

Sore Muscles Reward Klein's Frosh Stars

While the varsity football team has been receiving the full brightness of the football spotlight in all of the local papers, the boys on the freshman field have been putting forth their all under the constant tutorage of Pop Klein.

By a strange quirk of nature, the same weather has been prevailing over their field as has been raising hob with the varsity gridders. The weather, together with the lack of experience of these red and white men of the future, have banded to give Pop Klein a huge headache and his gridders a multitude of sore muscles. They have been scrimmaging, tackling, blocking, pushing the sleds, and eating their share of the sod with all the vim and vigor of the various mainstays.

Pop Klein heads the list of the freshman field coaches aided by Jerry Kathol, Bob Kahler and Henry Reichel.

Husker Pass Plays Hold Pigskin Interest

BOB TEGT—Husky tackle is getting plenty of attention from Line Coach Tony Blazine as the new line mentor whips the Nebraska forward wall into shape during spring training drills.

Passing and pass defense got some attention Wednesday afternoon as the Husker football candidates ran through another chilly drill.

Bostwick Back
Head Coach Bernie Masterson brought George Bostwick, North Platte freshman, back to the varsity squad as a quarterback. Bostwick had been shunted to the Nubbins squad earlier in the week, but when the Husker coaching staff learned that the versatile Platter had done some pigskin passing in his high school days, he was ordered to come back to the main practice field for directions as quarterback.

In addition to being a passer, Bostwick will add badly-needed height to the Husker backfield defenses. Short halfbacks are a drug on the Scarlet football market. The little fast boys are plenty valuable on offense, but cannot cope with the taller opponents when Husker foes take to the air.

Aside from Dale Adams, Darwin Salestrom and Bob Mullen, a trio of tall fullbacks, the Nebraska backfield roster is composed of players beneath the six-foot mark. It was snow again on Wednesday, as the elements continued to pester the Huskers during their second week of spring drills.

More Exercise
To be certain players got rid of kinks and muscle knots, the Scarlet coaching staff put more emphasis than usual on the calisthenics part of the workout.

Tony Blazine's line huskies put in time working on the blocking dummies, practicing assignments. Advance plans indicate that another scrimmage session is on tap for gridders in today's workout.

Coach Weir Names Eight for Texas Trip

Eight University of Nebraska track and field performers have been named by Coach Ed Weir to compete in the Texas Relays at Austin Saturday.

Two relay teams and four individual entries will represent the Huskers in the southwestern carnival, the first outdoor appearance of the season for the Scarlet thin-clads.

Bobby Ginn, Madison distance ace who won the Big Six mile and 880 championships in the indoor championships; Harold Kopf, fast-improving Lexington freshman

Gopher Grid Camp Supplied With 88 Vets

MINNEAPOLIS.—Bernie Bierman expects 88 veterans of Minnesota varsity and "B" football competition to report for the opening practice Monday, March 31, at Northrop field. Newcomers will likely swell the total turnout to more than 125.

For six and possibly seven weeks the Gophers will get down to serious preparation for their 13th fall campaign under Bierman. Other staff members who will work with Minnesota's head man of the grid will be Dr. George Hauser, line coach; Dallas Ward, backfield coach; George Svendsen, assistant line coach, and John Roning, end coach.

Indications are that 28 lettermen will be on hand Monday—11 of them sophomores with three full years of competition ahead, 12 juniors, and 5 seniors. Twenty-four additional members of the 1946 varsity squad are on the tentative roster drawn up by Bierman.

Four 1946 lettermen plan to participate in sprint sports. They are Harry Elliott, left halfback, baseball; Harry "Bud" Grant, end, baseball; Leo Nomellini, guard, track; Dean Widseth, tackle, track.

who pushed Ginn in the indoor half mile; Al Brown, prewar ace who has been a half mile stalwart this season, and Loyal Hurlbert, Ord quarter miler prospect, will compete in the two mile and the distance medley relays.

Each of the four runners will take an 880 leg in the two mile race, but in the distance medley, Hurlbert will take the 440, Brown the 880, Kopf the three-quarter mile, and Ginn the mile.

Vault Hopefuls.

Nebraska's pole vaulting pair, Don Cooper and Dick Miller, will compete in their favorite event. Cooper cleared 13 feet to win a tie for second place in the Purdue Relays last week, while Miller tied for fifth with a 12 feet 6 inch effort. In the conference indoor meet Cooper won the championship and Miller finished second.

Monte Kinder, lanky high jumper, will attempt to repeat his sparkling performance of 6 feet 6 inches which he turned in in an earlier Texas Relays appearance while a member of a pre-flight team.

The final Husker competitor will be Herb Grote, javelin artist, who will unlimber his throwing arm for the first time this season.
