What's This?

Joel Bailey, AUF special events chairman, was discovered late Tuesday afternoon rifling the files of The Daily Nebraskan editor's office.

Asked to explain her rather peculiar behavior, she thrust a long list of professors' names under the nose of the editor. After each name was scrawled some illegible notes. A thorough frisking proved Miss Bailey's innocence, other than her having gained possession of an unused list of faculty members.

Miss Bailey commented, "I ain't talkin'," but she finally conceded to give further explanation at a later date. If Miss Bailey talks, the details will appear in Thursday's "Rag."

Husker Grapplers Snare Easy Victory Over K-State

Nebraska wrestlers drubbed Kansas State 20-8 Tuesday night to gain their fourth dual win of the season. The Huskers dropped only two matches.

Lou Caniglia sent the NU matmen off to a flying start by taking a 7-0 win over Ralph Falwell. Caniglia scored with an early takedown, an escape, and a near fall. The remaining two points came via time advantage.

The margin was widened to eight points when Kansas State fortified the 128 pound match.

EARLY POINTS saved Mickey Sparano's win over Marv Fashner in the 136 pound division. Sparano held a three point lead after six minutes, but tired in the final stanza, allowing Fashner to reverse position and draw within a point. A time advantage gave the winner two additional points for a 5-2 edge.

Jack Tamai pushed the Husker lead to 14-0 by taking a 3-2 win over Archie Vernon. An escape and take down in the second period proved to be enough for the verdict.

KANSAS STATE'S first win came in the 155 pound division, when Bill Brown proved to be too much for Nebraska's Bob Russell. Brown was in command all the way in an 8-2 decision.

Charles Lyons, Wildcat 165-pounder, pinned Earl Schneider, in 5:10 for the evening's only fall. Lyons led 4-0 on points at the time.

Husker Herb Reese made his return to the mat with a successful one by decisioning Kansas Frank Solomon 8-4. The match was a crowd pleaser, with the boys putting up an even, tho wild scrap.

Big Mike Dibiase used his large weight edge to advantage in decisioning Bill Clary 4-1. Clary, weighing in at 180, spotted Mike almost 40 pounds.

This Collegiate World

There's one in very crowd. We mean a professor who delights in alternately sneering and cheering at the "younger generation now in college."

One such professor was leaning over his rostrum delivering a dissertation on the mode of talk sported by the younger among us.

"Now what's that silly saying the girls on the campus are in the habit of saying?" he mused to the discomfiture of the coeds in the class.

"NO," shouted a male from the recesses of the back row
