Nebraska's Cornhusker cagers meet an undefeated Iowa State Teachers College in the Coliseum Saturday night at 7:30 for the third game of the season for both schools.

Coach Harry Good's squad are making a comeback after bowing to the University of Minnesota, 61-52, last Monday. Nebraska has won one and lost one of its two games to date.

The Teachers whipped Upper Iowa in its opener and set down the University of South Dakota on Monday to maintain its spotless record.

Coach O. M. Nordly is gifted with a well seasoned first team and sufficient reserve strength to make the Panthers a serious contender the entire 40 minutes.

The Panthers have three scoring threats in Norm Jespersen, Walt Kochneff and Van Combs. This trio scored 760 of the 1,054 points the Tutors counted last year.

Kochneff, Combs and Jespersen have shown they can hit the bucket this year. Kochneff is the leading Panther scorer with 40 points, followed by Combs with 23 and Jespersen with 19.

Coach Harry Good is sticking to his same starting five that opened against Northwest Missouri and Minnesota.

Claude Retherford and Joe Malacek, Nos. 1 and 2 scorers among the Cornhuskers, will be at forward, Milton "Bus" Whitehead at center, and Henry Cech and Bob Cerv at guard.

Malacek, the sophomore sensation from Cicero, Ill., lived up to his advance reputation by scoring 18 points against the Gophers. He also turned in a commendable defensive game along with Guard Henry Cech, his running mate, when they attended Sterling Morton high school in Cicero.

The Iowa State Teachers game will be the last home game before Christmas vacation. The squad goes on the road to play Purdue at Lafayette, Duquesne at Pittsburgh, Western Reserve at Cleveland and journeys to Kansas City for the Big Seven tournament, Dec. 27 to 30.

Coach Tony Sharpe will pit his freshmen cagers against Neal Mehring's B team in a preliminary game, starting at 5:50 p. m.

Track Squad Set for Meet

Nebraska indoor trackmen will hold a dress rehearsal Saturday afternoon at the indoor track. Coach Weir will run his squad through a full meet program complete with field events.

With a heavy turnout of newcomers this year, the Saturday workout will give the Husker track mentor a chance to look over his squad. The workout will feature a 2,000-yard relay to be run by a picked foursome.

Among those missing the feel-out will be three veterans, Dick Hutton, Harry Meginnis, and Charley Toogood. Hutton has been sidelined with an attack of flu, Meginnis with a troublesome wisdom tooth, and a bad knee is bothering Toogood.

Coach Weir is working the boys hard, as the season's opener comes only three weeks after the holiday vacation.

Retherford Tops Scoring

Claude Retherford, French Lick, Ind., forward, leads the University of Nebraska basketball scorers after two games with 26 points.

The speedy forward has the hot breath of Joe Malacek down his neck, however. Malacek, who scored 18 points against the Minnesota Gophers last week, follows closely with 25 points.

Bus Whitehead, 6-9 center, is in third place behind Malacek with 15 points.

In two games Retherford attempted 27 field goals and basketed 11. He also made four out of six free throws for an average of 13 points per game.

Malacek attempted 20 field goals and scored 11. The sophomore standout made three out of five free throws and has averaged 12.5 points per game.

The leaders:

Player	Atts	fgm	ftm	pts	avg
Retherford	27	11	4	26	13
Malacek	20	11	3	25	12.5
Whitehead	19	6	3	15	7.5
Anderson	7	4	3	11	5.5
Cech	14	3	2	8	4

Try One With the Works

Which means a steaming dog on a piping hot bun... a dash of salad, mustard, a generous helping of spicy chili, then topped with catsup and chopped onions.

Sounds like a high fu-lutin dinner menu... but it isn't... it's just a darn good dog... try one.
