Ag College Will Honor Carl Gray

Ag college students and alumni who have attended the college thru Carl Raymond Gray scholarships are getting together at the Student Union, Thursday evening, May 1, to honor the man responsible for starting the scholarship plan.

Of the hundreds of students who have benefited from the scholarships awarded in the past 26 years, about 125 are expected to attend the meeting. The occasion for the meeting is an opportunity for the students to meet some of the Union Pacific officials and the presentation of a portrait of the late Carl Raymond Gray which will be hung at the college.

Both 4-H club members and Smith-Hughes students in high schools in counties through which the railroad runs are eligible for the scholarship. The scholarships were made possible by the Union Pacific railroad, through the efforts of Carl Gray, when he was president of the road.

L. I. Frisbie, state 4-H leader, recalled that the scholarships were an outgrowth of a visit of Mr. Gray to the college in 1920. The railroad president asked which might be done to boost the enrollment at the college. The scholarships were then set up for 4-H club members, and were awarded to outstanding 4-H boys and girls who stood high scholastically, and were leaders in 4-H activity. Later, in 1926, the scholarships were also made available to Smith-Hughes vocational agriculture students.

The success of the scholarships in Nebraska, prompted an extension of the program to other states served by the railroad.

G. E. Young To Address Convo Today Slides of Russ Life Scheduled

Mr. Gladwin E. Young, Field Representative, U. S. Department of Agriculture, representing the official of the Secretary of Agriculture on the Missouri Basin Inter-agency Committee, will be main speaker of the day, today, at 4 p. m., Parlors XYZ of the Student Union. Mr. Young, who has been with the U. S. Department of Agriculture since 1935, recently returned from a six-month leave of absence to go to Russia on the UNRRA mission to Byelorussia.

Mr. Young was graduated from Purdue university in 1923, and received his master's degree in agriculture and economics from Purdue in 1927. Mr. Young was a member of the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station Staff for 12 years.

The discussion today will be on the subject of "Farm Life in Byelorussia." Unrestricted pictures will be shown as slides by Mr. Young in a true peek behind the Russian "Iron Curtain." A discussion will be made on Russian farm production, the fine part played by Americans, American aid, and American implements of production.

Theatre Group Presents Last Of One Acts

The last Experimental Theater production of one-acts will be presented Thursday at 7:15 p. m. in the Studio Theater of the Temple.

"Before Breakfast," a Eugene O'Neill drama written in the form of a monologue, will be given by Mary O'Donnell who plays the part of Mrs. Rowland, a nagging wife who is a resident of lower east side New York.

A sophisticated comedy, "Farewell to Love," by Florence Ryonson and Colin Clements, has a cast of two. The roles are played by Lorma Bullock and Dale Wisser. The story deals with a married couple, an actor and actress, deeply in love but continually run thru the routine of bickering and fighting and then make up. Max Whittaker, experimental theater director, is directing both plays.

Block & Bridle Elects Officers

Richard Wahlstrom, ag junior, has been elected president of Block and Bridle, ag animal husbandry club. Wahlstrom, an animal husbandry major, was a member of the junior Livestock Judging team last year and was high man in the annual student judging contest held this spring.

Other officers elected were Robert Hamilton, secretary-treasurer; Dwight Baier, vice president, and John Branch, historian.

UN Will Establish Student Exchange Scholarships Negotiated With European Countries

A program of exchanging scholars with those in certain foreign countries this year will be established by the University this year, according to Dr. George W. Rosenlof, director of admissions.

Forum Votes On Policy Resolutions

Resolutions passed on American foreign policy at the Mid-America College congress the first part of this month at St. Joseph, Mo., will be considered at the YM-YW sponsored All-university forum tomorrow night at 7:30 in Union parlor B.

Nebraska delegates to the congress, Gladys Jackson and Mervyn Cadwallader, will present five sets of resolutions to the students for adoption, rejection or amendment. Motions for acceptance will give speakers opportunity to defend or attack proposed resolutions from the floor.

Examples. The four resolutions presented here represent a sample of the 28 which will appear on the ballot for student action:

"We recommend: prohibition of conscription and compulsory military training in all nations.

"... that any armed forces at the disposal of the United Nations be used only at the discretion of the World Court.

"... that the present U.N. evolve into an ultimate form of World Federal government.

"... that the foreign policy of the United States be at all times consistent with the basic principles of the Truman Doctrine until such time as the United Nations will be capable of supplanting independent action on the part of the various nations."

Sent to Capital. Results of the forum will be sent, with similar reports from 32 midwestern schools, to Washington, D. C., by the League of Women Voters for the use of their regular lobby there, and will be brought to the attention of U.N. delegates at Lake Success.

City Candidates To Talk Tonite At AVC Meet

Lincoln city council candidates Rees Wilkinson and Willard Townsend will address the joint meeting of the university and Lincoln chapters of the American Veterans Committee tonight at 7:15 in the Colonial Room of the Lincoln YMCA.

The meeting will be the second in the series of talks by Lincoln city council candidates. T. R. Pansing, another council candidate, spoke at the April 15 meeting of AVC.

Dr. Rosenlof stated that agreements between certain European nations and the university for five scholarships are now in the process of negotiation. They will provide full tuition, board and room, but will not include travel costs. They will be operated on a full reciprocal basis under which Nebraska will not provide scholarships to foreign universities unless similar provision is made for our scholars.

Negotiations. Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, England and Poland are included in the list of countries with which negotiations are now in progress. Inquiries have also been received from several other countries.

According to Dr. Rosenlof, the scholarships will be limited to five persons because of crowded conditions at the university. However, since enrollment may decline somewhat in later years, the number may be expanded.

"This is a fine opportunity for the University to make its contribution to better world understanding and help create international good will, which is so sorely needed in the world today," Rosenlof said.

Deadline Today In Poet Contest

The deadline for Ivy Day poet entries has been extended until 5:00 p. m. today and all entries must be submitted to the Daily Nebraskan office at that time.

Any undergraduate student is eligible to enter the contest which is sponsored each year by the Mortar Board society.

The poems must be original and relevant to Ivy Day proceedings and traditions. Three unsigned copies accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the author's name must be submitted with the poem.

Entries will be judged by members of the English department faculty and the winning poem will be read by the author during the presentation of the May Queen's court on Ivy Day, Saturday, May 3.
