

IM Turkey Day Race Today

424 Will Vie For Annual Trot Honors

The Annual turkey trot will begin Thursday afternoon at 4:30 on the stadium steps. 424 entries have been received with more expected before post time today.

Nineteen fraternities have entered squads for the race, which is a Jack Best event. Three interdenominational teams, Presby House, Methodist House, and Newman Club, have entered along with the Ag Men's club, to represent the Independents.

A new champion will be crowned, as Bill Mountford, last year's winner is on the fall track squad, and is therefore ineligible. The 1947 team winner was Sigma Alpha Epsilon, followed by Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Upsilon.

This year's winning fraternity will be awarded a trophy, with the interdenominational winner also receiving a trophy. The individual winner will get a turkey and the Intramural medal, second place will receive a goose, third place a duck, finishers 4-6 will receive a chicken, 7-8 a U of N sweatshirt, and places 9-14 will be awarded surprise gifts.

Team scores will be counted from the first 32 finishers, with first place counting 32 points, second 31, third 30. All organizations must have at least six men finish to qualify for Jack Best participation points. Any groups having ten men or more finish, will receive five bonus points.

Awards, team and individual, will be made by the Turkey Day Queen and her court at the Awards Stand near the Coliseum.

Coach Weir expressed a hope that the competitors will really give the race a try, as he is hoping to discover some future long and middle distance runners among the early finishers. Last year's winner is one of the UN's top fall two-milers.

Sig Eps Win 14-0

Sig Eps dumped ZBT 13-0 in their playoff tilt Wednesday night, and the DUs nosed out the Sig Alphas in an overtime period which was caused by a 6-6 deadlock in a game played Tuesday night.

Tobiska and Powley were the offensive standouts for the Sig Eps, Tobiska scoring one touchdown on a run, and Powley passed for another and the following extra point.

In the overtime game, the Sig Alphas completed two passes before the DU's intercepted and took the ball, and gained 6 yards. The Sig Alphas were penalized 3 yards, and then Skog took a pass for three for the game.

Coaches Attend Clinic Thursday

A clinic for coaches from southeast Nebraska high schools will be held Thursday afternoon at 4:00. Forty to fifty mentors are expected to attend.

Coach Good will run his varsity cagers through various fundamental drills to be used in practice sessions. The clinic is designed to promote interest in basketball, which is just around the corner. Many high schools are expected to start practice in about two weeks.

Meanwhile, Coach Good continued to send his charges through fundamentals and conditioning drills. Skeleton drills were stressed along with shadow work. The Huskers first game will be played here five weeks from Wednesday against Northwest Missouri State college.

VA Announces Vet Deadlines

The Veteran's Administration officials pointed out two important deadline dates on the G.I. Bill benefits, Wednesday. These deadlines concern entering and completing education.

Training or education must be started within four years after discharge or by July 25, 1951, whichever is later. Education must be completed not later than July 25, 1956, except veterans who enlisted or reenlisted before Oct. 6, 1946. These men figure deadlines on G.I. Bill benefits from date of their discharges.

The VA also urged veterans in training to place their full name, address, and claim number of all papers submitted if they want quick and accurate servicing of their accounts.

Politically Minded?

With elections nearing, the conversation of older students centers around "How are you going to vote?" Two years ago, however, there was even more talk of an election. It really seemed as if college people were genuinely interested in the affairs of city, state and country. The controversy—whether liquor should be served by the drink in Lincoln or not.

Ramblings

It won't be through any fault of Potsy Clark's if his charges are not alert on pass defense. The Husker coach has been pounding on the theory that some kind of pass defense is better than none at all.

Potsy gave the scout squad some UCLA plays and had the blue uniformed boys filling the air with passes in Wednesday's practice.

We thought Potsy's shift of Phil Young up to the first string was a good move. Young seems to have found himself after dragging around the first part of the season.

Spirit has never seemed so high as the game with the UCLAN's approaches. The squad looks like it is really primed for this game even though they may be without the services of Bruising Tom Novak and Cletus Fischer.

If the stadium gridiron looks a little too green for this time of the year you're not really seeing things. The grounds keeper has been going over it like a blond hairdresser with peroxide. Only he's painting the stuff green.

We liked the way Jim Myers was running in practice the other day. The York back was picking his holes and driving right through for plenty of yardage.

