

Personally Speaking

By Norm Leger

Before we start, we would like to address a couple of people personally: Don't complain if you are slighted in the write-ups this week. You were sent letters which, we believe, politely asked you to contact us. You have not shown the courtesy to do so, and consequently we do not have the information for a write-up of you. We do have the pictures.

Coed Counselors President.

It was on the trip to Minnesota last fall that we first met the comely coed whose picture follows. Little did we know then that this same girl was one of the biggest cogs among UN junior women. (We don't say "wheels"—that's for seniors, we're told.) The coed is Mary Dye, newly elected president of Coed Counselors.

Before spring elections, Mary had been elected to the position of YW secretary, but this post she had to give up after winning the A position in Counselors. (Old devil point system. . .) During the past year Mary served as district representative for the Y. A member of the debate squad for the past two years, she is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, Alpha Epsilon Rho, Pi Lambda Theta and Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Besides spending enough time over the books to make the honor roll for three years, Mary has also worked on stage crews for the University Theatre.

who have to limit their cokes-per-day because of the demands of activities is Harold Mozer, new president of Student Council, Secretary of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, Harold is a junior in the college of engineering. As an engineering student, he serves on the engineering executive and is sales manager for the Nebraska Blue Print. But the lure of other activities has drawn him elsewhere. In addition to serving as a committee member on the council during the past year, Harold is an active in Corn Cobs. In a talk with the new president we were glad to find out ('cause we might be a senior . . . someday . . .) that one of the bigger projects the council will undertake next fall is the further establishment of Senior week. Harold wants to see the matter placed before the faculty senate early in the year so that results may affect next year's seniors.

Other business calls for the usual elections of class presidents and new council members, Junior-Senior prom, and plans for next year's rallies and migration trip. A four-member council committee will be appointed in the near future to handle the pep sessions and the BIG trip to see one of the games at another school.

Style Review Shows Sports Campus Wear

More than 200 students from the university, Nebraska Wesleyan and Union college attended last week's Sportswear Review at Magee's, featuring clothing for all-campus wear, tennis, golf, swimming, boating and travel.

Fabrics based upon requisites of the sportsman made their debut at the style show. The light-weight, washable and color fast qualities of McGregors "Action under the Sun" sportswear for men were pointed out.

Chess

The University Chess Club will hold its regular meeting in Parlor C of the Student Union on Tuesday, April 29 at 7:00 p. m.
