

WILL THE ANSWER BE "YES" OR "NO?" Nanci Harrison ponders her decision. Miss Harrison enacts the part of Jo in the final University production of the year, "Yes and No." The play, a comedy of many situations, shows the two sides of a young girl's mind. "Yes and No" will be presented Friday and Saturday evening at the Wesleyan Plainsman Theatre. Tickets will be on sale at the box-office before each performance.

University Officials Assure Action On Temple Theater

Productions for 1949-50 Will Proceed as Scheduled

The battle of the Temple reached a turning point yesterday with the disclosure that the administration has at last acted on the situation.

With press, theater and public opinion banded together in the plea for theater rehabilitation, university administrators have decided upon a plan to ease the problem of possibly having no theater next year.

A letter from Comptroller John Selleck to Leroy T. Laase, Chairman of the Speech Department revealed that University authorities are finally agreed on a solution to the theater problem. The letter states:

"This is to advise you that the University will undertake to either have the auditorium at the Temple Theater ready for use or, failing to do this, will agree to underwrite the cost of the Nebraska Theater for the 1949-50 season at a cost of $5,250.00.

"WE ARE proceeding with architectural study for the Temple Theater and expect to secure cost estimates covering the main work that will be required to secure approval of the Fire Marshall to reopen the theater and later a second cost estimate of completely rebuilding and reconditioning the entire theater auditorium area."

Dr. Laase, commenting on the administration move, stated, "The Department of Speech is pleased to have the assurance from the university administration that the University Theater may proceed with its plans for its usual five productions next year. This will be good news, I am confident, to a large number of speech majors who have been uncertain to what the future held for them at the University of Nebraska."

Ag Coeds Will Elect Goddess Of Agriculture

Ag college students will vote Wednesday to choose the 1949 Goddess of Agriculture. Voting will be in the Ag Union from 9 to 5.

The Goddess and her six attendants will be presented April 29 at the Coiton and Denim dance which will open the Farmer's Fair. They will reign over the entire Fair and will be featured in the parade.

The candidates are senior women enrolled in the College of Agriculture who have been active on the campus. A scholastic average of 5.5 is required for all contestants.

The Goddess of Agriculture contestants are:

- | | |
|--------------------|--------------------|
| Jane Barker | Marilyn Nielson |
| Betty Beckner | Helen Ocharner |
| Maria Constantines | Arlene Olson |
| Margaret Foley | Marge Reynolds |
| Doris Heller | Phyllis Ross |
| Jean Hoffman | Donna Runtz |
| Patti Hyland | Wauweta Smith |
| Jo Kellenbarger | Ruth Swanson |
| Lillian Lock | Mary Lou Thomas |
| Amy Mitchell | Margaret Ann Tripp |
| Mavis Musgrave | Lois T. Mickle |

All Ag college students may vote for three of the seniors on the list. The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be Goddess and the six next high will be her attendants.

Nu-Meds to Hear Law Professor

Prof. Frederick J. Ludwig of the College of Law will address members of Nu-Med, medical honorary, at a meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Parlors A and B, Union.

Ludwig will speak on the topic, "Medical Jurisprudence." A topic of importance to medical students, medical jurisprudence is the subject of only 17 clock hours of the entire medical school curriculum.

Coed Counselors Plan Style Show

Spring styles for campus co-eds will be featured at the Coed Counselor Spring Style show Tuesday night. The show will climax the year's activities of the 1948-49 Counselor board.

The event will be held at Hovland-Swanson's from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. and will be under the chairmanship of Mary Helen Mallory, Charm school director.

Models, selected from women's organized houses and groups, will be:

Myra Maspin, Shirley Hahn, Carmen Chritoffel, Marilyn Beyer, Jean Nordgren, Dawn Daggett, Shirley Sidles, Pat Berge, Shirley Baker, Katy Rhodes, Jackie Sorenson, Kathy Seymour, Hannah Schloss, Pat O'Brien, Joanne Bredenberg, Camilla Palmer, Eileen Derieg, Charlene Eggert, Betts Pfeiffer, Alice Sundberg, Alice Harms, Aurelie Langstroth, Marjorie Johnson and June Hornby.

150 Students, Alumni Honor Rev. H. Erck

Over 150 students and alumni attended the annual Gamma Delta banquet held Sunday in honor of Rev. H. Erck's 25 years of service as student pastor on this campus.

Pastor Erck was installed as student in 1924. At that time student Bible meetings were held at Trinity Lutheran parish hall and in the University Temple building. Since that time the group has affiliated with Gamma Delta, national Lutheran young peoples group. Meetings are now being held in the Y. M. C. A. room of the Temple building until the University chapel can be built. Sunday services are now held in the Union.

GM Consultant Talks to ASMC

T. A. Boyd, General Motors research consultant, will speak at the meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Wednesday at 7:15 p. m. in Morrill Hall auditorium.

Preceding Boyd's speech will be a student paper on die-casting, presented by Keith Kittle.

