

IM Schedule Offers Five New Events

With the second semester under way, Nebraska university intramural teams will begin competition in five new events. Water polo, squash, volley ball, badminton, and boxing are on the coming schedule.

Water polo will start Monday, March 8, with most matches scheduled for 5:00 p. m. daily. Entries are due not later than Tuesday, March 2. The squash team tournament will start Feb. 11, with entries due not later than Monday, Feb. 9 at 5:00 p. m. Any group may enter competition and the best individual records made in team play will determine the All-University Championship in squash.

Volley Ball, Badminton to Start.
Volley ball league play will begin Monday, March 22. Entries for all teams are due Wednesday, March 17. Badminton play starts Monday, March 22. The best individual records in team play will be maintained to determine the All-University Individual Championship.

All men planning to participate in the All-University Boxing Championships should start practice at once. Men may register for boxing class instruction, which will be held on Tuesday and Thursday during the second semester. The boxing tournament is scheduled for March 16, 17 and 19. The matches will be public.

Huskers . . .

Nebraska margin to 58-53 as the big coliseum clock showed three minutes of playing time left.

Guard Joe Brown netted three points and Retherford added a lay up shot in a matter of 20 seconds time to dampen all Jack-rabbit hopes for a win.

Whitehead's strong under-the-basket play showed up as one bright spot for the Huskers, who generally were sluggish on the floor. Mosser scored 11 points for second high Husker scoring honors followed closely by Retherford, who netted five fielders for ten tallies.

Cops High Honors.
High individual scoring laurels went to South Dakota's James Schmidt, who whipped 18 points through the nets. The shifty Jack-rabbit forward kept the visitors in the running with his dangerous under basket playing, but was handicapped after being charged with four personal fouls after 11 minutes of the first half. Don Mohlenhoff, Schmidt's running mate, helped the losers' cause with 11 counters.

Nebraska returns to conference action Saturday night by traveling to Lawrence for a clash with Coach Phog Allen's high-flying Jayhawks.

Kansas Teams Lead Circuit In Cage Race

Big Seven basketball is pretty much of a Kansas affair, as Kansas university and Kansas State continue to lead the pack. The Jayhawks hold a 3-0 mark, while Wildcats have won four and lost none. However, only Colorado has been definitely counted out of the running.

Iowa State, with a 3-2 record, and Oklahoma, 2-2, remain in the championship running along with the Cornhuskers, who hold one victory against two defeats.

Missouri hit its top form Saturday when the Tigers stopped favored Oklahoma, 49-43, at Columbia. Iowa State squeezed past Colorado 39-38 on the Boulder court. The Cyclones had to produce nine points in the last two minutes to earn the decision. The Buffs will attempt to even the score when they travel to Ames Saturday.

Bufs Scare Wildcats.
Kansas State had to turn on all their power Monday night to down Colorado at Boulder. With ten minutes of play remaining, the Buffs pulled to within two points of the Wildcats. But the Manhattan boys cut the rally short and won, 50-44. Clarence Brannum and Harold Howey led the Wildcats to their fourth straight circuit win. Brannum took scoring honors with 14 points.

George Sauer Leaves Kansas To Boss Navy

George Sauer, former University of Nebraska All-American fullback, has accepted the position of head football coach at the United States Naval Academy.

Sauer resigned as head coach at the University of Kansas to accept a four-year contract as the Middle coach.

Bud Wilkenson, present University of Oklahoma football coach, was considered for the post but took himself out of the picture early last week.

Sauer's resignation came as a tremendous blow to the Kansas coaching staff, for while losing one of the finest young coaches in the country, they also stand to lose the services of Backfield Coach Vic Bradshaw and Line Coach Robert Ingalls. These two may assist Sauer at his new post.

Athletic Director E. C. Quigley of Kansas stated that it was not a question of salary that caused the change, but rather a better chance for advancement.

Sauer will have considerable freedom in his new job as far as the selection of his principal assistants.

While serving as the Jayhawk coach, the former Husker star led his teams to two consecutive Big Six co-championships.
