

NU Grapplers Drop Match To Spartans

Michigan State's wrestling team finished their first undefeated full wrestling season Saturday night when the Spartans defeated Nebraska's grapplers, 17-8.

Gale Mikles, defending NCAA 155-pound champion, took his first 175-pound class match by decisioning Nebraska's Andy Marinkovich, 8-0. It was Mikles' last appearance at home for the East Lansing matmen. He has lost only one bout in four years of college dual competition.

Two Husker Decisions

Two Husker wrestlers earned decisions and another fought to a draw. Bob Yambor, Nebraska's leading point-maker, in the 121-pound class, decisioned Jack Dreiner, 8-2, and Ed Copple, Husker 155-pounder, outpointed Pat Sullivan, 4-2.

121-pound: Robert Yambor (NU) decisioned Jack Kreiner (MSC), 8-2.
128-pound: Gene MacDonald (MSC) decisioned Mickey Sparano (NU), 12-4.
136-pound: Richard Dickenson (MSC) decisioned Jack Barrett (NU), 6-0.
145-pound: Newton Copple (NU) drew with Don Anderson (MSC), 4-4.
155-pound: Edward Copple (NU) decisioned Pat Sullivan (MSC), 4-2.
165-pound: John Dowell (MSC) decisioned Jack Tama (NU), 12-5.
175-pound: Gale Mikles (MSC) decisioned Andrew Marinkovich (NU), 8-0.
Heavyweight: Bob Maldegen (MSC) decisioned Mike DiBisce (NU), 3-2.

Tank Record Revisions Seen In Loop Meet

A thorough revision of the records is anticipated when Big Seven conference swimmers come to Lincoln Friday and Saturday for the annual championships.

No conference meet has been held in the Nebraska pool since 1941.

Nebraska Coach Hollie Lepley points out that the present medley mark has been bettered by three teams, Iowa State, Oklahoma and Nebraska. Iowa State has the best mark with 3:08 which is .09.9 seconds better than the present mark.

Iowa State's Cyclones will assume the favorite role in this year's championships. A battle for second place should develop between Oklahoma and the Huskers. Oklahoma defeated the Cornhuskers earlier in the season. However, Nebraska was not at full strength for the meet. Three men were out because of illness. These men will be back to put the Nebraskans at full strength for the conference test.

Iowa State and Nebraska have been the only teams to win circuit tank championships. Nebraska has copped the honor five times, and the Cyclones have won 12.

Kansas State has taken three second places. The Wildcats finished third last year, and Oklahoma finished fourth.

The preliminaries will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. and the finals will be held Saturday at 2 p. m.

Sooner Ace Tops Circuit Scoring

Paul Courty, Oklahoma's southpaw forward, is currently pacing the Big Seven scoring race, statistics revealed today.

The Sooner ace, with 117 points in nine conference tilts, holds a one-point margin over Thornton Jenkins of Missouri. Claude Retherford, Nebraska's leading point-maker is eighth with 85 points gathered in ten games.

Cage Playoffs

Playoffs will begin tonight in the A team basketball tournament in the Coliseum. Sigma Alpha Epsilon meets Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Gamma Delta takes on Phi Delta Theta. Both games are scheduled for 8:40 p. m.

Nubbins Five Downs York B For Fifth Win

Nebraska University's Nubbins basketball team had to come from behind in the last half to defeat a hard-fighting York B club Monday night, 51-39.

York's cagers took the lead early in the game, and Nebraska's reserves were unable to catch them until late in the contest. Forward Nordlund led the York attack and was the games high scorer with 16 points. Schneider, York's other starting forward, hit 14.

Bob Allen, Nubbins' center was high scorer for the Nebraskans with 14 points. Bill Miller took runner-up honors for the B-men with 10.

The victory was number five for Coach John Thompson's crew. The Nubbins end their season Saturday night against Western Union College of LeMars, Iowa in the Coliseum.

FEM FUN

Senior members of the WAA council, Cleo Austin, Ruth Bennett, Marion Falloon, Mims Weeth, and Dort Meshier make up the nominating for selecting the slate for the 1948-49 officers. WAA elections will be the last of March.

Alpha Phi defeated Kernels in the semi-finals of the Girls Basketball Tournament. The final score was 17-21. The Alpha Phi team led 9-6 at the half. However the Kernels held them scoreless during the next quarter tying the game 9-0 at the end of the third period. Letha Brunkow of the Kernels was high point with 14 points to her credit. The Alpha Phi team will meet the Veter-anns Wednesday at 5:00 in the deciding game of the tournament.
