

Husker Track Team Set for KU Relays

A contingent of Nebraska track and field athletes, partially depleted by ineligibility and injuries, will leave Lincoln this afternoon for Lawrence, Kas., the site of the Kansas Relays.

Top athletes from the midwest and southwest will be on hand for the competition which will attract entrants from all Big Six schools, including Colorado, as well as Texas, Texas A. & M., and Baylor of the Southwestern loop; Wichita, Drake and Oklahoma A. & M. of the Missouri Valley; Minnesota and Iowa of the Big Ten, and top independents such as Notre Dame.

Coach Ed Weir has been stymied in his attempts to whip the Scarlet squad into tip-top shape. A week of spring vacation followed by cold weather has taken the edge off the Husker athletes, and runners have been unable to cut loose for fear of pulled muscles.

Loyal Hurlbert, steadily-improving Ord middle distance star, has been declared temporarily ineligible, as has Dick Piderit, bell-weather of the Nebraska shot put crew. Hurlbert's loss is a blow to several relay teams that Weir was readying, for the Ord freshman turned in blazing performances during the Texas Relays.

Also on the absent list are Fritz Ware and Willis Jones, both of whom are out of action because of pulled muscles. Ware, sprinter and broad jumper, was kept out of the entire indoor season because of leg injuries, and then pulled a muscle in the other leg just before the KU affair. Jones is a freshman hurdler from Minden who showed plenty of promise during the indoor campaign.

Miller Absent. Dick Miller, former Big Six pole vault champion, will also be missing. Miller is out of town because of a physical education convention. He placed second in the vault at the Kansas meet last spring.

Nebraska will be represented by teams in the 440, 880, two-mile and distance medley relays, as well as by a number of individual entries.

Chances for success seem brightest in the two-mile and distance medley races. With plucky Bobby Ginn available the Scarlet teams have an anchor man without peer. Early predictions from Lawrence have installed the Huskers as a top contender for the two-mile championship, for observers point to Ginn, Harold Kopf, Jim Martin and Al Brown as a quartette of 880 men hard to equal.

Ginn helped the Huskers take home the distance medley title last year when he nipped Fred Feiler of Drake at the tape in a blistering stretch battle in the mile leg of the medley race.

No definite teams have been named by Weir for any relay events, but he has tentatively nominated six men for most four-place teams.

Grote Ready. Herb Grote, defending javelin champ, heads the individual entrants from the Husker camp. Grote served notice that he is back in prewar form by winning the Texas Relays javelin toss on a heave close to 200 feet.

Dick Hutton and Al Thompson, both point scorers in the Big Six indoor 60-yard dash, will be entered in the open 100-yard sprint. This event has attracted the nation's top speed merchants, including Charlie Parker, Allen Lawlor and Perry Samuels of Texas, Bill Martenison of Baylor, Don Campbell of Colorado and Harry Guth of Missouri.

Ralph King, Bob Berkshire, Herb Gish and Norval Barker are down for duty in the 120-yard high hurdles. Leading contenders in this event are expected to be from the Missouri timber topping force of Bob Blakesley, Floyd Gaultney and Bob Chase. Harrison Dillard, Bald win-Wallace

Ringer Experts Must Enter Today

All those who want to enter the intramural horseshoe tournament which will begin next week are urged to submit their entries at Room 207, Coliseum, by 5:00 Friday, April 18.

When entries are completed a schedule will be worked out for pairing contestants. The tourney will be a single elimination affair, with games going to a 35-point limit. All contestants will arrange their own time of meeting with the results going into the intramural office where they will be compiled and posted.

hurdle ace, was entered but dropped out due to lack of conditioning time.

High jumper Monte Kinder and vaulter Don Cooper are two more Scarlet entries who have good chances to win. Cooper is the Big Six pole vault champion, while Kinder shared first place in the Texas Relays high jump at Austin two weeks ago.

With Piderit sidelined, the Nebraska hopes in weight events are negligible. Joe Pappas is entered in the discus, while Dean France of Lexington will join Grote in the javelin throw. Shot put standouts entered are Rollin Prather of Kansas State, Ed Quirk of Missouri, Dick Hoerner of Iowa U., and Fortune Gordien of Minnesota. Gordien is also considered a good bet to take the discus crown.

The Nebraska traveling squad: Norval Barker, hurdles; Bob Berkshire, hurdles; Al Brown, middle distances; Bill Conner, middle distances; Joe Clark, 440; Don Cooper, vault; Dean France, javelin; Bob Ginn, distances; Herb Gish, hurdles; Herb Grote, javelin; Dick Hutton, dashes; Monte Kinder, high jump; Ralph King, hurdles; Harold Kopf, middle distances; Jim Martin, middle distances; Harry Meginnis, broad jump; Joe Pappas, discus; Dick Powers, high jump; Don Rice, high jump; Harvey Stroud, dashes; Al Thompson, dashes; Don Vollertson, 440; John Burley, student manager.

Swim Club to Stage "Aquatic Calendar"

Seventy-five members of the women's swim club will participate in the spring swim show, "Aquatic Calendar," to be presented in the coliseum pool April 25 and 26 at 8 p. m.

Costumes, lighting effects and rhythmic swimming will be used to illustrate the months of the year. Also included on the program will be comic diving and fancy diving acts.

Tickets may be purchased for 40 cents from members of the club.

Scrimmage Action Billed On Saturday

More scrimmage, in double portions, will be dished up for the members of the Cornhusker football team Saturday afternoon as the gridgers wind up their fourth week of spring practice.

The entire spring squad, varsity and Nubbins players, has been grouped into four teams, with two lineups allotted to each team.

Heading the Crusaders team is line coach Tony Blazine. Backfield coach will direct the Renegades. Ray Prochaska will handle the McCoy's and frosh mentor Pop Klein will mastermind the Hatfield outfit.

Approximately 88 players are listed for duty during the Saturday scrimmage as the Husker coaching staff wishes to get another look at all hands in action under fire. The Renegades are to be pitted against the McCoy's, while the Crusaders and the Hatfields mix it up. First and second string players according to current ratings are listed on the Crusader and Renegade rosters.
