

Needles in a Haystack

BY LOUISE McDILL

The DLR signs plastered on various posts and buildings all over the Ag campus caused Aggie curiosity to hit an all time high. Students racked their brains to try to figure what the significance of the mysterious symbols was. LS—MFT, UMT, UNESCO, WPA and now DRL!

One curious Ag student inquired whether it was some publicity stunt thought up by The Daily Nebraskan. Another was sure he had a sure clue and remarked, "Oh, it's probably something the Amikitas are doing."

Questions Asked

The prize incident took place in a Dairy class. When the professor asked for questions before a quiz, one student, having seen the mysterious signs in the Dairy building, asked the professor to please tell him what DRL meant before the quiz.

As it turned out, the DRL pertained to neither dairy or Amikitas, but it was the theme for a Union dance. Dance, relax and listen is the decoded message told by the signs, in case some may still not be informed. Ag students will probably take one part of the message seriously, at least. They can certainly "relax" now that the mystery of DRL has been solved.

Band . . .

Continued from Page 6

sion at the beginning of the year when the all-male marching band is formed. (The concert band's ranks are augmented by women players).

The band—married and unmarried alike—will make four more appearances this year, either in part or as a group. On April 29th the band opens Ivy Day ceremonies, a long standing tradition. May 1st takes the band to Union College for a concert there. The unique brass choir within the band, the only one of its kind in the Midwest, will give a concert May 13 in the Union ballroom under the direction of Mr. Robert Stepp, brass instructor who arranges many of the choir's numbers. And on May 16th, the group will broadcast over the Nebraska network.

Of the 13,624,000 veterans of all wars on January 1, about 14,745,000 served in World War II. The remainder were in World War I, the Spanish-American War, Civil War and Indian Wars.

2nd Battalion Takes ROTC Review Award

A team of five Lincoln cadets, representing the Second Battalion, won the Lincoln Reserve Officers' association award for excellence in ROTC competition Thursday afternoon at the University.

The presentation was one of several made during a military review held on the parade ground northwest of the coliseum. The review was the first of a series which will climax the spring activities of the University's military department.

Members of the winning battalion team are: William and Wendell Bauman, Vincent Goeros, Wilbur Scholle and Mark Radke. The award was presented by Lt. Col. Walter L. Meyer, president of the Lincoln Reserve Officers' association.

Other awards: Honor Company of the week—Company L, commanded by Cadet Capt. Albert McGill of Omaha.

Pre-med Students Plan Hospital Tour For Open House

The University College of Medicine and school of nursing will sponsor its annual open house for pre-medical, pre-nursing and technology students May 1.

The day's program will begin at 9 a. m. and will include a tour of hospital wards, laboratories and recreational facilities. Lunch will be served to the visiting students at University hospital.

Those who wish to attend the open house must sign the list outside of Dr. Powell's office, 306 Bessey hall, before April 24.

Students must provide their own transportation to Omaha.

Richardson trophy—Cadet 2nd Lt. Walter Palmer, Westfield, N. J., highest average, all rifle matches.

Gardner trophy—Cadet 1st Lt. Herb Miller, Omaha, intramural rifle fire.

Individual awards—Palmer, Miller, Cadet Lt. Col. William Brandt of Unadilla, and David Flesher of Omaha.

H.E. Honorary Inducts Coeds, Elects Officers

Twelve coeds were inducted into Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Ec honorary, Sunday morning. Feature of the combination initiation-installation held in the social room of the Home Ec building was a breakfast held earlier in the home unit of the Foods and Nutrients building.

New initiates are: Rhodora Nelson, Lois Banerberter, Betty Beckner, Sally Hartz, Winnie Herboldsheimer, Jo Kellenbarger, Amy Mitchell, La Verna Acker, Donna Lu Johnson, Louise McDill, Gwen Monson, and Irene Wellensaick.

Officers elected are: President, Helen Ochsner; Vice-President, Phyllis Ross; Secretary, Ruth Swanson; Treasurer, Marge Reynolds; Historian, La Verna Acker; Librarian, Amy Mitchell; Editor, Sally Hartz; Chaplain, Mavis Musgrave; and Marshal, Marilyn Lyness.

HOTEL CORNHUSKER IS PROUD TO BE HOST TO

Alpha Omicron Pi
Initiation banquet

Friday, April 23
* * * *

Tassels Banquet
Saturday, April 24

UNDER SCHEMEL DIRECTION

Miller's brings you a distinctly new type of Fashion Showing!

Miss Marguerite Buck
Leading Hair Styler of
New York City

"Fashion Futures"
in
HAIR STYLING

SATURDAY . . . 2 P. M.

Auditorium

Fourth Floor

Hair stylings designed for Pig-Tailer, College Girls and Careerists will be modeled on the runways. See the new stylings that complement the new Spring Silhouette in dress and hat fashions.

MILLER & PAINE

TONIGHT

COLLEGE NIGHT

at

KINGS

The Gay Note Spot

Couples Only
Tax Included
Adm. 1.50 per Couple