Activities Ticket Deadline Dec. 6

Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski announced Wednesday that there would be one extra day to exchange faculty and student football tickets for all winter and spring sports.

The day picked for the final exchange will be Tuesday, Dec. 6. To accommodate those exchanging tickets, the coliseum ticket office will be open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m., including the noon hour.

Fem Fun

The winner of the 1949 WAA intramural volley ball tournament is Alpha Omicron Pi.

Intramural competition in Nebraska ball started Wednesday. All sororities that participate, should watch the bulletin board in Grant Memorial for notice as to when to play.

Rifle club practices start Friday at the Military Science building from 4 to 6 p.m. Another group will meet at the same time Wednesday.

Remaining IM Wrestlers Move Into Second Round

Three individual champions moved to the second round of the IM wrestling tourney Thursday night.

Don Rauh, Sigma Nu, won his first match by forfeit over Edee, Beta Theta Pi, in the 167 pound class while Ed Lane, 147 pound champion pinned Bob Dawson, Sigma Chi, and Dan Vermillion won by forfeit from ATO Ed Cook in the 137 pound division.

Feature match of the evening was fought when Charlie Toogood, All-Big Seven Husker tackle and member of Phi Delta Theta, pinned Wayne "The Bear" Handshy, Phi Gamma Delta.

Handshy, tackle on the frosh squad this year, kept Toogood on even terms until 4:32 of the match when the North Platte junior won the fall.

Another match between former Husker gridders resulted in a win for Dick Goeglein, Beta Sig. A tackle on Bill Glassford's varsity this year, Goeglein pinned Frank Collopy, ATO, in 4:45. Collopy played fullback under Patsy Clark.

Final 'Winners' Count Finds Tie For First

National football prognosticators are looking to their laurels this week as the final percentages of six intrepid Daily Nebraskan grid guessers are being posted.

Two stalwarts from last year's crystal-ball addicts, Cub Clem and Fritz Simpson, finished the 1949 guessing campaign in a tie for first place with percentages of .773, a mark far superior to those posted by most syndicated sports columnists.

The Daily Nebraskan competition was close all the way.

Before the final week's selections, Clem and Jerry Warren, the sports editor, were tied for top honors. Clem picked seven out of ten winners while Warren fouled up to tab but six right. But Simpson, closing fast from two games out, hit nine selections on the head to equal Clem's mark.

Tied with Warren for third place honors was Jack Donovan of the athletic publicity office. Their percentage was .761. Harlan Beideck, of the Lincoln Journal, and Jerry Ewing, news editor of the Rag, tied for cellar honors with .727.

In 1948, Clem beat Simpson by two games with an average of .820.

Final 1949 standings:

Expert	Won	Lost	Pct.
Clem	68	20	.773
Simpson	68	20	.773
Donovan	67	21	.761
Warren	67	21	.761
Beideck	64	24	.727
Ewing	64	24	.727

32 Initiated Into N-Club Wednesday

The N-men of the University initiated 32 men into their organization Wednesday night at the Coliseum, inaugurating a new era in Husker athletic tradition.

A new type of initiation was instituted this year by the N-club. For the new initiates the new ritual is less painful but possibly a trifle more exciting.

The pledges were required to wear the characteristic symbols of their sport with their N-sweaters for the three days prior to initiation. The boys carried football helmets, basketballs, baseball bats, track shoes and other types of athletic gear to their classes.

Bill Mueller, president of the club, said the purpose of the new initiation is "to focus the attention of the student body on the "N" club as an organization which will take an active part in campus life, as well as to make the "N" club meaningful to its members.

Trackmen and gymnasts ran into the most trouble obeying the new requirements. Al Dunavan, gymnastic letterman, was loaded down with two sets of parallel bars.

Leonard Kehl, pole vault letter winner, had trouble trying to carry his pole up to a second floor classroom.

- Those initiated were:
- Football—Paul Kipper.
 - Basketball—Joe Malecek, Bob Pierce and Don Stacy (student manager).
 - Track—Ezret Aydin, Owen Brainard, Orville Glass, Leonard Kehl, Richard Meissner and Warren Monson.
 - Baseball—Robert Camp, Don Hays, Jack Helmsing and Clyde Luther (student manager).
 - Swimming—Ed Craren, Bill Greer, Tom Harley, George Hill, Ted Kanamine and Bob Phelps.
 - Wrestling—Ken Brown, Louis Caniglia, Bob Russell, Harold Giffland, Earl Schneider, Don Strasheim and Al Johnson.
 - Tennis—Jamie Curran, Don MacArthur.
 - Gymnastics—Art Hillman and Al Dunavan.
 - Golf—Steve Flansburg.
