Gilman's Throwing Leads Kansas Attack

By Harold Abramson
(Special From Lawrence)

Kansas whipped the Husker jinx for the second time since 1944 to beat Nebraska 27-7 at the Mt. Oread site Saturday afternoon. It was the Jayhawks' home-coming game.

The Huskers were stopped by Dick Gilman's passing as the flipping quarterback aided in all of the Jayhawks' counters.

Coach Patsy Clark's eleven held the KU squad in their own territory the entire first quarter but the Jays managed to come back in the second quarter to score.

Gilman Strikes.

The touchdown was made on a pass from Gilman to Cliff McDonald and covered 11 yards with McDonald scampering the remaining yards. The score culminated a KU drive from the Nebraska 48.

Ken Sperry booted the conversion with Dick Gilman holding the ball. There were a little over two minutes left in the opening half when Kansas hit the scoring column.

Nebraska lost the services of Cletus Fischer and Tom "Traincomplete. The St. Edwards back who was seeing his first action since the Minnesota game when he was injured then flipped a pass to Gerry Ferguson who broke down field to Kansas 3 yard line for a gain of about 25 yards.

Gerry Moore tried a line buck for no gain and Fischer tossed to Gerry Ferguson incomplete. KU was penalized for offside which brought the ball to the Jayhawk

NU Foundation Will Sponsor '49 Calendar

The 1949 Nebraska calendar, commemorating the 80th anniversary of the university, will be offered to students next week by the student foundation.

Campus bookstores will begin sales of the memorandum book Monday. Representatives of the foundation will visit organized houses during the week to show the book and take orders.

Priced at one dollar, the 30-page date book is filled with full page photographs of familiar campus scenes. It is designed as a souvenir or gift for students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the university.

Offered for the first time on this campus, the calendar is patterned after those published annually by mna schools and universities.

The publication of the calendar by the foundation was the idea of Genene Mitchell, president of the organization. She received approval of the project last spring from the faculty committee on Student Organizations and Social Functions.

Throughout the summer, Miss Mitchell planned the book, enlisting the aid of Bill Poe, student photographer.

The calendar was planned as further publicity of the university and a lasting memento for the buyer, Miss Mitchell explained.

The date-books are boxed, and ready for gift wrapping. The printing of the books was done by the Livingston Printing company of Philadelphia.

All profits from the sales of the calendars will be used in the Student Foundation Scholarship funds.

Jeannie Sampson and Rockne Holmes are foundation board members in charge of the calendar sales.

wreck" Novak in the first half. The fleet back re-injured his leg and was forced to withdraw. Novak who has had trouble with his ribs all season was hurt also.

Huskers Score

The Cornhuskers scored their lone touchdown in the third quarter. Bill Mueller sparked the drive when he intercepted a Dick Gilman pass meant for Byron Sperry on the Nebraska 35.

Kenny Fischer completed a pass to Mueller which was good to the KU 44. Fischer then hit Bobby Costello who drove to the 24 yard line before being dropped by Moffett. Fischer then tried a forward lateral to Gerry Moore which lost two yards and a pass to Gerry Ferguson which was in-

N.U. Chosen Conference Site By Engineers

The Nebraska campus was chosen as the site of the 1949 mid-continent conference of the student chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers at this year's conference.

The conference was held at the Missouri School of Mines, Rolla, Mo., Oct. 14 to 16. Meno Wilhelms, senior in the civil engineering department, presided over this year's meeting.

Vet Beneficiaries Must Be Named

The VA has some important advice for those ex-servicemen who still hold their national service life insurance policies, concerning the naming of beneficiaries of their policies.

If no beneficiaries are named the policy holder may be risking a financial loss to his heirs. If the policy holder dies and no beneficiaries have been named, the insurance will be paid in a lump sum to the veteran's estate and will be subject to all the laws governing estates, including claims of creditors, administrator's fees and court expenses.

If the veteran names a specific beneficiary and the insurance is paid to him or her, he is exempt from taxation and from any claims made by creditors.

Campus Poll Indicates Ignorance of UN Facts

What's your United Nations I. Q.? According to Iva Gorton Sprague, New York lecturer, writing in the Omaha World Herald of Oct. 9, it should be high. She said that Nebraska is ahead of almost every state in the Union with its United Nations educating program, but she might retract her statement if she could see the results of a recent campus poll.

The university is supposedly the intellectual center of the state which according to Mrs. Sprague has one of the best U.N. education programs. Yet according to the campus poll U. of N. students know little about the U. N.

