

Cornhuskers Trip Kansas 5 to 2 To Sweep Series

Nebraska's Cornhuskers made it two in a row over Kansas Wednesday afternoon as they slugged their way to a 5 to 2 decision (on the Nebraska diamond.)

The Huskers tallied their runs on five hits and four errors by the Jayhawk team. Kansas picked up its runs on five hits and three Nebraska miscues.

Good pitching and tight fielding made the game a close one for the first three innings. In the first half of the fourth inning, Bud French connected with one of Elroy "Lefty" Gloystein's offerings and knocked it over the fence in left center field. Hogan followed up with a single and went to second of Cerv's error. The next man struck out and May followed with a pop to first, retiring the side.

Grogan Homers.

Nebraska came back in the last half of the inning as Grogan stepped up and put the ball over the fence in the same place French clouted his. Wes Maser followed with a walk. Cerv then singled, sending Maser to third. Schleiger followed with another single, scoring Maser. Cerv scored next on Blatchford's fielder's choice to end the scoring for the inning.

The Huskers made the score four to one in the next inning as Hobe Hays went to first on an error and then stole second. Grogan beat out a bunt and also stole second. Maser walked. Cerv then went to first on an error as Hays scored.

Gloystein Strikes Out.

Gloystein, whiffing eight during the game, set the Jayhawkers down with no trouble the rest of the game, except in the last inning when the Jayhawkers put together two hits and a wild pitch to score their last run.

Grogan scored the last Husker run, in the last of the eighth, as he walked, went to second on a passed ball, took third on Maser's sacrifice, and scored on Cerv's long hit.

Husker Track Men Entertain Buffs Saturday

University of Nebraska and the University of Colorado engage in a dual track and field meet in Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon. The meet will start at 1:30 to avoid conflict with the Oklahoma-Nebraska baseball game.

It is the only home appearance of the Cornhuskers until the Big Seven championships here May 21-22.

A wave of injuries has crippled the Huskers in two previous duals this season. They are after their first victory. Five field and several track records are in danger of being broken.

Prospective duels in the pole vault, 100 and 220-yard dashes are taking shape.

In the short sprints, Don Campbell, the Buffs' sophomore flier, and Nebraska's Dick Hutton, Harry Meginnis and Alan Thompson are expected to press the meet marks of :09.7 for the century and 21 seconds for the 220. Campbell holds both of these records.

Cooper, Bateman in Vault

Don Cooper and Warren Bateman are featured in the pole vault. The Buffaloes' vault specialist has bettered 13 feet, 6 inches three times this year and hit a top mark of 13-8 as he tied for first place at the Kansas Relay. Cooper, who vaulted 14-2 1/2 indoors, has been bothered with a sprained ankle during the outdoor campaigns.

Colorado is strong in both the broad jump, with Jack McEwen boasting a 24-foot practice leap, and the javelin, with Jack Todd hitting 194 feet, 5 inches at the KU relays.

On paper, the Huskers are ahead in the shot put, both hurdle races, distance runs and the discus.

Scarlet Nine To See Heavy Home Duty

The University of Nebraska baseball team will play four games in five days here, starting with Oklahoma Friday and Saturday. Monday and Tuesday the University of Colorado, unbeaten in conference games, comes here.

Oklahoma leads the conference in baseball titles with ten since the league was organized in 1928. However, this season the Sooners have been having a rough time of it.
