

Block & Bridle Merit Award Presented to Ag Graduate

Ned Raun of Minden, a graduate of Ag college last year, has been named the most outstanding student in the Block and Bridle club for 1948. By virtue of his success, Raun will receive the National Merit trophy of the organization.

Particularly flattering to the Nebraska chapter is the fact that this is the second straight year that a member of the local club has won the award. Willard Visek of Ord was the winner last year. It is also the first time in the history of the award that any school has received that honor in succeeding years.

Graduated with high distinction, Raun was also outstanding on Nebraska livestock judging teams while in school. He placed second high individual in the 1947 inter-collegiate contest at Kansas City.

Since his graduation, Raun has been operating a 960 acre farm near Minden, 150 acres of which is under irrigation. His farm management plan is the result of a program which he drew up while a student at Ag college.

He was active in student affairs while at Nebraska as a chairman of Ag Executive Board, chairman of the judiciary committee of the student council, master of ceremonies of the 1947 Junior Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock show, and Chancellor of Alpha Zeta.

Honoraries which listed him as a member include, Innocents, Sigma Xi, Alpha Zeta and Gamma Sigma Delta. He was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

Typical comments on the latest uprising regarding the Ag branch of Student Health—"What is it!" "But I thought they had discontinued it!" "What hours are they open?"—and so on into the night.

At least the general consensus of opinion is that students are not aware that there is such a thing in existence, and it may be due to lack of publicity. To combat such a condition, Dr. Fuenning, director of Student Health, plans to distribute a booklet which will outline the benefits of that service for future classes.

Present hours of the clinic are from 8:30 to 9:30 any morning of the week and it's free to all students, faculty and employees of the Ag college. Next time you have a sore throat, cut, bruise, or you name it, stop around and try out the service offered at the Ag Student Health center located in the College Activities building.

Ed Higginbotham, Ag Phys Ed. chief, has lined up a job for himself in the coming months. Besides parties, programs, meetings and classes which are held on the floor at the CA building, he is faced with the problem of scheduling 132 Ag league basketball games, in addition to a few from the city campus. Always a booster of athletics on the Ag campus, "Higgy" has lined up a 12-team league for ag students only—at the expense of long hours for himself.

A novelty about the Ag leagues is that "A" and "B" teams will play in the same competition, rather than have two leagues. "This will make it pretty tough on the "B" teams, but everyone will get to play more," comments the Ag Phys Ed boss.

Not only does "Higgy" make up the schedule, but he also supervises the play from the scorer's bench. It is not unusual for him to operate the watch and keep score at the same time, and I can remember when he has operated the whistle for full games. And that is more work than playing—as anyone who has tried it can testify.

The whole sum and substance of the matter is that you've got to take your hat off to a man who goes looking for work—and trouble as it often turns out.

Corn Cob actives will meet in the West Stadium, Friday, 12:30, for the Cornhusker picture. Cob sweaters will be worn.
