

Tigers Slash Husker Diamond Squad 11-4

A big sixth inning brought the Missouri Tigers five runs, enough to blow up what had been a tight ball game, and the Bengals went on to trounce the Nebraska baseball team, 11 to 4, at the Husker diamond Tuesday afternoon to gain a clean sweep of the two-game series. Roger Englert was on the mound for the Tigers and limited the NU batsmen to seven hits, three of which came in the ninth inning.

Nebraska started in fine fashion, garnering a run in the opening inning when Bob Grogan singled, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a single to right field by cleanup hitter Bob Cerv.

Missouri came back with a run in the second when Jimmy Cox, third baseman, cleared the right field fence with a home run clout. The Tigers went ahead in the fourth inning with two more runs at the expense of Husker hurler Elroy Gloystein, the losing pitcher.

A single by right fielder Bob Spinks, a two-ply sock by center fielder Wilbur Volz and a long fly by Cox brought in the next two Tiger markers.

Gloystein Loses.

Gloystein, who was battered from the box for the second straight time, failed to weather the sixth frame when five hits brought in five more Tiger tallies. Angelo Ossino relieved him to retire the last batter and Wally Scheef took over in the seventh and lasted for the rest of the game.

Trailing by a sizable margin, the Scarlet team included a number of substitutions during the closing innings.

Nebraska's last burst, a three-run uprising in the final inning, was sparked by Wes Maser, who laced a single to center with two men on the base paths.

The defeat dropped the Huskers below the .500 mark for the first time this season, and sent the Tigers farther to the front in the Big Six baseball race. Box score:

Cornhuskers Fall In Monday Tilt

Lanky Stuart Finlayson kept Nebraska batters well in hand until the eighth inning Monday afternoon, and by that time it was too late for the Huskers to overcome Missouri's 5-0 lead so the Tigers took a 6-4 Big Six victory on the Scarlet diamond.

Late Surge.

In the eighth frame Coach Tony Sharpe's crew was able to push across two tallies, and then followed with two more in the ninth inning. The visiting Tigers added their final score in their half of the ninth inning.

Bob Grogan's ground single over second base in the eighth inning followed by a three base blow to right field by Hobe Hayes gave the NU nine its first markers. Second baseman Hays followed Grogan across the plate a moment later as he scored on an infield out.

A home run over the right center field fence by Catcher Bob Cerv highlighted the Huskers' ninth inning surge. Bill Denker lived on an error to set the stage for Cerv's fifth round-trip clout of the season. But the Scarlet players could go no farther for pinch hitter Harold Branson fanned and Grogan was out as the Tiger first baseman pulled a sensational stop on the shortstop's hard smash.

Wisconsin Out Of Saturday Cinder Battle

The triangular track meet involving Missouri, Wisconsin and Nebraska scheduled for Saturday at Memorial Stadium, has dwindled into a dual meet, with the announcement that the Badger cindermen will be unable to attend.

Coach Ed Weir received word early this week that the Wisconsin team would be unable to compete because of a shift in examinations at the Madison school. Exams as the new schedule is arranged, would be in session during the days the Wisconsin team would be traveling to Lincoln and back to Wisconsin.

With only Missouri and Nebraska in competition, the meet will furnish a comparison of strength which will aid in measuring the Huskers' chances to take over the Big Six outdoor track championship. Missouri captured the indoor crown at Kansas City last March.

Top Times

Times and marks turned in by the Bengals in winning a five-story meet at West Point, N. Y., last Saturday indicate that the Scarlet thinclads will have to be at their best. A mile feature is indicated, for Tiger Bob Bosworth turned in a 4:21.8 clocking on a muddy track to win the event against the best runners Columbia, Harvard, Dartmouth and Army could produce. Husker Bobby Ginn loped to an easy 4:36 triumph in the mile Saturday in the Colorado dual meet.

IM Track Meet To Open May 12

All teams planning to enter the intramural track meet to be held on May 12 and 13 are urged to start practice immediately if they have not already done so. The time for the meet has been set for 5:00 on both days, with three events scheduled for the first day.

The shot put, 440 yard relay and the sprint medley relay will go on the block the first day of competition with the pole vault, discus throw, 120 yard low hurdles, 880 yard relay, high jump and the
