

Union Plans, 'Unionology' Examinations

With the advent of exam week, one of the largest entertainment programs of the Union will be launched.

A special Unionology Exam Schedule which "may be followed by all students in their spare time," has been planned by Union staff members to allay the tensions of over-time studies.

Gene Grim, Union Activities director, announced that the schedule has offered "a variety of special courses designed to provide all types of the best entertainment."

Included in the program are movies, dancing, special music, craft shop instruction and several other courses. During each day of the next two weeks, there will be some activity offered.

Following is the schedule set up by the staff, listing the "course offerings," when they may be taken, and where, in the Union, they may be found.

Cribology 101—every day for the next two weeks, from 7:30-10:30 p.m. Cornerib. Comedy 112—Wednesday, Jan. 18. Friday, Jan. 20; Monday, Jan. 23; Wednesday, Jan. 25. Union Lounge.

CRAFTS 82—Wednesday, Jan. 18; Tuesday, Jan. 24; Wednesday, Jan. 25; Thursday, Jan. 26; Friday, Jan. 27. Room 12.

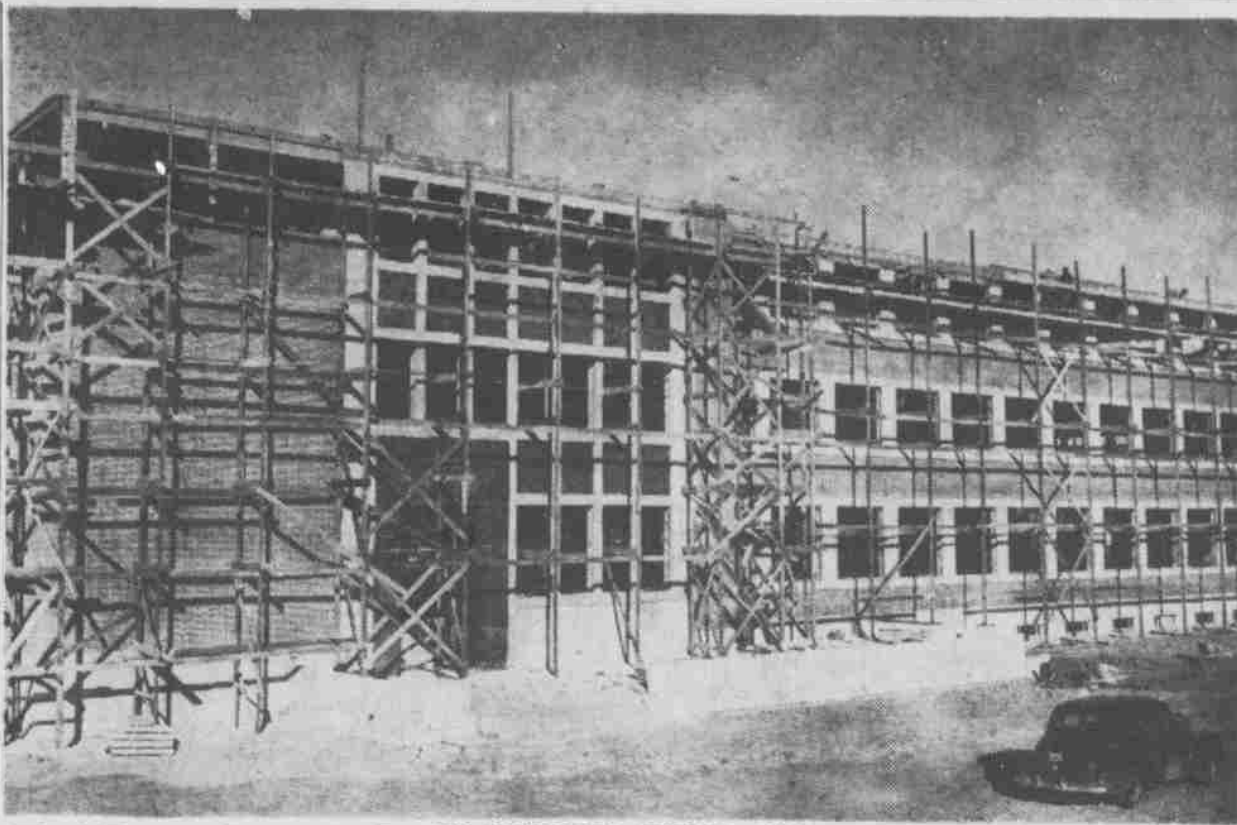

Instruction in the craft shop will include leathercraft, figurings, woodwork and metalwork.

