

Husker B Team Cops Win Over Morningside B

The Nebraska "B" team took a 68 to 44 victory over Morningside "B" of Sioux City Tuesday night on the Morningside courts. The Huskers led at half-time by 38 to 18.

The Husker cagers had it all their own way throughout the game. Jim Walsh and Darrell Brandenburg led Husker scorers as they each tipped in 17 markers.

The "B" squad has two remaining games on their schedule as they meet Nebraska Wesleyan "B" at Wesleyan Feb. 26 and play host to York "B" March 5 in their final appearance on the Coliseum maps. The York game will start at 5:45 p. m.

Interdenom Lead To Newman Club

Heading into the homestretch in the Interdenominational supremacy race, the Newman Club is found in first place, leading a tightly packed field. With only badminton, horseshoes and softball remaining the Catholics sport a 27½ point margin over the second place Presbyterian House. The Newman boys picked up valuable points in winning the basketball and ping pong leagues.

All students interested in writing in the Sports Department of the Daily Nebraskan are asked to report to Bob Phelps, Sports Editor, Monday afternoon.

All-City Handball Tourney, to Start

Tony Meyers, physical director, YMCA, has announced the opening of the all-city individual handball championships. Anyone is eligible to play, including students at the University of Nebraska. There will be three classes, A, B and C. Anyone may play in A league. B league is for anyone who has not won a B tourney and C league is for anyone who has not won a C tourney.

The tournament will be played during February and March. Entries are due Monday, Feb. 28, at noon. All games will be played on the Y courts. There is an entry fee of one dollar per man. A doubles tourney will be run off also.

Scarlet Cagers Will Tackle CU Five at Boulder Saturday

Nebraska's league-leading cagers embarked Thursday evening for Boulder where they will meet the University of Colorado Saturday night.

The Huskers squeaked past the Buffs in their previous meeting in Lincoln earlier this month. The tall Colorado five held on to the Scarlet most of the way before succumbing 45-43 in a game marred by a brawl near the finish.

Coach Harry Good gave his men a rest this week following their thrilling win over Missouri Monday night. The Huskers have had close contests in their last three games and the strain began to tell on the squad during the last half of the MU battle. Good decided to show movies Tuesday and let them have Wednesday off altogether.

The Colorado five has been very tough at home this year, having lost only to Missouri and Oklahoma, both games in doubt till the final gun.

Frosty Cox's five dropped a 49-48 decision to the Missourians Saturday night at Boulder. Colorado led until the last 40 seconds when Missouri grabbed a fielder and stalled during dying moments. Missouri Coach Sparky Stalcup said, following the game, that the Tigers were in their best form of the season in the win.

The CU attack will again be spearheaded by Bob Rolander, 6'5" center who troubled the Huskers throughout the last contest. Rolander is one of the top scorers in the conference with a per game average of over ten points.

The Colorado five will average about six-three unless Rod Bell, reserve center, is inserted into the lineup. Bell, a junior, towers to 6'10".

Coach Good said that he will probably go along with the same starters he used against Missouri. This would be Cox and Malacek at the forwards, Whitehead at center, and Cerv and Retherford at the guards.

Gymnasts Host To Invitational Meet Saturday

The third annual Nebraska Invitational Gymnastic Meet promises to be the best one yet. Entries are coming in slowly but Coach Pat Patterson states that the list of contestants should be nearly completed by Friday.

Last year's meet was won by Nebraska with Colorado placing a close second. The Buffaloes of Colorado are again expected to give the Huskers trouble this year. In a dual meet this year, the Buffs nosed out Nebraska 49-46. The race for the title will be a close one again as the Cornhusker team has been strengthened considerably since their last meeting.

Ed Craren, varsity swimmer, has been added to the U. N. trampoline squad. This event doesn't add to the team total, but Craren's presence will bolster depth of the squad.

The meet will be held in the University Coliseum Saturday and the public is cordially invited to attend.
