Kosmet Klub Show Opens Tonite for Three-Day Run

BY GENE JENSEN.

"Aksarben Nights," the first original music comedy presented by the Kosmet Klub since 1942, opens for its scheduled three-day run tonite at 8 p. m. in the Temple. Performances will be given at the same hour Friday and Saturday.

This year's production, written by Bill Wiseman and Dave Andrews, was directed by Speech Instructor Max Whittaker. Bill Palmer and Av Bondarin, Kosmet Klub members, assisted in directing the show. Donna McCandless was in charge of the dances used in the musical.

Horace Biskett played by Bruce Coffman is a discouraged veteran who fought the war stationed on the isle of Catalina and has returned to his pre-war Alma Mater, Aksarben U, and to his sweetheart, Lenore, played by Doane Keichel.

None of the students at Aksarben are happy to see Horace—he is branded as a victim of war hysteria by Dugie Doyle as Chancellor Distaffson, but who decides, nevertheless, that Horace will be kept in the university since it is the matriculation that will save the institution from bankruptcy.

Saboteurs and spies sent to undermine the morale of the school are two Southern gentlemen Yorlick and Schultz enacted by Lynn Reed and Doug Peters.

Newsie, interpreter of the show who wanders in and out throughout the entire production, will be played by John Carson. Al Sage as Professor Meek, instructor of classes in Life, and Harold Marer as Ama Love, proprietress of a very essential boarding house, are other main characters.

A bolero, ballads, boggie wogie, comedy songs and a feature in Gilbert and Sullivan style are the types of music included in the show.

Leg-art and the traditional kicking of the pony chorus which is composed of 20 men will be seen during the production. Featured production number of the show will be the bolero to be sung by Willis Jahde of the school of music.

Convocation to Feature Butler In Lecture on Value of Books

Today at 3 p. m. Dr. C. Paul Butler, book editor of the New York Mirror, will discuss "Book Magic" at the university convocation to be held in the Union ballroom.

Author of "Best Sermons of 1943-44", "Best Sermons, 1946 Edition", and "Modern College Readings", Dr. Butler has presented more than 600 lectures in the past seven years.

He received his education at Lawrence College, Drew Seminary and Columbia University, and he has conducted research abroad in libraries in Paris, Heidelberg, Oxford, the British museum, the Vatican and Geneva.

Reading Lists

Several times each year, Dr. Butler issues reading lists of worthwhile current literature. His list for this spring, will be handed each person as he enters the ballroom. Current novels, mysteries and westerns are listed under fiction, and non-fiction entries include travel and adventure, homes and gardens, religious and juvenile books.

Preceding the lecture, there will be a musical prelude of orchestra recordings of the classical level.

Dr. Karl Arndt, convocation chairman, has announced that Dr. Butler attempts to interest people in books with his discussions.

Three University P. E. Staff Men Attend Meetings

Three members of the university department of physical education are attending the central district convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Minneapolis, Minn., this week.

Lou Means, head of the department of student physical welfare, Dr. Vernon Lapp and Ed Higginbotham, staff members, are the Nebraska representatives at the Minneapolis conference. Means will serve as head of the resolutions committee for the district meeting.

From the Minneapolis meeting Means and Lapp will go on to Seattle, Wash., for the national convention of the same organization which begin next week.

Pfeiler Elected Language Head

Dr. William K. Pfeiler was elected president of the Nebraska section of the Modern Language Teacher Association of America at its annual meeting in Omaha last weekend. Dr. Pfeiler is a professor of Germanic languages. Other officers of the association: Prof. William A. McCall, Hastings College, vice president; and Mrs. Paul Sutton, Omaha, secretary-treasurer.

Legislators Give Amvet Poll Replies

Nebraska's Reps Get Vet Petition

Three of Nebraska's congressional representatives have acknowledged receipt of the American Veterans committee student expenditure results, according to the executive council of the university chapter of AVC. Each representative was furnished with approximately twenty personal expenditure blanks and complete tabulations of the 912 results received during the AVC poll.

Carl T. Curtis, (1st district), wrote, "I am glad to know how the allowance made for educational expenses for the veterans is really working out."

Howard Buffet, (2nd district), mentioned, "I have made this material a part of my file . . . so that I can study it in conjunction with other data on the subject."

Third district representative Karl Stefan replied, "Whenever the bill (MR870) does come to us for direct action in the House, I shall be aided by the information that you have caused to come into my possession."

No reply was received from the fourth district representative, A. L. Miller.

Status of HR 870.

AVC was informed by its national legislative representative, Chat Patterson, that HR 870 is in a special House Veterans subcommittee with bitter opposition being voiced against the measure by Rep. John Rankin (r., Miss.), Rep. Robert T. Ross (r., N. Y.), and Rep. W. M. Wheeler (d., Ga.).

Sub-committee chairman Ramey expects a vote on the measure within a week, Patterson added. The poll was taken on campus before spring vacation.

Nebraska Rifle Team To Make Final Start

The University of Nebraska Army ROTC rifle team will compete in a shoulder-to-shoulder match against Iowa State and Creighton University marksmen on the university's rifle range Saturday morning. The match ends the Nebraska team's season.

