

Uni Singers Caroling Successful

One way, at least, to describe the effectiveness of Sunday's concert of Christmas carols by the University Singers would be to say that the program would make an ideal, best-seller record album for music-store counters all over the country! Composed, with a few exceptions, of unfamiliar selections telling the Christmas story or expressing the spirit of the season, the entire program was one of spontaneity and freshness.

Performed twice for audiences that elbowed in to a crowded Union Ballroom, the selections ranged from a 16th century Palestrina number to contemporary Elinor Remick Warren's gentle "Christmas Candle," sung by the women's section under David Foltz' direction. A neatness of phrasing and attack was notable in the sections other three numbers.

But it was the work of the combined choir under Arthur Westbrook that was particularly satisfying whether it was the spirited "Gloria in Excelsis" by Bach or the lullaby-like Haytian carol "Jesu Thou Dear Babe Divine," made especially enchanting by Roy Emory Johnson's soft high tenor solo.

The outstanding group of the program were the four numbers sung by the men's section which contrasted a pianissimo rendition of the traditional "Lo, How a Rose e'er Blooming" with the full-voiced chorale "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light." The simulation by the piano of bells added particular interest to the Slovakian "Carol of the Sheep Bells."

A special feature of the concert was Robert Stepp's ingenious transcription for brass ensemble of Corelli's "Christmas Concerto" originally written for string orchestra. Bonnie Compton was at the organ and Dorothy Taylor at the piano.

AWS BOARD

Because of the Union Christmas party, Dec. 16 will be a 10:30 night for all freshmen girls. Friday night, Dec. 12, is a 1 a. m. night. Saturday night, Dec. 13, is a 12:30 p. m. night.

Block & Bridle To Initiate 34

Formal rites of initiation will be administered tonight to 34 pledges of Block and Bridle, national animal husbandry club, according to Rick Wahlstrom, local president.

Pledges have been distinctive on campus the past week by virtue of the purple and blue sheep tags, which serve as badges for their status. They are asked to report at the horse barn at five p. m., dressed as stable hands. Each pledge must bring a large, sweet onion and a bag of rough cut chewing tobacco, announces Phil Skinner, initiation chairman.

After the ceremony, actives will treat the new initiates to a rough style buffet supper in the judging pavilion of the Animal Husbandry building.