Coed Capers

Thursday evening, Oct. 28, the semi-finals of soccer baseball will be played. Alpha Phi will play the winner between Howard Hall and Alpha Omicron Pi; and Kappa Delta will play the winner of the game between Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Xi Delta. The finals will be played Tuesday, Nov. 2.

There will be a meeting of intramural representatives Thursday, Oct. 28, at 5 at Grant Memorial.

Swimming club will meet at 7, Thursday evening, Oct. 28, at the Coliseum.

The Volley Ball tournament will start Wednesday, Nov. 3. House lists are due Thursday, Oct. 28. There will be a W.A.A. Council meeting Friday, Oct. 29, at 5 at Grant Memorial.

Small Beginnings

It was only two years ago when two organizations now prominent in campus activities came to Nebraska. The Pershing Riflemen reactivated their society here on Nov. 6, 1946 just in time to give their crack rifle review at the '46 Military Ball. Alpha Epsilon, too, radio honorary, received their charter at Nebraska on Nov. 7 of that year. Miss Betty Girling, national vice president of the organization, was installing officer.

Kosmet Klub will hold a smoker for all workers and actives Thursday, Oct. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 307 of the Union.

Potsy Puts Stress On Pass Defense

Coach Potsy Clark continued to stress pass defense in a lengthy practice session Wednesday afternoon.

There can be no doubt that the Husker mentor is using every possible means to bolster the leaky aerial defense.

A big jolt to Nebraska hopes was a nose injury received by Del Wiegand in Tuesday's practice. Wiegand's nose was broken. He was in St. Elizabeth's hospital Wednesday night where his condition was described as very good.

'Pop' Klein Says Frosh Look Good

"If the men out for freshman football continue to show interest, and at the same time keep up their scholastic requirements, we should be able to place enough of them on the varsity next year to provide the depth needed."

These were the words of Freshman Coach L. F. "Pop" Klein as he explained the present first-year program at Nebraska.

"We're trying to build prospective material for the varsity. All the boys are getting the same training, and there is not any first team. For instance, we used 42 men at Iowa State last week."

Klein had praise for some of the boys who have shown improvement since the first of the season. He named Frank Simon, Cecil Voils, ends; Bob Mockett, Ted Britt, tackles; Don Burson, Fred Blackett, guards; Dick Regier, Rich Reese, centers.

In the backfield the frosh mentor named Rich Yost, Ron Clark, Loren Liggett, Tom Hopkins, Harold Summers, Joe Penseigo, Frank Wooters, John McCurdy, Nick Adducci, Bob Diers, Dick Gifford, John Murphy, Mark Martin and Bill Darnell as standouts.

"In comparison to last year," Klein continued, "we started this season with 198 boys and still have 165 left. Last season, we had 78 boys reporting and they stayed on to the last."

"This year's freshman squad seems to have plenty of spirit and enthusiasm along with a lot of prospective ability."

Coach Klein wanted, however, to clear up any misconceptions as to a "first string freshman squad." He said that all the boys were working hard and that each would be given plenty of time to show his abilities.

Five other Husker hopefuls were sidelined with injuries. Darwin Salestrom was working out without pads as was Art Bauer, who bruised a hip, and Don Sailors who was being bothered by a troublesome right leg.

Tom Novak and Cletus Fischer continued to take it easy as they watched from the sidelines.

Clark reshuffled his first string backfield moving Junior Collopy into the blocking back position in place of the injured Wiegand. Jerry Ferguson, Bill Mueller and Phil Young were his running mates.

Ray Magsamen was shifted to first string end. Ralph Damkroger was at the other end while Charlie Toogood and Jim Godfrey played tackle. Hawkins and Means were at guard with Bobby Costello at center.

On the second eleven were Howard Fletcher and Bob Schneider, ends; Fred Golan and Herb Reese, tackles; Jim Harkrader and Mike DiBiase, guards; Bob Mullen, center; Don Strasheim, Kenny Fischer, Dick Hutton and Gerry Moore, backs.

Replacements Jack Hazen, Johnny Sedlacek, Walt Spellman, Harold Dorn, Dick Goeglein, Alex Cochrane, Chick Story, Jim Myers and Don Bloom were also on hand.

Coach Bert LaBrucherie's UCLAN's will arrive by plane today and workout on the varsity practice field in a private session.
