Part of the funds will be sent to the University of Sind, Karachi, Pakistan, to build a student hostel. Approximately $3,000 will be earmarked for the special project.

Violin Soloist To Appear at Concert Nov. 20

Students will be able to obtain, without charge, tickets for the performance of Dorothea Powers, violinist, who will appear with the University Symphony orchestra, Sunday, Nov. 20, at the Union ballroom.

According to Mrs. Genene Grimm, director of Union Activities, any student or faculty member may procure tickets at the Union Activities office by showing his ID card.

Miss Powers will provide several solo renditions accompanied by the orchestra, under the direction of Emanuel Wishnow, conductor.

Miss Powers' instrument, a Stradivarius, bearing the date 1711, is acclaimed by many experts as one of the three finest in the world.

Learning to play at the age of three, under the supervision of her mother, a former piano teacher, and her father, a director of a college music department, Miss Powers learned the fundamentals at an early date.

Gaining an artistic expression in violin at the age of six, she wound up an intensive music education with four years of study under the famous instructor, Leopold Auer.

Her career up to date has included more than 500 appearances throughout the United States, with 60 of them at universities and colleges.

Youth Leader Will Address YW, Panhell

Janet Cozens, British Girl Guide training expert, will speak at a joint meeting of the YW and Panhellenic Monday at 5 p. m. at Ellen Smith hall on "Woman's Eye View from Lincoln to London."

Miss Cozens, who arrived in Lincoln Wednesday for a week stay, is visiting the United States under the auspices of the national Girl Scout organization.

Since coming to this country during the summer, Miss Cozens has been assisting with training courses for adults and observing Girl Scout troops in action in various sections of the country.

Experienced Leader

A teacher by profession, the British woman has had long experience in Girl Guiding. She has taught courses at the British national training school of the Girl Guide association of Foxlease. This summer she was an instructor at the international conference at Edith Macy, the Girl Scout national training school for adults near Pleasantville, N. Y.

Miss Cozens' visit in America was arranged through the Scout interchange of personnel plan which has been in operation for several years. A number of United States Girl Scouts workers have

Fund Slice To Remain On Campus

DP students on this campus will share in contributions to the AUF Week drive, Nov. 7-14.

Approximately $500 will be earmarked from fund drive totals for the displaced persons brought to Nebraska this fall.

The money will be kept on the campus to provide accessible cash to the DP students for laundry, food, clothing and books. Tuition is provided by the University and student houses and groups pledged housing last spring.

The DP drive began on the campus last year under the sponsorship of the Student Council, YM and YW CA and the Religious Welfare council. It won the whole-hearted approval of the University administration and was successfully carried through by enthusiastic student response.

The allocation of AUF funds for use by the displaced persons has been supported by Chancellor Gustavson and the administrative officials of the University.

The portion of contributions for DPs was announced today by Ted Gunderson, AUF director. Funds will also be given to the World Student Service fund for use in building a student hostel in Karachi, Pakistan, and to the Community Chest.

$3000 will go to the Pakistan hostel, a special project through WSSF. Approximately $2000 will go to the Chest, which returns $8,000 or four times that amount, to the University YM and YWCA programs for students.

No specific goal has been set for the drive. AUF officers consider the drive a direct appeal to students to sacrifice as much as they can to charity agencies in this one campus charity drive of the year.

also visited in foreign countries. The plan is made possible by the Juliette Lowe World Friendship Fund of the Girl Scouts of the United States.

Scout Convention

Following the national Scout convention in Milwaukee in late November where she will be a speaker, Miss Cozens will return to her home in Buckinghamshire, England.

Miss Cozens is a graduate of the London University Institute of Education.

RAG EATS WORDS—Daily Nebraskan Editor Cub Clem solemnly goes about the duties of getting the Mueller Carillon tower ready for its dedication ceremony Friday night. Council Committee Heads Report on Work, Projects

Committees of the Student Council gave their reports in council meeting Wednesday afternoon to bring the council's business up-to-date.

