

Patter by Pat

There have been so many outstanding achievements this week that this column will be devoted to giving credit where it is due.

Centered first in athletics, hats off of the week goes to Joyce Steele for breaking one hundred in her duck pins class Monday. Miss Steele has acquired such good form in bowling that she is thinking of changing her major to that subject.

Most unique of the week was the romance of the Wentz brothers, Larry and Stan, who started going steady with the Garnich sisters, Barb and Judy, on the same day. An inseparable arrangement.

As for musical achievement, three little ladies from our own UN have divulged their hidden talent. They are Jo Jen Loder, Ginger Mehan, and Carolyn Roberts. The girls charmed Corn Crib patrons with their artistic rendition of Fiji Honeymoon played on combs.

Happy Maneuvering

Maneuver of the week! Jerry Johnston, junior, has succeeded in acquiring three dates with the "Ice Box Queen of '48" better known as Jo Fankhauser.

Personality of the week is "hello girl," Ann Figge. Her telephone charm caused Jim Nash to desire an interview in person and party plans began at once.

Candy passing of the week! Kappa Delt bus boys passed the candy en masse—a gum drop to each and every girl. Pin-mate—Mrs. Staley, the cook.

Latest in Literature! The campus is eagerly awaiting the release of the autobiography "The Lives and Loves of Jo Litz." The eleventh chapter is now being written and will be entitled "Barefoot—to the Chin."

Follies Finals.

For perfecting the best plot of the week we hail John Carson. Determined to crash Coed Follies at all costs, John offered his services as M. C.—and did a fine job.

Prediction of the week! 'Moke Joe will find a Phi Psi pin in the Alpha Phi garbage can. And fourteen percent of all predictions are 100 percent correct.

Good deed of the week! Remember, it's your Red Cross. Keep it going. Give generously.

Pinings

Gordon Biles-Louise Rockwell.

Engaged

Sue Burgess-Howie Easer.

Steadies.

Bill Denker-Kay Menke.

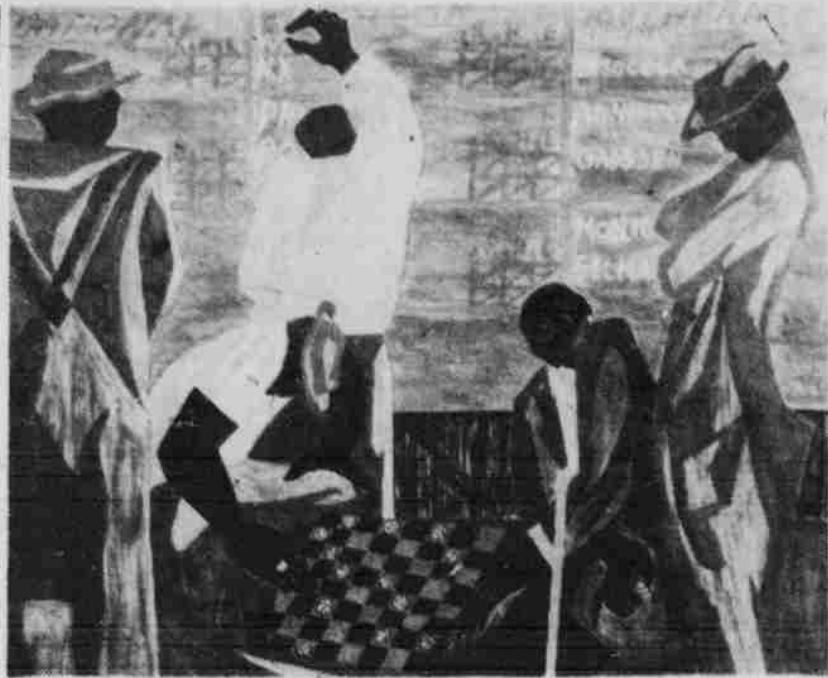

Freshies.

Ann Fiddock-Don Franklin.

Harold Peterson-Margaret Chamberlain.

Bobbie Bush-Sl Markeson.

That's that, Pat

DONE IN tempera colors of brilliant blues and reds, "The Checker Players", by Jacob Lawrence, is one of the many art pieces shown at the Nebraska Art Association exhibit, open now at the Morrill Hall Galleries. The show, which runs for three more weeks, is free to university students.

Coed Follies . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

suited Lois Thorfinnson and Mary Lou Graham.

Into a "beautiful dreamer" with the chorus paying tribute by singing the song.

Before the show started several suspicious looking females were hustled from the theater. Whether or not this diversion was planned is still in doubt. At any rate variety, humor and talent abounded in the follies, showing that the University has something to be proud of in their "typical Nebraska coeds."

