classes this semester, Maria is not registered as a student. She sits in on many classes and listens to the lectures. "I take my notes in Greek and translate them after I get home, she explained, I cannot write fast enough in the English language yet."

A new language, however, is nothing new to Maria, who speaks five—Greek, Bulgarian, French, German, and English. She laughingly admits that often she gets here German words mixed with the English words.

She enjoys "Y" and other campus meetings because most of the speakers talk slow enough for her to understand them. Ordinary conversation is difficult for her to grasp.

Asked what she thought of Nebraska, Maria was quick to respond that, in the first place she was surprised. "On the boat they said that this part of America was still wild and that there were Indians here, but it is not like that at all, and I like it very much."

Every year the Home Economics Club sponsors a foreign student through their Foreign Fellowship Fund. Money is raised for this fund at their annual Silver Tea. Due to the higher tuition and living costs, the university Student Foundation is co-operating with the club this year to provide a large scholarship. Miss Constanides is the fifth student to study here under their auspices.

Straight Stuff

BY CHUCK HEMMINGSEN.

Three weeks late—Dave Miller and Joyce Steele call it a week. Parlay Charlay goes into bankruptcy and final retirement. State Police suspect unprecedented gambling fix.

Oh, Snookie.

We wonder when Cy Markeson and Bobbie Busch will give each other top rating. It looks like steady time when a gal starts calling a guy Snookie.

Who Was High?

Towne Clubbers spirited dates to their "Haunted House" party this week-end. Freddie Lorenz stole the show with his singing. Two stray N-men even drifted in to hear those high ones.

If John Ayres hopes to compete with convertibles he'll have to beat that "12:15 Indigestion Club" to the Theta House after lunch.

Biggest party of the week-end was the birthday party given by two campus wheels for themselves. Al Lawson gave the snappies present in the large array of gifts.

Wahlstrom Announces Block and Bridle Plans

There will be no further meetings of Block and Bridle, national Animal Husbandry club, until the Dec. 9 initiation meeting. Rick Wahlstrom, president of the group, made the announcement.

Committees are now working on the details of the initiation ceremony, and on the supper which will follow the proceedings. Berl Damkroger and Bob Schick head the committee which is planning the annual supper.

great warmth for Helen "Haircut" Prince. Helen, however, wasn't giving Chick Story any cold time at the "Hills" Saturday night; and, said Fiji has a date with Jackie Wightman to the Military Ball.

The wires are hot. Jo De Lamatre and Ken Kalley have secret means of communication between the Alpha Xi house and Ken's room. Wonder if Ken can tune in on cat sessions over there. Be worth a few chucks.

Student Directory Sales.

There will be an important meeting of the Student Directory Sales Committee this evening at 8 p.m., in the Student Foundation office. If it is impossible to attend, please call Gene Mitchell, 2-7875.
