Call For Delegates . . .

The Student Council has opened filings for students who are interested in the formation of a National Student Organization to attend the Constitutional Convention in Madison, Wisconsin in September. Unfortunately the great majority of students have no idea what the aims of such an organization would be and consequently have no interest in attending the convention.

Definite aims of the NSO as listed in the proposed constitution establish that it will be a non-political, non-partisan group, desirous of encouraging democratic student governments, free from unnecessary restraint, and promoting educational facilities and opportunities for all students in the world.

Delegates from Nebraska will participate in discussion, revision and adoption of the constitution which will make the National Student Organization an official body. Decisions of the conference will be reported to the Nebraska student body by the delegates for approval or rejection on this campus.

Nebraska is one of only 15 universities in the United States which has been invited to send delegates to an international conference of students in Denmark this summer and the Council is also opening filings for students who are interested in that meeting.

Both of these conferences should prove of vital importance to the university student body; the Wisconsin meeting because if the NSO becomes an active organization and its aims are adopted at that convention, changes and improvements which affect both students and faculty may be instituted on this campus; and the Denmark conference because of the opportunity of meeting with scholars from all parts of the world and of seeing Europe's problems first-hand.

Competent and interested delegates are needed for both meetings. They will not only have a great experience; but will perform a definite service to the university in representing it among the leading schools of the country and of the world.