Beside those subjects, specified above, are ping pong, bridge and other forms of relaxation.

Union to Sponsor 'Record Ramble'

Dancing to records and program service will be the entertainment included in the "Record Ramble" to be held at the Union ballroom, Saturday evening, Jan. 14, following the Huskers' cage contest with Iowa State.

Official time for the affair, which is free, is 9-12 p.m. Refreshments, including cokes and popcorn, will be available.

Friday the 13th Casts Gloom on NU Campus

The jinx is on you! Unless you are one of the lucky few whose horoscope says Friday the 13th is your lucky day, beware. All sorts of bad things can happen to you today.

The faculty even recognizes Friday the 13th as a bad day and has waited until the beginning of next week to start exams. Woe be to the students whose teachers have assigned quizzes for the day. Instructors, if you notice that the papers are exceptionally poor, please remember the date.

Many people have wisely left Friday the 13th vacant, as far as activities are concerned. The Union has nothing planned. Fraternities have scheduled their formal for Saturday instead of Friday. Even Gene Autry chose Thursday for his performance.

Defying all danger signs, Pub board will interview hopeful prospects for staff members of The Daily Nebraskan and Corn Shucks. Applicants, we hope your horoscope tells you that Friday the 13th is your lucky day.

EE BUILDING UNDER CONSTRUCTION—The University's latest building project, the new Electrical Engineering building, is shown above at its present stage of construction. Workmen are being forced along at a slow pace due to the wintry weather, but are nearing completion of the outer brickwork, and beginning inside. No date has been set for the project's completion.

Nebraska ROTC Society Initiates

Ten students were initiated into the association of the Red Guidon, R.O.T.C. field artillery honorary society, at the first initiation on this campus since 1943, Tuesday.

The society initiation was conducted by pre-war members. Initiates are James Doyle, Rolland Egger, Ralph Hahn, Richard Meissner, Edward Pullen, James Wroth, Daniel Johns, Chaim Farber, Donald Snowdon, Capt. James Kelly, faculty adviser.

Officers elected after the initiation were James Wroth, commanding officer; Richard Meissner, executive officer; Edward Pullen, secretary; Chaim Farber, treasurer; Daniel Johns, sergeant-at-arms.

Next Semester Park Permits Ready Jan. 16

Students desiring campus parking next semester must make application for permits, beginning Monday, Jan. 16.

Jim Stoddart, student council member in charge of the campus parking committee, reported that office hours for permit issuance has been established on Mondays from 4-6 p.m. and Wednesdays from 3-4 p.m., at the police department in the West Stadium.

These hours will be maintained for the first two weeks of issuance. Supplementary hours during other days of the week, in room 311 of the Union, will be announced later.

Stoddart reminded that motorists must bring both their auto registrations and student I.D. cards. Cost of each sticker is 25 cents. He emphasized also that certificate titles are not accepted in place of the auto registration.

Those students who have already received a permit previously this year, will not be required to obtain one for the remainder of the year.

Allen, Simpson Head Work on Union Addition

Sue Allen and Fritz Simpson have been named co-chairmen of the Union Advancement committee, organized to consider the possibility of building an addition to the present Union building, following a meeting of the committee Wednesday night.

The committee also decided at the Wednesday session to expand its present membership of 14 University students.

The new co-chairmen will be among five members of an executive council, which will contact the administration on various problems which may arise. The other three members to serve on the council will be appointed by Simpson, Merle Stalder, Paul committee.

Fourteen members are currently working on the project. They are: Sue Allen, Blake Cathro, Cub Clem, Jack De Wulf, Roz Howard, Gene Johnson, Harry Kimbriel, Hattie Mann, Bob Reynolds, Mary Ellen Schroeder, Fritz Simpson, Merle Stalder, Paul Weltchek and Walter Willi.

Organization of the committee resulted from a conference with Union Director Duane Lake, who said that the Union addition was needed, but could come only upon approval of the students themselves.
