the spring, Sandstedt is working on fielding ground balls in pepper games in an effort to regain the agility necessary for mound duty.

If and when the Lincoln Western league team possesses a home stadium, it is possible that the Scarlet baseball team will shift some of its home games to the Western League park.

The existence of outfield fences would be a welcome change for Nebraska flychasers. In games played on the wide open stretches of the present outfield, any ball that eluded an outfielder gave the batter a good chance of marking a complete tour of the bases.

While on the baseball subject, the Dale Mitchell who has shown to good advantage in the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp is the same powerful slugger who blasted home runs with abandon against Nebraska last spring while playing for Oklahoma. During the two game series Oklahoma hitters amassed five home runs and three triples.

From the looks of early football drills, the Huskers will have a definite passing threat at almost every post in the backfield.

Coach Bernie Masterson has been giving backfield candidates plays in which not only the quarterback but both halfbacks take to the air. Some Husker followers would like to have seen the same maneuvers last fall, for Halfback Ray Long was a potent passing threat during his tenure in the T formation maneuvering.

Grimm, Mike To Compete In Nationals

Marvin Grimm, Nebraska University's swimming star, left Tuesday by plane for the National Collegiate Athletic association swimming meet in Seattle, Washington. Grimm will join Coach McGuire and Roger Watts from Iowa State for the stay in Seattle.

Swimmers from most of the Big Nine schools will compete in the contest. Other representatives will include Yale, Stanford, Dartmouth, U. C. L. A., the University of Washington, and Texas University. Smith and Hirose from Ohio State will be among Grimm's outstanding competitors. Anderson from the University of California, Lopin, Iowa University, and Hefflinger, Minnesota will be other candidates for the sprint free style honors.

Grimm will swim in the 50 and 100 yard free style events. His best times during the season range between :52 and :53, whereas the outstanding times of the nation are between :51.8 and :53.

DiBiase to Compete.

Mike DiBiase, Big Six heavyweight wrestling champion, will carry the Husker flag in the N. C. A. A. wrestling championships this week end at the University of Illinois in Champaign. Mike and Coach Adams will leave today for the contest.

Mike has a season's record of ten wins, one defeat, and one draw. He will be out to avenge his only loss of the season to Vern Gagne from Minnesota. Gagne, Big Nine heavyweight champion, narrowly margined Mike in a regular season match.

Oklahoma A. & M. is the defending N. C. A. A. champion and will present a formidable crew again this year. However, the Aggies will be pressed by such outstanding schools as Cornell College, Iowa State Teachers, and the University of Illinois, Big Nine champion.

Seasoned Men Boost Cyclones

AMES, Ia.—L. C. (Cap) Timm, Iowa State baseball coach, has 11 lettermen among the top 33 candidates for the 1947 nine.

Timm, who is resuming his baseball duties for the first time since he went to the Navy in the spring of 1943, has four lettermen pitchers, the same number of infielders, and three outfielders. Only in the catching department does the veteran Iowa State coach have to depend upon completely untried material.

Cornhusker Payments

Final payments of $3 for the 1947 Cornhusker are payable beginning today and are due April 15, Dean Skokan, business manager announced.
