

University to Dedicate Schulte Memorial at Big Seven Meet

Frederick Ware To Unveil Plaque

BY ROD RIGGS

The dedication of the Henry F. Schulte Memorial Field House will take place during the running of the Big Seven Track and Field meet Saturday afternoon.

The bronze plaque designating the field house as the University's tribute to Schulte will be unveiled in a service to be held between the running of the low hurdles and the mile relays. The time will be about 3:15 p. m.

The plaque, which has been on display at Miller & Paine's and Magee's for a week each, will be fixed to the south wall of the field house and uncovered by Frederick Ware.

THE CEREMONY will start on the north forty-yard line when six friends of Coach Schulte will assemble, surrounded by Tassels, Corn Cobs, Innocents, N Club and the University band. At this time, the speaker, Frederick Ware, managing editor of the Omaha World Herald, former athlete at the University, and a personal friend of Coach Schulte, will make the dedicatory address.

Standing with Ware will be Ed Wier, Nebraska's track coach and former varsity athlete under Schulte; Fritz Daly, alumni secretary; Robert Devoe, board of regents; Dr. Rosenlof, director of admissions; and Dr. Condra, all close personal friends of the coach.

When the dedication has been completed, the group will move to the south entrance of the Field House and Ware will remove the covering from the plaque.

AFTER THE running of the relay, the Innocents society will present a bound volume of letters from old friends of the coach to Mrs. Schulte, or in the event of her absence, to Coach Wier for her. It is at this time also that the Omaha World Herald will present the World Herald trophy to the man who is voted the outstanding athlete in the meet. The honor was won for this year by Rollin Prather, K-State weightman.

The activities for the afternoon will begin with a parade at 1 p. m. starting at the Temple building and ending at the West Stadium. The parade will go from the Temple down R street to 16th, south to O street, down O to 10th and north to the stadium. Participating in the parade will be the band, followed by the N Club, the Tassels and the Cobs. They will be met at the stadium by the Yell Squad.

Henry F. Schulte was a member of the University athletic staff from 1919 until his retirement in 1938. He died in 1944.

THE HENRY F. SCHULTE Memorial plaque will be unveiled at the Big Seven track meet Saturday by Fred Ware of the Omaha World Herald. The plaque will be placed on the south wall of the field house which will be named in honor of Coach Schulte. Unveiling ceremonies will take place between the running of the low hurdles and the mile relay. Tassels, Corn Cobs, Innocents and the N-club will participate in the dedication.

Howard Selected To Preside Over Interim Council

Four Juniors Will Head Temporary Government

Student government will be in the hands of Roswell Howard next fall. He and three other junior members of the now disbanded Student Council were elected last night to head the proposed interim council.

As president, Howard will lead representatives of nine campus organizations in setting up a new Student Council.

LOUISE McDILL was named vice president of the interim group. Fred Chael and Phyllis Cadwallader were also selected to form a temporary student government.

The four hold-over members were chosen by the senior and graduate members of the past Council at a 5 p. m. meeting in the Union.

The two men and two women were elected through a plan of a faculty-student committee to set up the interim council. They

Union Plans Awards Fete This Evening

Daly Will Be Main Speaker

Union awards, guest speakers and new board officers will all be featured at the annual Union awards banquet tonight at 6:15, in Parlors A and B.

Fritz Daly, Alumni Association secretary, will be the main speaker of the evening. Duane Lake, Union manager, will also talk.

OLD AND NEW board members, faculty and administration representatives, all Union committee chairmen and presidents or heads of all campus activities will attend the banquet. Invitations have also been issued to all faculty and alum Union board members.

Official recognition of Union award recipients will be made at the banquet. Keys will be presented to this year's board members. Special recognition for the distinguished service medals awarded to Lee Best and Herb Reese will also be given.

The retiring Union board will present Mrs. Florence Bates, retiring Union board president, with a gift for her service this year.

New officers who will serve next year will be announced after dinner. They were selected by a nominating committee and will be voted upon at a meeting of the new board previous to the banquet.

will study all types of student government and especially the constitution approved in the recent Constitutional Assembly. The results of the group will be submitted to an all-student vote during the year.

CHAEI WAS recommended for the position of Judiciary chairman of the interim council in a motion by Harvey Davis. The motion asked that he be given that job and that he, along with Howard and Miss McDill, would become a student representative to the Faculty Senate. The motion was unanimously passed.

The interim council will begin operations in the fall, when student organizations invited to participate in the group will elect their representatives to work with the four holdover members.

Two Cadets Get Commissions

Walter G. Palmer, electrical engineering senior, and John W. Plankow, arts and sciences senior, are among advanced ROTC students approved by President Truman for commission and active duty flight training in the U. S. Air Force, according to a recent issue of the "Army and Navy Journal."

Palmer is commanding officer of the University chapter of the Arnold Society, air force ROTC honorary, and is a member of Scabbard and Blade, Gamma Lambda and Acacia. He has been a member of the rifle team for the past three years, and as captain of the 1947-48 team won All-American honors in the national meet.

Plankow served as national commander for Pershing Rifles last year and is a member of Scabbard and Blade.

All houses planning to provide room and board for a displaced person next year must send a representative to a committee meeting today at 4 p. m. in the Union. Some displaced persons applications are here to be considered.

Edmondson Will Direct NUCWA

Bill Edmondson will direct the activities of NUCWA during the coming year. He was elected president of the new UN organization at a meeting Tuesday.

Other officers elected were Bob Stevens, vice president, and Irene Hunter, secretary-treasurer.

New department chairmen are: Sue Allen, UNESCO; Sara Fulton, international studies; Alita Zimmerman, information and research; Lynn Hutton and Walter Willi, speakers bureau; and Susan Reed, publicity.

BOTH THE departments of international studies and of information and research will cooperate with the department of UNESCO during the coming year. In the speakers bureau, Hutton will direct the American student speakers program, and Willi will be in charge of foreign student speakers. Under the bureau's program, University students are sent to Lincoln and outstate high schools and other organizations to speak.

Preceding the election of officers and department heads, Edmondson reported on the UNESCO conference. Edmondson and Miss Allen were the student delegates to the Cleveland conference this spring.

"The purpose of UNESCO," Edmondson said, "is to bring the UNESCO program down to each individual in the country. UNESCO puts a great deal of stock in the individual."

"THE ORGANIZATION has a lot of idealistic phrases—'War begins in the minds of men'—and they really believe it" he said. The national UNESCO commissions have two duties, Edmondson said. The first is to concentrate opinion in their respective countries and to follow the policies favored by the people. The second function, he continued, is the reverse of the first. The delegates come back from the international conference and attempt to see what programs can be carried out in accordance with the ideas expressed at the conference, he said.

Edmondson described the program of the Cleveland conference which was carried on in three phases, the plenary session, group meetings on special fields and section meetings.

NEBRASKA'S UNESCO conference, Edmondson said, was discussed at the "Education for World Community" meeting. "The Nebraska conference," he said, "is one way of promoting understanding. The people who participated gained the most. They discovered that such a conference is extremely difficult to control."

"The one thing I think was perhaps overlooked at the Cleveland conference," Edmondson said, "was the way UNESCO faces two different worlds with the non-participation of Russia. We do, however, have a 'toe hold' under the Iron Curtain."

"The main Russian opposition to the UNESCO program was the use of mass media to impose Western philosophy on the rest of the world. The Russians feared the dumping on the world of Hollywood culture," he commented.

Edmondson replaces Claes Uggla who acted as temporary chairman of NUCWA and who helped to set up the new organization.