The skits and curtain acts were judged according to originality and ingenuity, finish of performance, appropriateness of humor, scenery, costuming and timing.

U of N Radiolog

UN RADIOLOG.

Ag Report KOLN Wed. 2:30 p.m.
Mid-Country KOLN Thurs. 2:30 p.m.
Authors of the Ages KFOR Thurs. 9:30 p.m.
Husker Highlights KOLN Fri. 2:30 p.m.
Better Bus. Bureau KFOR Sat. 2:30 p.m.
Farm Facts & Fun KFAB Sat. 1:00 p.m.

On top of the university radio calendar for tomorrow are "Mid-Country" and "Authors of the Ages."

"Authors of the Ages," on the air at 9:30 p. m. will dramatize the famous Robert Louis Stevenson short story, "The Bottle Imp." Prepared for radio listening by Dorothy Ogden, the story tells of an Aladdin-like bottle that gives any wish except long life.

The cast includes Beverly Spangler, Fob Jones, Van Westover, Harold Abramson and Paul Schuppach. This week's assistant student director is Jim Johnston.

"Mid-Country," at 2:30 p. m., the program that dramatizes stories from Prairie Schooner magazine, will present the story "Prelude to a Past." Dramatized by Gaylord Marr, the story is a whimsical presentation with an O'Henry touch.

The ancient Welsh sport of purring is one to avoid. Two men, ordinarily dressed wearing heavy boots, stand face-to-face with their hands on each other's shoulders and begin kicking each other on the shins. The man who gives ground first is the loser.

Dairy Industry To Hold Meeting At Ag March 3-5

The Nebraska Dairy Industry associations will hold its annual dairy industry conference in the Dairy Industry building on the Ag campus March 3-5. All meetings are open to students, according to Prof. H. P. Davis, chairman of the dairy department.

Organizations participating in the conference are American Dairy Association of Nebraska, Nebraska Ice Cream Manufacturing association; Nebraska Milk Dealers association, Lincoln City Health department, State Department of Agriculture, State Department of Health, Nebraska Butter Institute and dairy industry men in general.

Students attending Wednesday's conference will have an opportunity to hear Dr. G. M. Trout, dairy department, Michigan State college, discuss "Ice Cream Samples" and "Milk Homogenization Problems." Sanitation in the Dairy Plant will be the keynote of Thursday's meetings.

At 9:30 Friday morning the colored movie "No Hand Stripping" will be shown. L. I. Frisbie, State 4-H Club leader, will report on "4-H Dairy Calf Project."

Delta Tau Delta fraternity officers for the year are: Charles Tremain, president; William Cartwell, vice president; Donald Peferman, recording secretary; Donald Lentz, treasurer; Fred Ballentine, sergeant-at-arms.

Play of Pastels

Refreshing accessory colors to draw Spring Compliments.

Fashion's a fickle lass . . . first she likes dramatic darks in hosiery and accessories NOW it's PASTELS from head to toe . . . plotting lights against darks, pastel against pastel. See it in Miller's Easter bonnet brimming with flowers, in the gloves on her hands, in jewelry around her feminine neck. . . in the color of her lips, and the sheer nylon beauties encasing her legs.

See the "spring play of pastels" in Miller's beautiful new MUNSINGWEAR Seam-free NYLONS, capturing a whole rainbow of colors. 1.65 pair.

Hosiery—First Floor

MILLER & PAINE

Classified

FOR SALE—1940 two-door Pontiac. Excellent condition! Call Bob Baker, 2-7831.

LOST—Black rimmed glasses in brown zipper case. Reward! Call Anne Belows, 2-7371.

WITNESS NEEDED. Anyone seeing traffic accident at 9:45 Monday morning in front of Teachers College involving 1941 Plymouth with 12 county license and another vehicle, contact Edwin Juracek, veteran student at 2-7631. Extension 3263 before 5 p. m. or at 5-4014 after 7 evenings. Contacting expenses will be paid.

Flowers 3019 Holdrege
Save money by cash and carry. Flowers for Friday night only. Orchids $5.00. Vanda Orchids $1.50. Gardenias $1.50. Also others. Orders will be taken WED. ONLY between the hours of 8 & 10 P. M. Call 6-4282 and ask for Keith.

Hear . . .

ALBIN T. ANDERSON

THURSDAY

- 7:45 P. M. GREEN ROOM YMCA
- 9:00 P. M. KFOR

Sponsored by

Lancaster County and University of Nebraska

YOUNG DEMOCRATS