

Report Outlines Factors In West O St. Accidents

IN AN EFFORT TO determine the causes and remedies for the high rate of traffic accidents on West "O" street outside of Lincoln, the Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council has prepared a report of the factors contributing to the accidents.

There were 192 accidents reported between Jan. 1, 1946 and Dec. 31, 1948, four of them involving seven fatalities. Seventy of the accidents resulted in 121 injuries.

Just what factors are responsible for the accidents, the report said, can be determined from the statistics compiled by the Bureau of Highways.

THESE STATISTICS show that 51 percent of the total accident experience involved night time drivers. Furthermore, 41 percent of these accidents occurred between the hours of 12 a. m. and 2 a. m. Wednesday and Saturday nights predominating. Saturday night, however, had three times as many accidents as Wednesday. Only 20 accidents were reported in the three-year period on nights other than Wednesday and Saturday.

Of the people involved in the accidents 72 percent lived within Lancaster county. Almost half of the drivers were under 24 years of age.

The fact that West "O" street is used by people going and coming from the numerous amusement places along this highway could account for the above factors.

BUT WHETHER this fact could account for the excessive amount of drinking along this highway, the report can not be sure. Fifteen percent of the drivers in West "O" accidents had been drinking as compared with 4 percent for the state. This high rate would seem to point to the traffic flowing to and from the amusement places. Two out of the four fatal accidents involved drunken drivers.

In summarizing the report of the safety council, one factor would seem to be the cause of most of the accidents. That is, the presence of the amusement places on this highway. This assumption can be substantiated by the following facts: The ages of the drivers, the time, the predominance of Saturday night accidents, and the residence of the drivers.

FURTHERMORE, there is the social pastime of drinking of intoxicating beverages that occurs in such places.

"Admittedly," the report concludes, "the total responsibility for the night time accidents cannot be placed upon these persons attending the pleasure resorts. However, evidence does point to a high degree of responsibility that cannot be ignored. The predominance of liquor in the accidents precludes its omission from the problem."
