

UP, IN AND TWO POINTS—Nebraska's towering center replacement, Bus Whitehead, leaps into the air to hike the Husker tally with a tip-in shot. Up with the sophomore pivot man is Anton Lawry, second line forward. Watching as the Nebraskans control the play are Ken McRohden (37) Charles Girardi (35). Sprawled on the floor is Bill Carleton (40). Action occurred late in the second half of Tuesday night's Husker-South Dakota game. Nebraska won handily by a 65-38 count.

Patterson Drills NU Mat Squad; Prospects Dull

Although the first intercollegiate wrestling match isn't until next month, the Husker mat squad, under the tutoring of Coach Pat Patterson, has been hard at work trying to round into shape. Patterson, who is beginning his first year as head wrestling coach at Nebraska, is at present quite pessimistic. The Huskers are weak in the 128, 136, 145, 155 and 175 pound classes. Also the fact that few replacements are on hand to bolster the squad troubles Patterson.

Copples Return

One bright spot will be the return during the second semester of Newt and Ed Copple. They will strengthen considerably the 145 and 155 pound classes.

A bright prospect was picked up from the intramural tourney. He is Jerry Calhoun, 165 pound champion. Tom Novak I. M heavyweight boxing champ, has reported to Patterson who summed up Novak's possibilities with the remark "he is inexperienced but there's a lot of man there."

shooting Wehde twins in the lineup, the Cyclones present one of the soundest quintets in the conference. Iowa State won its second start of the season, defeating Morningside college, 69-50.

Interfraternity Keglers Roll Playoff Matches

Eight interfraternity bowling teams swung into action in the final playoffs Wednesday evening instead of the scheduled six. In League II final standings, three teams ended deadlocked.

FEM FUN

Basketball practices will be Jan. 5 thru 9 and 12 thru 16. Lists of the players of each team and choice of one day each week to practice must be turned in at the W.A.A. office by Friday, December 19, at 5:00 p.m.

N team with less than two scheduled basketball practices may participate in the coming tournament.

Alpha Xi Delta defeated Residence Hall 31 to 19 in the semi-final Basketball Tournament. The team work displayed by the Alpha Xi's was backed up by Marian Stapleton, whose persistent spiking kept the Residence Hall on the defensive throughout the entire game. Alpha Xi Delta will play Alpha Omicron Phi in the finals Thursday at 5:00. Who will win this game is anyone's guess as both teams are very evenly matched and out to win.

Delta Upsilon, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon rolled off the tie at the Lincoln alleys Wednesday night. The two low scoring teams automatically were dropped from the playoffs.

Betas Knocked Out

After leading league I all the way, Beta Theta Pi was knocked out of the playoffs by Zeta Beta Tau Tuesday evening. Beta Sigma Psi and Phi Delta Theta were the playoff representatives from League I.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon gained first place in League II and they teamed with the winners of the tie round in the final playoffs.

Delta Sigma Pi, League III, posted the best score for scheduled play with a 17-1 record. They were handy winners over second place Delta Tau Delta.

Awarding of Jack Best points will follow the Group I point system.

The individual bowling tourney will get underway Thursday evening at 7 p.m., at the Lincoln alleys. The high score bowler will receive a trophy while medals will go to second and third place winners.

Nebraska Faces Tigers In Big Six Tourney Tilt

By FRITZ SIMPSON
Daily Nebraskan Sports Writer

The University of Nebraska basketball squad, with three games under its belt, will swing into action against loop competition this week at Kansas City. The Huskers will go against Missouri University Thursday afternoon on the first day of the annual Big Six tournament.

Coach Harry Good named a 14-man squad which left for the tourney site Wednesday afternoon. Rod Cox, Joe Brown, Henry Cech, Bob Cerv, Bill Denker, Anton Lawry, Neal Mosser, Claude Retherford, Dick Schleiger, Paul Shields, Dick Srb, Bus Whitehead, Thurman Wright, and Bob Allen will carry the Husker colors into the tournament.

Missouri's Tigers, Nebraska's first round foe, go into the fray with a season's record of three victories and one defeat. The Tigers had a tough contest Saturday night before downing Drake university, 43-38. Monday night, Eddie Hickey's St. Louis university Billikens handed the Tigers a 54-34 drubbing, on the latter's court. The Missourians showed erratic playing against the Billikens, and in the first half failed to score for a period of 9½ minutes.

K-State Threatens.

Kansas State has established itself as a definite threat by virtue of two decisive victories against intersectional foes. The Wildcats completely romped over Texas Christian, 75-17, and they scored an upset decision over Indiana university Monday night, 61-53.

One of the surprises of the early season games was the Emporia, Kas., victory over Coach

Phog Allen's Kansas university Jayhawks. Emporia walloped the Lawrence boys, 67-44. The Jayhawks were playing without the services of Otto Schnellbacher, only returning regular from last season's team. Schnellbacher is a member of the Kansas Orange Bowl football team.

The University of Oklahoma will send another fine team into this year's tournament. Coach Bruce Drake has found a capable replacement for All-American Gerald Tucker. Bill Waters, 6'5" giant has taken over the center position and has pushed home 48 points in the first three games this season. The Sooners dropped a 71-61 battle to De Paul Saturday night.

Iowa State, with an all-veteran team, is also expected to give the other tournament teams a rough time. Big Don Paulsen, sophomore center, will bear watching. And with the sharp-
