Grads to Hold Religion Forum

"The Place of Religion in College" will be the theme of a forum discussion to be held Friday evening in Room 316 of the Union.

The forum will be sponsored by members of the Graduate club, with Hal Scheidt as moderator. Speakers in the discussion will be: Dr. Clarence E. McNeill, professor of economics; the Rev. Rex Knowles, Presbyterian Student House pastor and Bill Reuter, Y.M.C.A. student president.

In planning the forum, Scheidt said, the Graduate club hoped to provide discussion on a subject "too long ignored."

"We hope to bring the opinions of a faculty member, minister and student before our members to perhaps find some answers to this vital phase of a college student's life."

The forum will be open to any university student or faculty member interested in participating in the discussion. It will begin at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Colorado Installs New Test System

Following more than a year of experimentation and close inspection of the honor system of studying, testing and theme writing, 117 of Colorado college's 213 courses will participate in the honor system next semester.

A new era in academic procedure and efficiency was predicted under the system by President William H. Gill.

European, Mexican Tours Offered at Budget Prices

European and Mexican tours are available to students, teachers and social workers, through the Laborde Travel Service.

Two trips are being offered, a tour to Europe and to Latin America. They are the first steps in a travel program sponsored by the Cooperative Bureau for Teachers, envisaging travel as an essential part of education. The objective is to reduce fees, through group planning, to a cost far below that of independent travel.

UNDER THE PLAN a tour to Europe and return with four weeks in Switzerland on an all-inclusive travel and recreational trip, may be made for $520.

The trip may be made by air from Bradley Air Field, Conn., direct to Geneva on 55 passenger Transoceanic DC-4's. Reconverted troop carriers, accommodating about 12 to a cabin, will carry students by sea. Sailing will start in July and a definite schedule will be announced in February.

Reservations must be made early since space in boats and planes is limited.

INDIVIDUALS must make their own passport and visa arrangements. A $50 deposit is required on all reservations. Payments may be made in two installments, on April 1 and May 1.

Further information may be obtained from Laborde Travel Service, Inc. 1776 Broadway, New York, 19, New York.

Phi U Begins Picture Rental Service Today

Any student may get a print of a famous picture today for 25 cents at the Home Economics building.

Although it sounds like a bargain day sale, this actually is the first day of the art loaning service sponsored by Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary society. Many prints of art works are available for students to borrow which would fit into any room.

Students may borrow pictures for a period of a semester or more for 25 cents a semester. The purpose of the loaning service is to enable students to enjoy and decorate their rooms with well known and recognized works of art. This is the second time the pictures have been loaned out. The project was started last semester and since then many prints have been added to the collection.

A booth will be situated in the Home Economics building today and tomorrow where pictures may be rented. The collection which is available may be seen in room 115 or in the first floor hall.

Robinson Gets Nat'l SAM Award

For being the senior with the highest scholastic average in the national fraternity of Sigma Alpha Mu, Ben Robinson has been awarded the Hyman I. Jacobsen Award.

A pre-med student, Robinson was told of his honor at the fraternity convention in Los Angeles, Dec. 29 to 31.

Robinson is secretary of the Nebraska chapter of the fraternity, publicity chairman of Nu-Meds and a member of Theta Nu.

Sorensen Named UNESCO Leader

Rosenthal to Help Lead Conference Discussions

Ted Sorensen, Law college sophomore, has been named as the moderator for the model UNESCO conference on the campus Feb. 16-18.

He will be assisted by Dr. Albert Rosenthal, head of the new school of international relations at the University of Denver.

Sorensen is a member of the University debate squad, past president of the Y.M.C.A. and F.E.P.C. chairman of the Social Action committee of Lincoln. He was a candidate for a Rhodes scholarship.

Assisting Sorensen to lead the conference like an international meeting, Rosenthal will use his experience in UNESCO and international relations. He acted as the government liaison between the United States, State department and UNESCO.

The speakers for the three-day student conference have already been named. They include Archibald MacLeish, statesman and author; Constance Roach, education director of the U. S. commission; and Walter Laves, former assistant director general of UNESCO.

Chancellor Gustavson, a U. S. delegate to UNESCO, will also address students. An international pageant has also been planned for the conference.

Summer Study Offered at Oslo

The University of Oslo, Norway, will again hold a summer session from June 27 to Aug. 6, for American and Canadian students who have completed their sophomore year.

The university will provide a staff of lecturers and will guarantee the educational standards of the courses. All classes will be conducted in English, and an American dean of students will be included on the administrative staff.

The following courses will be offered in sciences: flora and vegetation, arctic vitamin problems and oceanography.

The humanities courses will consist of: the dawn of Norwegian literature, recent Norwegian literature, government and political institutions, social problems and public health, contemporary Nor-

Rag Editorial Incites Debate

The Nebraska Book Store has made arrangements to meet with Cub Clem, managing editor of The Daily Nebraskan at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

Clem wrote an editorial satire entitled "The Same Old Story" in the Sunday, Feb. 6, Daily Nebraskan concerning University students' problems in purchasing books.

The Nebraska Book Store called Clem over the telephone asking him to meet with a representative of the store. Clem talked with this official this morning. Full details will be learned later.

ISA to Ballot For Sweetheart At Bum's Ball

A Nebraska Independent Sweetheart, to be presented at a spring dance and entered in a national contest, will be chosen from the candidates of organized houses or clubs. Primary balloting will take place at the Bum's Ball, Feb. 18, according to Cecil Middleton, president of ISA.

Organized houses or clubs are invited to submit two to four contestants, any independent girl being eligible. Names of candidates are to be turned in at the ISA mailbox in the basement of the Union.

FROM THE finalists chosen at the Bum's Ball, the winner will be chosen by a committee of prominent Lincoln businessmen. The winner will be presented at a spring dance and her photograph will be sent to the ISA national headquarters. A National Independent Sweetheart will then be chosen at the National ISA convention at Urbana, Ill., April 21 to 23.

The Bum's Ball, to be held Feb. 18 at 9 p. m. in the Ag Union, is sponsored by the ISA. Tickets are 60 cents per person or $1.20 per couple and may be purchased from any ISA council member.

Prizes will be given for the "best-dressed bum of '49."

Anyone interested in the summer session at the University of Oslo should address inquiries to Oslo Summer School Admissions office, St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn.

State Legislature Considers Bills Pertaining to University

Two of the proposed bills pertaining to the University are being considered by the Nebraska state legislature.

Legislative bill 204 relating to the University hospital has been referred to the Miscellaneous Appropriations and Claims committee and is still in committee. The proposed bill provides for the cost of care and treatment of indigent and needy patients treated at the University hospital.

IT ALSO provides for certifying to the auditor of public accounts amounts due from counties charged with such costs and for certifying amounts due to the county clerk of each county having such patients.

The bill concerns a levy to be known as the University Hospital Fund levy, the money raised by such levy being used for the operation and maintenance of the University hospital when appropriated by the legislature.

LEGISLATIVE bill 177 has been heard by the Budget committee and is now on the legislature's general file. This bill proposes the amendment of section 85-125, Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, to prescribe the source and use of the University Cash Fund. It determines what funds shall be deposited with the state treasurer and provides for the retention of the prescribed funds.

Two other bills, legislative bills 282 and 285, relate to University cash funds and are scheduled to be considered Feb. 14.