Shirley Allen, corresponding secretary, said that the projected all-Big 7 convention of Student Councils met with approval from some of the Universities contacted. The council voted to set a date for the convention, to be held on the Nebraska campus next spring.

The elections committee, headed by Louise McDill, brought up the matter of Junior-Senior class elections, which are to be held Nov. 19. Several plans were suggested for the election, among them one to set a minimum number of votes cast. If the minimum was not reached, the election would be void. Another plan was to have an election based upon a percentage of the class.

A third plan was the possibility of having a mass meeting of the junior class and of the senior class, and then have the elections there. The matter was referred to the committee on elections for further consideration.

Gene Berg reported that the faculty had approved the price limit of $1,500 for a dance band for a University function. Berg also said that the committee would welcome any suggestions from students regarding the policy of big name bands for school dances.

Business Houses Contribute

The DP's are being well cared for, thanks to Lincoln business houses, according to Phyllis Cadwallader, who said that the eight DP students have received scholarships from the board of Regents, some of the local department stores have promised to clothe them while the bookstores are supplying them with study needs.

The matter of the National Students' Association was tabled indefinitely. Although it was reported that some other schools were very much in favor of the organization, the council declined to take any definite action.

A constitution of the University of Nebraska Skiers was brought up to be reviewed and voted upon. It was referred to the judiciary committee, who will confer with the faculty sponsors and report to the council.

Also discussed was a suggestion of the merits of a quarter system in opposition to the semester system, and the possibility of a student rating of courses and instructors.

IVCF to Discuss Gospel Thursday

A student participation program centered around the theme, "Great Words of the Gospel," will be sponsored by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship Thursday evening. Those taking part will be Gordon Lucht, Helen Nelson and John Peterson.

The meeting will be held in the Union, Room 315 at 7:30.

Special music will include a vocal quartet number by Bryan Johnson, Harold Kranz, Norman Holmberg and Warren Berggren.

Pre-Rally Will Arouse N.U. Homecoming Spirit

Friday night may be the command performance, but Thursday night pre-rally promises to top the bill in the show of Homecoming spirit.

Opening the week-end festivities, the pre-rally celebration will take place in front of the Union at 7:15 p. m., with Yell King Frank Piccolo and his squad rousing students throughout campus.

Hanging of the Jayhawk

The traditional hanging of the symbol of the Homecoming game opponent, this year the KU Jayhawk, will highlight the rally. The Jayhawk will be hung, with proper ceremonies, in front of the Union, as a climax to the rally.

The big show will continue Friday night with the unveiling of house decorations at 6 p. m. Again house display chairmen are reminded that lights must be turned off between 6:30 and 7:45 p. m. during the Carillon tower dedication ceremonies or they will be disqualified from competition.

Displays may then be operated the remainder of the evening so that judging may take place.

Paul Weltchek, Homecoming celebration chairman, asks that all organized houses turn in their display expense list to him at 1345 R by Thursday. Expenses should not have exceeded the limit of $50.

Friday Rally Begins at 8 p. m.

The Friday night rally will begin at 8 p. m. in front of the Union, rather than at 7:30 p. m. as previously announced. Students attending the tower dedication are asked to report to the Union where the Yell squad, Tassels and Corn Cobs will begin the parade.

Along with the 108-piece University band in full dress uniform, ralliers will parade down R to 16th and on down sorority and fraternity row to Vine and over to the bell tower site.

A large platform and backdrop of University symbols will provide space for the yell squad to lead cheers on the south side of the tower.

Band members and a block of Tassels and Corn Cobs will stand directly in front of the platform with the rally crowd behind them.

Every member of the varsity football squad will be introduced to the crowd, and short speeches will be delivered by Coach Bill Glassford and other officials.

Five Pep Queen candidates will be presented to students as a climax to the rally. These five girls were nominated by members of Tassels and candidates identity will not be disclosed until their presentation at the rally. The all-campus election will be held in the Union lobby and Coliseum immediately following the rally until 10 p. m. Students must present their ID cards to cast ballot.