Boyd, who was head of the fuels division of the GM research lab from 1923 to 1947, will speak on "Development and Research in the Auto Industry." Boyd and two other researchers were responsible for discovery of the effects of liquid compounds of lead on "knock" in engines, which paved the way for improvement in automotive and aviation fuels.

During World War II Boyd developed a process for making a new super-fuel called triptane useful in experimental engines.

Members of the student banquet committee were Dick Schleusner, Edith Roessler and Lauren Endorf.

Cosmo Carnival Focused On Sheik, Harem Dancers

An international atmosphere will prevail in the Union ballroom Saturday when the Cosmopolitan club takes over for the annual "Cosmo-Carnival."

"A Nite in a Harem" will bring entertainment from different lands at the command of a real Persian sheik. Slave girls will dance at the beginning of the program, and with the approval of the sheik, other acts will follow.

FIRST ACT on the schedule will bring the famous Volga boatman to the stage. The act is being directed by Paul Dzavil. South America will take over next with dancers doing the tango, rumba and samba.

French cabaret singers will bring a touch of music to the program. From France the scene will shift to America, with an Indian dance. Between the acts will be seen a Harlem Jitterbug couple performing.

DECORATIONS for the stage will be 500 flags of 32 nationalities represented on the campus. Streamers and Chinese lanterns will complete the decorations. At the door, carnival goers will receive balloons and red fezzes.

Dancers will find American and South American music being played by Jerry Mayblins' band. The Carnival is to be held from 9 to 12 p. m. Street clothes or costumes may be worn.

United Nations Collegiate Council Organized at NU

The constitution of the Collegiate Council of the United Nations has been approved by the temporary officers and organizers and has been submitted to the Student Council for final approval.

The purpose of CCUN is to promote interest in and understanding of the United Nations and international affairs on the campus and throughout the state in cooperation with similar organizations throughout the United States.

TEMPORARY OFFICERS will be under the direction of President Claes Ugglia. Other officers include: Bill Derrick, vice-president; Sue Allen, secretary; and Irene Hunter, treasurer.

Activities of CCUN will be divided among five departments. These departments and their temporary chairmen are: publicity, Susie Reed; UNESCO, Bill Edmondson; speakers bureau, Walter Willi and Lynn Hutton; information and research, Alita Zimmerman; international studies, Joanne Buller.

The publicity committee will handle news for The Daily Nebraskan and will conduct polls on international topics. The UNESCO committee will carry on the work formerly handled by that organization as an independent unit. It will consider the possibility of a future UNESCO conference similar to the one held last February.

THE SPEAKERS bureau will be in charge of sending foreign students to speak at state high schools. Hutton will make arrangements through the state organization of high school superintendents for bringing speakers to the high schools. Willi will be in charge of enlisting foreign students to tour the state.

The information and research and international studies department will handle the activities of CCUN along the academic line, cooperating with a political science study group.

The officers and department heads will compose the executive

Herald Entertains Staff Members

Staff members of The Daily Nebraskan and journalism faculty members were entertained by the World Herald at a luncheon Saturday.

Norm Leger, Alan Clem, Fritz Simpson, Irwin Chesen, of The Daily Nebraskan, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Swindler and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Copple, of the School of Journalism, were guests of the Herald. The luncheon, with Herald executives, was followed by a tour of the plant.

board of CCUN. The organization is open to all students who, in the judgement of the executive board, have shown willingness and ability to conform to the purposes of the organization.

THREE FACULTY advisers have been chosen for CCUN. They are S. J. House, political science instructor; Registrar G. W. Rosenlof; and Frank E. Sorensen, chairman of the Department of Educational Services.

The first steps in organizing CCUN were taken early in the year when Rosenlof asked Ugglia to begin planning it. It was decided to delay active organization until after the UNESCO conference to permit concentration of effort on the conference.

Nebraska is one of the few schools of the midwest where CCUN has not been active.

Veterans May Apply for Top ROTC Course

Student veterans of World War II are eligible to apply for the advanced course in the University Army ROTC, Col. Howard J. John announces.

Ex-GI's having one year of continuous federal service are eligible to apply without basic ROTC training. Apply at Room 110 in the Armory.

Students successfully completing the two year program, including a summer camp, receive commissions as second lieutenants in the reserve corps.

A subsistence allowance of $27 plus money under the GI bill will be received. Most uniform costs will be borne by the ROTC. Summer camp cadets receive $75 plus necessities.

Applicants must pass the army general classification test, a physical exam, two years of basic ROTC or one year of continuous federal service, and approval of a board of officers. First AGC test will be given Friday, April 1, at 2 p. m. in Room 206, Armory.

Junior Men!

All junior men with activity points are requested to submit their names to Norm Leger, president of the Innocents Society, before midnight tonight. This step is being taken by the Innocents to make sure that no possible candidates for membership are overlooked. Names should be left in the Innocents mailbox outside the office of The Daily Nebraskan.