

Cornhuskers In Light Workout

With their final Big Six game of the year drawing near, the Nebraska Cornhuskers Wednesday afternoon ran through a rehearsal of offensive formations followed by a quick dummy scrimmage under the watchful eye of Headcoach Bernie Masterson. Only casualty during the brief scrimmage was Halfback Kenny Fischer who suffered a possible fractured ankle and will be out of action for the Oklahoma game Saturday.

Spirit in the Husker camp seemed to be reaching a high ebb Wednesday as three full teams ran through their drills in anticipation of a tough game Saturday.

In the first unit Masterson had the same set of linemen that Tuesday's workout showed with Cochrane and Pesek at end, Wilkins and Lorenz at guards, Samuelson and Toogood at tackles, and Novak at center. In the backfield Dick Thomson ran with the

Miller's Gym Artists Show Bright Hopes

Coach Charlie Miller's University of Nebraska gymnastic team is receiving strenuous workouts in the coliseum gym in preparation for the rugged season ahead. Nine meets have already been scheduled.

"I feel we are farther ahead in conditioning than we were last year at this time and our prospects and meets are brighter this year." This statement by Coach Miller expresses the confidence he shows in his men although he will make no predictions as to the outcome of any meets.

The team is built around returning lettermen Phil Sprague, Leo Geier, Clarence Lefler, Gene Sundeen, and Ken Harding. Other returning squad men are Bill Rankin, Mel James, Charles Purdy, Wilson Lockett and Lloyd Garner. Among new men out this year, Jim Johnson is showing the greatest progress, with Norman Anderson pushing him for a place on the team. Freshmen Al Dunavn and Eddie Craren are showing great prospect for the future.

Intra-Squad Meets

Two or three intra-squad meets will be held before the opening meet to determine team standing. Coach Miller is planning to use a ten man traveling squad.

Miller said that satisfactory progress has been made on all events but the flying rings and tumbling. Lack of facilities have slowed progress on the rings while lack of material and insufficient workouts on the mat have hindered the tumbling event.

The assistance of Coach Jake Geier has greatly contributed to the present condition of the team.

Injuries Costly

Injuries have added to the team woes with the loss of Mel James, out of action as the result of badly torn muscles in his right leg. At present James can only walk on crutches and there is a possibility that he will be out of action for the rest of the season. Phil Sprague was limited to light workouts for two weeks with an injured elbow.

The schedule as announced thus far is: Jan. 10, Illinois at Champaign; Feb. 7, Illinois at Lincoln; Feb. 14, Minnesota at Minneapolis; Feb. 21, Colorado State College and Minnesota at Lincoln; March 5, Colorado at Boulder; March 6, All College Championships meet at Boulder; Championships at Chicago; March 20, The Invitational National Collegiate Championships at Chicago.

Jacupke Returns

Gerald Jacupke was in suit Wednesday night and participated in the workout while still favoring a twisted knee. His availability for Saturday is still doubtful and he will see limited action if any.

Nebraska will be up against the tops in every department Saturday when the Sooners take the field. In the punting department, Darrell Royal, brilliant Sooner kicking star has a 40.5 punt average to his credit, beating Nebraska's Pesek by 4 of a yard. Royal's spot kicking played a major role in the defeat of the Missouri Tigers last week at Columbia. Oklahoma also had to its credit one of the better defensive lines of the Big Six led by Jim Tryee. Tryee who has played a tremendous game of end for Coach Bud Wilkinson all season. Anchoring the Sooner line is big John Rapitch who last year was a unanimous selection for the pivot position on the all Big Six team.

The Sooners will be fresh from Missouri victory while the Huskers are still smarting from close loss to a tough Kansas outfit. Nebraska will have to reach that high peak that almost meant a victory over the Jayhawks Saturday for the Oklahomans have it in all departments and they certainly will be out to fire all guns—come this Saturday.
