

NU Wins Opener, Drops Second Tilt at Iowa State

The jinx which has kept Coach Tony Sharpe's baseballers from sweeping a two-game series held true again at Ames Monday and Tuesday.

Nebraska buried the Cyclones under a 16-hit barrage to take the Monday game 10-3, but dropped the Tuesday encounter 3-2. The split left the NU loop record at three wins and four losses.

Bob Cerv led the attack on two Cyclone pitchers Monday with a triple and two singles in five trips to the plate. The game was close until the sixth inning. Leading 3-0 entering the sixth, Nebraska exploded for four runs to boost their margin to seven runs.

SUCCESSIVE three-baggers by Cerv and Hobe Hayes drove in three runs and sent Cyclone pitcher Hogue to the showers. Cerv's drive sent Del Blatchford and Fritz Hegwood across the plate, with Cerv scoring on Hays' hit.

The Husker's scored single runs in the first, fourth, fifth, and each of the last three innings. Five Scarlet batsmen garnered two or more hits. Besides Cerv, Grogan got three for five; Gloystein two for four, one a double; Hayes two for four; and Novak two for five. Novak hit the day's only home run in the fourth inning with the sacks empty.

Elroy Gloystein was on the mound for the Huskers. He scattered five Iowa State hits to gain the win. Further example of the Nebraska supremacy is shown by the fact that they left 10 runners stranded compared to four for the Cyclones.

IOWA State scored a run in the last half of the ninth in taking their 3-2 win in the second game. The game was a pitching duel between Nebraska's Jim Sandstedt and Cyclone Burgess. The Huskers were held to five hits, and shut out until the ninth inning.

Trailing the Iowans 2-0, as a result of single runs in the first and fifth innings, Nebraska came to life in the top half of the final inning to knot the count. Del Blatchford singled, and Bill Denker poled a homer to score two runs and send the game into the Iowa ninth.

The Cyclone shortstop, Henely, opened the inning with a single, and moved to second on Senne-wald's sacrifice. He went to third as Knox was safe at first on Hay's error. A ground ball hit by Mc-Luen enabled Henely to race home with the winning tally. The little shortstop scored all three Iowa runs.

Lack of a fence around the outfield cost Bob Cerv a possible game-winning homer earlier in the contest. Cerv pounded out a 400-foot drive that was caught by a Cyclone outfielder.
