The Daily Nebraskan

Member
Intercollegiate Press
FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR

The Daily Nebraskan is published by the students of the University of Nebraska as an expression of student news and opinions only. According to article II of the by-laws governing student publications and administered by the Board of Publications: "It is the declared policy of the Board that publications under its jurisdiction shall be free from editorial censorship on the part of the Board, or on the part of any member of the faculty of the university; but members of the staff of the Daily Nebraskan are personally responsible for what they say or do or cause to be printed."

Subscription rates are $2.00 per semester, $2.50 per semester mailed, or $3.00 for the college year. $4.00 mailed. Single copy 5c. Published daily during the school year except Mondays and Saturdays, vacations and examination periods, by the University of Nebraska under the supervision of the Publication Board. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Lincoln, Nebraska, under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879, and at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized September 19, 1932.

Meddling With Melick

By M. J.

Thursday's front page told of the election by the Student Council of a sophomore man to fill a vacancy on the Publication board. A minor matter—hardly worth a second glance.

The front page item naturally omitted a few of the more gory incidents surrounding the choice. Seven persons applied for the post—three men and four women. After much deliberation and discussion, the decision ran like this: Rog Ritter, Delta Upsilon, replaces George Sup. Delta Upsilon, on the board—tidy!

It looks as if the boys with the telephones have done it again.

We do not wish to cast aspersions on the successful candidate, but it seems to us that there were candidates who presented a better journalistic background and seemed to be in closer contact with publication situation.

By the "coincidence" of affiliation it seems as if qualification other than merit may have been a basis for voting.

The merit we refer to has to do with some knowledge of journalism and the type of ability required to put out a campus publication. The Pub board does select the staffs of the three student publications and it would be handdy if the persons making the selection had some sort of contact with these activities and the abilities of the staff and future staff members—we can dream can't we?

Perhaps luck is with us and the boys have made a good selection—we aren't qualified to judge. It isn't the man, it's the method, we decree.

It's easy to pass the buck to the Student Council and label the whole procedure "dirty politics" but it sticks in our minds that there was some sort of an election of that body last spring by the "entire campus." According to our faulty arithmetic, some 3500 votes were cast in that election. More than 6000 students were eligible to ballot. Loud and frequent are the complaints against the Rag, Cornhusker, Student Council and every other elected group but the stimulus which moves these critics of student government to voice their opinions fails to move them to the polls on election day.

Student Council proxy Dale Ball summed up the situation after announcing Wednesday's election results when he said, "Since we all know that the campus is controlled by a bi-cameral legislature we can assume that the other house on the campus approves the election."

Personally, we're tired of being led around by the nose—we don't lack company though, most of the student body and faculty seems to have caught hold of the proverbial ring.

Of the whole situation may we say, "It reeks."

State Language Teachers Plan Organization

Nebraska Portuguese and Spanish instructors met Saturday at Burnett hall for the purpose of forming an organization in the American association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese. University, Lincoln high school and outstate instructors were represented at the meeting. Dr. Boyd Carter, associate professor of Romance languages, presided at the meeting until the officers were elected. Dr. J. E. A. Alexis, chairman of the department of Modern Languages and Literatures, spoke in Spanish on the need of such an organization.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: Lloyd D. Teale, instructor in romance languages, president; Teresena Danese, Spanish instructor at Lincoln High School, vice-president; and N. J. Sitar, instructor in romance languages, secretary treasurer.

The new organization plans to meet regularly to discuss matters of interest to Spanish and Portuguese instructors. It will also attempt to extend its membership throughout the state. "Hispania," a magazine containing articles about Spanish and Portuguese, is published by the organization.
