

'Always Chasing Rainbows'?— Learn Pledge Ribbon Colors

Advance and show your colors—is she friend or foe? The answer lies in the color of the ribbon worn by this year's sorority pledges.

Coeds may be seen furtive glancing at each others' ribbons in passing to determine whether to speak or not, depending on the similarity of the color of the decorations.

Such social errors as trying to date the girl in the next seat in biology, only to find she's a sorority sister of your pin mate, may be avoided by learning the color code.

To enlighten those not already forced to learn the colors by such situations as above, here is the key to the mystery:

- Alpha Chi Omega, Red and Green.
- Alpha Omicron Pi, Red.
- Alpha Phi, Silver and Bordeaux.
- Alpha Xi Delta, Gold and Double Blue.
- Chi Omega, Red and Yellow.
- Delta, Delta, Delta, Silver, Gold and Blue.
- Gamma Phi Beta, Brown and Tan.
- Kappa Alpha Theta, Black and Gold.
- Kappa Delta, Green and White.
- Kappa Kappa Gamma, Navy and Blue.
- Pi Beta Phi, Wine and Blue.

Religious Group To Hear Indian Officer Tuesday

Major Alec J. Billing, a native of Australia and an ex-officer of the Indian army, will speak to the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship group Tuesday at 7 p. m. in Parlor A of the Student Union. All students and faculty members are invited.

Before receiving his commission, Major Billing served as a missionary in the Bombay area of India from 1932 till the outbreak of World War II. When war was declared, Major Billing was commissioned an officer in the Indian army and now holds the permanent rank of Major.

During his army career, Billing served in Iraq, Iran, Syria, Palestine and Egypt. He also spent 16 months with Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army in Italy. Major Billing stayed in the Indian army until May, 1948, to aid in the division of Hindustan and Pakistan. He plans to go back to India early next year as a missionary.

Meeting Called For Debaters

First meeting for those interested in intercollegiate debate will be held Thursday, Sept. 22, at 7:15 in room 201 in the Temple building.

The meeting will cover all phases of debate for the coming year, including a freshman program.

The debate team will be under the directorship of three men this year: Bruce Kendall, Don Kline, and Don Olson. Olson expressed hope for a large turnout at the meeting, saying "a larger squad can be handled this year than ever before because three instructors are available."

The national intercollegiate debate question this year will be: "Resolved, that the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries."

The first intercollegiate out-of-state conference will be held Nov. 18-19 at the University of Colorado.

Sabatka Attends Co-op Meeting In Austin, Texas

Edward F. Sabatka, representing Pioneer Co-op, recently attended the Fourth Annual North American Student Co-operative League conference in Austin, Tex. He is a board member of Pioneer Co-op.

The meeting was held for mutual exchange of ideas between students interested in the co-operative movement, and a discussion of how to better conditions of campus co-ops, according to Wendell Walker, president of NASCL.

Students attending the conference represented 50,000 members in campus co-operatives in 42 states.

Council . . .

a statement about the dual purpose of this year's Council—to direct regular student affairs and to write a new Student Council constitution—will be explained by Howard.

Holdovers.

Holdover members of the council, elected last spring by retiring members, Louise McDill, vice president of the group, and Phyllis Cadwallader and Fred Chael, will also be introduced. All new representatives will introduce themselves.

At a recent meeting of the Council officers and holdover members, the students and sponsors directed that the group be called the Student Council instead of Interim Council, the body's name since last spring.

Council Plan.

The plan for organizational representatives to the Council was offered last spring by senior members and a faculty subcommittee on student government, headed by Dr. Elliot. It was to replace the disbanded Student Council, erased
