Jazz Cavalcade Will Offer Blues, Boogie and Teagarden

Blues and boogie fans will have a chance to see some big names in those fields of jazz when Jack Teagarden, Hot Lips Page, Georgie Auld, and J. C. Higginbotham will appear in the "Cavalcade of Jazz" concert-dance at the Turnpike ballroom, Friday, April 18 from 8:30 to 12:30.

Also included in the list of jazz greats will be Dinah Washington, George Jenkins, Lee Castle, Eddie Durham, Freddie Washington, "Flat Top" Wilson and Morris Lane.

Teagarden, "King of the Blues Trombone," will be featured with the cavalcade. One of America's best known jazz trombonists, he is from the home of jazz, New Orleans.

Winner of 27 polls and awards conducted by trade and other publications, Big T. has worked with Red Nichols, Ben Pollock, Paul Whiteman, Gene Krupa and the Dorseys. With the late Glenn Miller, Teagarden arranged and wrote lyrics for the now famous "Basin Street Blues."

Co-starring with Teagarden will be Hot Lips Page and his blues trumpet. Page played with the original Blue Devils in Texas, which became the Benny Moten orchestra until, at Moten's death, the band went under the baton of Count Basie.

Lips has organized his own combo, appeared on NBC's Lower Basin Street chamber music program, and starred in the first Carnegie Hall Jazz Concert with "Fats" Waller.

Georgie Auld, formerly with Artie Shaw and Benny Goodman, was born in Toronto and studied sax under Rudy Wiedoft, later switched to tenor sax after hearing a Coleman Hawkins record. He was with the late Bunny Berigan for two years, then joined Shaw. More recently he has been featured with Goodman.

J. C. Higginbotham, who rarely appears away from New York's 52nd Street, left his native Atlanta in 1928 to appear with Chick Webb's band. Familiar to all jazz hounds, he has starred with Luis Russell and Louis Armstrong and has been for the past few years with Red Allen's combination.

Ticket sales will begin Wednesday at Schmoller and Mueller Piano Co., 1212 O, at $1.55 including tax.

for members and dates Friday from 8:30 to 12 p. m. in the XYZ parlors of the Union, according to Dan Hendrickson.

FRESHMAN WOMEN

Freshman women students may attend the Kosmet Klub show tonight, but they will be required to be in 15 minutes after the performance is completed.

CORNHUSKER

All $3.00 partial payments for the 1947 Cornhusker must be paid by Friday afternoon, Dean Skokan, Cornhusker business manager, has announced.

Orchestra Will Give Modern Music Concert

The University Symphony Orchestra, Emanuel Wishnow, conductor, will appear in a concert of contemporary American music Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Union ballroom. Faculty pianist Mary Louise Boehm will play with the 63-piece group in a premier performance of a tone poem for orchestra and piano by graduate student Harry Harter.

Several of Mr. Harter's compositions have been performed this year by such musical groups as the University Singers and the Sinfonia glee club which he directs. "Paisajes de Monterey" is the first orchestral work of his to be performed here.

Using Latin-American rhythms and showing folk melody influence of Catalan origin, the piece opens with the picture of ocean mist, the sound of distant fog horns, and the roar of the surf. A religious theme of the second section progresses to a gay fiesta in the third part. The piano portion, which Miss Boehm will play, is an integral part of the composition, rather than of solo stature.

The other two American composers represented are Howard Hanson, native Nebraskan now director of the Eastman School of Music, and Burnet Tuthill, school of music director at Southwestern College in Memphis, Tennessee, and secretary of the National Association of Schools of Music for which Dr. Hanson is Graduate Curricula chairman. Hanson's second symphony and Tuthill's descriptive piece, "Bethlehem," complete the program.