Six Questions Asked.
Six pertinent questions concerning the United Nations were asked thirty students on campus by a reporter, and the results show that not one out of thirty knew how many member nations there are; only nineteen students knew that the headquarters are in New York; only seven students knew that Trygve Lie of Norway is the present secretary-general of the U. N.

Six students knew that the U. N. charter was drawn up in San Francisco; only six students knew that Warren Austin is the chief of the U. S. delegation to the U. N.; and five students were able to name the five permanent members of the security council.

The questions asked and student answers are as follows:
1. How many nations are members of the U.N.? 15 students—50 nations, 6 students—55 nations, 3 students—53 nations; 5 students—

57 nations, 1 student—no estimate.

2. Where are the U.N. permanent headquarters located? 19 students—New York, 8 students—Paris, 3 students—undecided.

Three Name Vishinsky .
3. Who is the sec-gen. of the U.N., and from what country does he originate? 7 students—Trygve Lie, Norway; 8 students—Trygve Lie, Sweden; 4 students—Folke Bernadotte, Sweden; 3 students—Vishinsky, Russia; 3 students—Marshall, United States; 1 student—Molotov, Russia; 4 students—did not know.

4. Where was the U.N. charter drawn up? 6 students—San Francisco; 4 students—New York; 4 students—using League of Nations charter; 16 students—did not know.

5. Who is chief of the United States delegation to the U.N.? 6 students—Warren Austin, 7 students—George Marshall; 4 students—Arthur Vandenburg, 1 student—Tom Connelly, and 12 students—did not know.

6. Who are the permanent members of the security council? 5 students—all correctly, U. S., Russia, China, France, England; 11 students—U. S., Russia, France, England; 13 students—failed to venture a guess; 1 student—U. S., Russia, England.

1. 58 member nations.
2. New York City.
3. Trygve Lie, Norway.
4. San Francisco, 1945.
5. Warren R. Austin.
6. U. S., Russia, China, United Kingdom (England), France.

Geophysicist Here On Lecture Tour

Dr. Joseph Kaplan, geophysicist at the University of California in Los Angeles, will deliver two lectures at Nebraska Monday and Tuesday. They will be sponsored by the university chapter of Sigma Xi, scientific research society of America.

Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Avery laboratory of chemistry, Dr. Kaplan will speak on "The Upper Atmosphere of the Earth." The lecture is open and free to the public.

On Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Room 108 of Burnett hall he will address faculty members and students on, "A Physicist Speaks to the Social Scientist."

Phillips Oil Man Speaks Monday

An informal discussion of opportunities in the petroleum industry and problems facing the graduate will be the theme of a meeting Monday, Oct. 25 in Avery lab.

A representative of Phillips Petroleum company will speak at the gathering which will be of interest to undergraduates as vocational guidance.

W. C. Douce, chemical engineer of the company, here on a two-day visit with a personnel team to interview graduate students and seniors, will speak Monday at 7:30 in Room 324 of the Lab.

Homecoming Festivities To Feature Annual Dance

Main attraction of Homecoming weekend will be the annual Oct. 30, from 8 till 12 p.m. at the Coliseum. The dance is under the joint sponsorship of the Tassels and Corn Cobs, pep organizations.

Queen to Reign at Dance
The Homecoming Queen, who will be presented at the U.C.L.A. game in the afternoon, will reign at the dance. Winners of the float and house decoration contests will also be announced.

Elliott Lawrence, his piano and his orchestra will be on hand to favor the hop-goers with the music which secured a fifth place rating for them by "Billboard," nationally circulated show magazine. Lawrence appeared here in 1946 for the Homecoming dance and is back this year by request. Featured with the band will be vocalists Jack Hunter and Rosalind Patton.

Decorations to Center Around Fall Theme

The Coliseum will be decorated in an autumn theme and will be "suited up" in appropriate fall colors. Dark green velvet curtains will form the background for the bandstand. The shell behind the stand will be decorated in autumn hues and metallic paper leaves will add a sparkle to it. A long arch of crepe paper streamers will stretch from the shell to the balconies of the Coliseum. The autumn effect will be completed by spotlights centered on the floor throughout the evening.

Tickets for dance are $3 per couple, tax included. They will go on sale today and may be purchased from any member of Tassels and Corn Cobs and at the door of the Coliseum the night of the dance. Tickets will also be on sale in the Union lobby the beginning of next week.
