

Ag Speaker Leaves for FAA Contest

Eugene Robinson, ag freshman, left Monday for Waterloo, Ia., where he will represent Nebraska in the regional F.F.A. public speaking contest. The 18-year-old ag man hails from Oshkosh.

The Waterloo meet will bring together winners of 12 state contests held last spring. Winner of the meet will participate in the national contest scheduled for Nov. 14-18 at Kansas City, Mo.

Entitled "The Prairie," Robinson's speech deals with the problem of moisture and fertility conservation on the wind-swept prairies of western Nebraska. He offers a solution in more cooperation with state and national conservation efforts.

Jallopies Offer Thrills, Chills To Lively Student Joy Riders

A new thrill in motoring awaits you. Come and take a ride in Beulah, the Theta Xi station wagon, or Fifi, the Alpha Phi town car, or if you're in a hurry there's the DU fire truck. And the Phi Psi Ford is fine for sight seeing.

The fire truck, claimed by its owners to be the oldest vehicle on the campus and the veteran of many famous fires is owned by Chuck Hemingston, Bill Wenk, and Bill Vleck.

The advantage of the fire truck seems to be that any number of people can be carried with the sanction of patrolmen. Not so with the Theta Xi station wagon, a 1925 Ford, as its owners, Dave Slusher, Paxton Ricketts, and Bob Rogers were made to realize.

Bud Campbell and Bruce Buchanan have red upholstery on their Phi Psi Ford that could compete with the best of Buick convertibles.

The thing that distinguishes "Fifi" from all other cars in Lincoln is its paint job. The crate of orange is owned by Barb Williams, and Pat Hickey.
