

Feminine Ingenuity Will Rampage At Annual Mortor Board Dance

Feminine ingenuity will be on the rampage again Friday night at the traditional Mortor Board ball. Coeds will have the full range of the field in asking their favorite man to the "women's choice" ball. After that big date has been made the pleasure will be all hers to decorate him in her most imaginative corsage, varying from the ludicrous to the weird, this probably being the most spectacular aspect of the affair.

Furnishing the best in dancing music will be the ace drummer man, Gene Krupa and his orchestra. Krupa, who with Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey helped to educate the public to the rage of swing music back in 1934, is today one of the leading dance maestros in the country. Krupa, today is the first to say that the era of blatant swing has gone and that bands should be fashioned to suit dancers.

Stresses Ballad Work

Krupa says that his band, on many tunes, stresses ballad work and harmony, the rhythm section blending into the melody as much as the reeds and brass.

Another important feature of the ball will be the presentation of eight eligible bachelors who were selected at an all-coed election held last Tuesday. Twenty-two fraternity and independent men were selected as their respective organization's candidates for Bachelor titles.

Start Now

Mortor Board tickets are on sale for the second week. Coeds wearing the little black "8-ball" are evidencing their purchase of a ticket and the fact that they're

"on the ball" and not "behind the 8-ball." Tassels and Mortor Boards are selling tickets priced at $3.00 per couple. Spectator tickets are $0.50.

Tradition says that the women not only do the asking for the date, but call for their dates and, in general, act as escorts for the evening. All of which means that coeds had better start shopping for their favorite means of transportation, and if you're going to take that "man of your dreams" out to a pre-formal dinner, you better start saving those pennies and getting that reservation!

Correction

Max Randolph Swanson was incorrectly named as Max Randolph in the Friday edition of The Daily Nebraskan, in a page 5 story.