Chancellor Will Address '47 Honors Convocation

The annual honors convocation will be held Tuesday, April 22, at the Coliseum. The convocation will start at 10:15 a. m. and all classes and labs will be dismissed at 10 in order that all students may attend.

Chancellor Gustavson will be the convocation's speaker. His address will be "Civilization's Challenge to Your Generation." This will be the second time that all students will hear the chancellor.

The university orchestra under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow will furnish music for the event.

Top students and student organizations will receive recognition for high scholastic standings along with the presentation of prizes, awards and certificates for superior scholars.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Leland H. Leshar of the

Ahrends Named Vice President

Harold Mozer, junior in Engineering college, was elected president of Student Council at a joint meeting of old and new council members yesterday. Stanley Ahrends, Engineering college junior, takes the position of vice president.

The new secretary of the Council is Jeanne Ackerman, an Arts and

35th Feeders Day Program Held Friday

With the weatherman indicating no moisture for Friday, plans for holding the outdoor portion of the 35th annual Feeders' Day on Ag campus were being completed.

Bleachers will go up in the feedlots at the beef barns on the campus early Thursday. They will hold several thousand visitors who will get a glimpse of some 200 head of experimental cattle which will be moved into the campus from the University farms, east of Lincoln, where the feeding experiments are done.

Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel, chairman of the animal husbandry department, said that the exhibition of the cattle at 11 a. m., will feature work done on feeding prairie hay cut at various times, Milking Shorthorns and work done on feeding different protein levels.

The day's program opens at 9:15 a. m., and closes at 3:30. Separate programs for men and women are planned.

Hawaiian Sugar Planters Offer 6 Scholarships

The Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association has established six undergraduate scholarships in Tropical Crop Production at the University of Hawaii for men who have completed two years of college work in agriculture, according to an announcement made by Dean Burr today.

Each of these scholarships carries a stipend of $750 per year and each will normally be renewed for a second year. Holders of these scholarships will be exempt from registration, tuition, and laboratory fees in the University.

Purpose of the scholarships is to train men for positions of responsibility in the Hawaiian sugar industry; however, the usefulness of a graduate from this curriculum is not circumscribed by the local pattern of employment.

Nebraska Masquers

An important meeting of Nebraska Masquers will be held at 5 p. m. today in room 154, Temple, according to Blanche Duckworth, president. All pledges and actives should be present for the election of officers for the coming year.

Science college representative. Arlis Swanson of Teachers college was elected to the position of treasurer.

Judiciary Committee.

Ned Raun, representative from Ag college, heads the judiciary committee, with Jean Compton, Ruth Peters and Sam Warren as committee members.

Before the election procedure began, Helen Laird, presiding as past president of the Council, welcomed the new members to the council, explained its purpose and activities, and urged them to put their political alignments behind them.

"It is necessary that you think only as the representative of your college whose students elected you to the council," she stated. "Act with the sincerity and logic which you would expect from others."

Qualifications.

In view of the fact that new members as well as old members would elect the new officers, Miss Laird suggested that before voting the new members be informed of the qualifications of the members nominated for offices. This was done after the nominations were made and the nominees had left the room.

For the topmost council office, the presidency, three hold-over members were nominated. Fred Teller, senior representative from Bus Ad, nominated Harold Mozer. Owen Scott, newly elected member from Arts and Science, nominated Sam Warren. Ned Raun was nominated by Doris Easterbrook, Teachers college senior representative.

Recommendations.

Ruth Peters, Mary Claire Phillips, Doris Easterbrook and Dina Buckingham were each given the floor to state the qualifications of nominee Raun. Fred Teller gave recommendations for Mozer, and Arlis Swanson spoke for Sam Warren.

Miss Ackerman and Mr. Raun were the only nominees for the respective positions of secretary and judiciary committee head and were elected unanimously.

Mr. Mozer, a past member of the Constitution Revisions Committee, is business manager of the Nebraska Blue Print, a member of the Engineering Exec board and Corn Cobs. He is a member of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity.

YW Schedules May Breakfast

The May morning breakfast, a traditional affair which has been sponsored by the YWCA for about 30 years, will be held Sunday morning, May 4 at 9 o'clock, in the Union Ballroom.

The breakfast is held the Sunday after Ivy Day on the supposition that more mothers will be in Lincoln on that weekend than on any other during the year. It is for mothers in particular, but girls whose mothers are not in town are invited to come.

It is an all-campus breakfast, and is not restricted to YW members and their mothers.

A worship service will be held at 8 p. m., and everybody is encouraged to come. It will be held in the faculty lounge of the Union.

Tickets will be put on sale tomorrow. They can be obtained at the YW office in Ellen Smith and from members of the Freshman Cabinet. They will be 60 cents each.

Weather Report

The weather for today is "fair and warmer". Tuesday it snowed and was very cold, yesterday it was "fair and warmer", for today it is "fair and warmer", and if it keeps on getting fairer and warmer every day, by Sunday you'll step out the door and be served for supper on the half-shell. But, all kidding aside, the weather for today is "fair and warmer with highest temperatures near 58 degrees"—courtesy of UN weather bureau.
