

It Says Here

BY TOTTIE FIDDOCK.

Exam week approaches, all of ye who have not studied . . . but social life and romance continues, and what would we do without courses in love and kisses?

A subtle Gamma Phi pledge is busy applying the tricks to Operation Two-Time . . . don't know how she manages it, but this little gal is going steady with a hometown Romeo and also with a certain Sigma Nu . . . neither boy has the vaguest notion that he is not the one-and-only . . . nice trick if you can work it.

Dick Kuhl, one of the neatest boys around, has found a fine substitute for a wastebasket . . . while on a picnic last week end Dick was looking for a place to put an olive seed and spied Marge Sturm on the other side of the picnic table reclining on a bench . . . "Open your mouth, Marge," he howled, and Marge, always willing to oblige, did so, and Dick tossed the seed in her direction . . . Marge, in shocked surprise, swallowed it . . . rumor has it that Mr. Kuhl will be awarded the sharpshooter's medal in the near future.

Been missing a fixture in the corn crib lately? We have the answer . . . Robert (the roue) Gillan has departed for the western area of the state to dig ditches on a highway construction job . . . the old place just isn't the same, but would be willing to bet that fellow road builders are finding the job quite lively.

A brother-sister duo made news last week end by accepting and giving pins . . . Pee Wee Novotay is sporting the pin of Dick Toren while brother and ivy planter Duke is the new pinmate of Johnnie Schloss.

Pinky Williams, Tay Lewis and an unidentified photographer found the attractions of the photography lab a lot more exciting than the Ivy Day ceremonies last Saturday afternoon . . . admittedly, it's a lot cooler in the dark, but there must have been a better selling point involved.

Some frustrated, un-pinned, un-engaged, unable to get a date and un-going steady male was heard to remark the other day that in order to get a date with Kay Blue, it's necessary to call six weeks in advance, file a list of credentials and a letter of intent. It must be worth it.
