

What Good Education?

Have you ever stopped in the course of a college day to ask yourself, "What am I doing here?" This is a question which demands an answer of every student. It involves the answering of two further questions. What is an education? What do I want in a college education? The first is a matter of definition, the second a question of values.

Indeed many of us in college are guilty of the error committed by the man who gets on a train without knowing where he wants to go or whether the train will get him there. One might even say that many of us board the train without any definite idea as to what a train really is.

Let us suppose that these assumptions are valid; that we know the kind of success for which we ought to aspire and that a college education will help us get it.

Some of us seek success in banking and some in politics. The banker besides having a knowledge of finance and economics is also a judge of men. When the banker is asked for a loan, on what basis is it denied or granted? He will inquire into the applicants financial status and possibly ask a mutual friend for an opinion on his personal character, but in the final analysis the banker must make his own judgment of the person. All business is conducted this way. The successful politician is not only a judge of men but of ideas as well. But on what basis do we judge a man or an idea? What is a good man or a good idea? This is a judgment of values.

If success is, in part at least, a matter of value judgments, and success can be achieved through education, then proper value judgments must be a part of education. But can judgments of this type be taught? Are they a matter of science? When you ask for advice and it is granted, it remains a matter of your own judgment as to whether or not the advice is put into action. In the final analysis, then, matters of value judgment are individual. They cannot be taught.

Obviously, then, we cannot look for success in a college degree. Success in college need not mean success out of college. On the other hand is a college successful if it fails to produce successful men? Or is education something more than university study?

EDITOR:

In the January 6 Daily Nebraskan the University of Nebraska Veterans Organization's report on the activity of the National Conference of Veteran Trainees meeting in Washington was published with the final and most important paragraph deleted. This was no doubt due to the lack of space, but it destroyed the full import of the article. Therefore, I wish to take this means of informing the veterans on this campus of the full decision of the conference.

The delegation unanimously decided to support an amended version of the Meade Bill (HR 4212) calling for $100 for single students, $125 for married students, plus $10 for each additional dependent. It further instructed each delegate to request the veteran students of his state to contact their representatives personally by letter, demanding immediate passage of this bill.

Because of our interest in and familiarity with this proposal, this organization urges all veterans to make this contact!

Straight Stuff

By Susie Reed and Hac Lilly

The Pi Phi really had a jolt over vacation. President Sherry Leeka arrived back in Lincoln as Mrs. Bill Wiese. An other Pi Phi taking a drastic step of another nature is Jody Wolcott. Her clue of the week is a New Year Resolution . . . no dating until after finals. Anybody want to place a bet?

What's the big secret that Jim Spencer, Sig Ep, tries to hold out. It wouldn't be a certain chick from out of state that has kept Jim tied up over the holidays?

Jack Russell, Sig Ep, has been very active over holidays. In fact Jack got rid of his pin. The lucky gal was Dorothy Davis, Kappa Delta.

(Calling all females).

Be on the lookout for date-breakers Stan Johnson and Kenny Plith. Kenneth put in his bid early last fall for a date with Jane Hale, Alpha Phi pledge, to the DU "orchard" party, and the other night he called to uninvite her. Explanation—he'd arranged a steady hook-up with another gal in the meantime. A few days later Stan dialed Jane. He'd heard that Jane was pinned and had made another date. That is all.

In the spotlight again is "Big Al" Lawson. How is the lighting in the Kappa driveway, lover?

Tell us if were wrong, but isn't Alpha Chi pledge Dee Bahensky wearing somebody's class ring? Home tome flame, maybe? Lets look into this, Alpha Chis!

Little Match

AOPi Marilyn Miller and ATO Bob Richards . . . little match that grew into a big flame. Quite a few things have happened since you two broke dates last fall to go steady for an evening, haven't they?

Why don't the Phi Deltis check up and see who the blonde bomber is that Joe Williams takes off to see in Kansas City these weekends???

New diamonds at the Tri Delt house belong to Jan Wilson and Kay Darlington. It seems the better halves are Paul Burden and Leroy Stoes.

The Sig Alphas certainly went out for pinnings in a big way during vacation. Additions to the already long list include Don McArthur who pinned a Kappa from Illinois, Joe Sanchez who claims AOPi pledge Marilyn Nelson, and Ben Creed who got himself hooked up with a home town gal. "June" Mehrhoff also managed to pin Pi Phi pledge Fran Copsey before vacation was officially over.

Unfortunate

The Sig Chis didn't fare so well over the holidays however. John Anderson has his pin back from Virginia Seacrest for the second time this year, and Kappa Barb Zemer sent Arlie Battson's pin back to him. Both Vaydn Anderson and Dale Bloss brought steady deals to an end too.

Plans are in the making for the Tau formal this weekend. Tom Noble is having Grace Smith shipped out from Omaha for the big event. Of course, Bill Denker will be escorting beauty queen candidate Kay Menke, and Bobby Hunt will be there with Arlene Peterson. Chick Story will be seen with the one and only Susan Lancaster. We understand that Don Berquist will have a date too. Jack Pesek is still looking!

Louise Komisor surprised the gals at the Sigma Delta Tau house when she walked in wearing Larry Goldblatt's pin. A half hour

Rev. Nutt Says 'Pleased' With New Pastorate

Rev. Richard W. Nutt, new director of the Wesley Foundation at Nebraska, was "still in the process of getting settled" yesterday. Interviewed at the Methodist Student House, the young director remarked, "I am very pleased with my welcome and the gracious hospitality shown to me here."

"I believe I will have over two hundred Methodist students with whom to work at Nebraska," observed Nutt. "I have not yet had a chance to meet many of them due to the holidays and final exams," he commented.

Rev. Mr. Nutt plans to put a total program in action next semester. "We will probably have Holy Week and Lenten programs," he stated, "and I hope to establish a University of Life discussion program at St. Paul church for students. There is a fine opportunity for significant work here, and I am anxious to get under way," he added.

Rev. Mr. Nutt is living at the Methodist Student House, 1417 R St., with his wife and two children.

Award Ferguson Elks' Scholarship

Gerald Ferguson, former Scottsbluff high school star athlete, has been awarded the $150 Lincoln Elks Lodge physical education scholarship.

Ferguson, now a freshman at the University of Nebraska, held down a first team halfback post on Coach L. F. "Pop" Klein's freshman football team.

The scholarship is awarded annually to an outstanding freshman who is majoring in physical education, who shows promise of future success and who is in need of financial assistance.

Ferguson was a three-sport letterman at Scottsbluff and was an all-state griddier in 1946.

later Bernice Paperny "waltzed" in from New York wearing a diamond she received from Allen Wilson. And the big shock of all came when prexy Jackie Gordon "fox trotted" in sporting Buddy Polsky's ZBT pin! Next in line to pass the candy is Myrna Samuelson.
