

Glassford to Remain at Nebraska Student Ralliers Back NU Mentor

Local Red Cross Chapter Names NU Coed to Board

For the first time in the chapter's history, a University coed has been named to the board of directors of the Lancaster County chapter of the American Red Cross.

The student board member is Audrey Rosenbaum, present Red Cross college unit president.

Commenting on Miss Rosenbaum's appointment, Harold Hill, chapter director, pointed out that the Red Cross chapter was very happy about the important part the college unit is playing in local Red Cross.

"The enthusiasm and spirit the college students add to the unit's work," said Hill, "is extremely encouraging to the older members of the chapter."

"Genuine Interest"

Hill stated that it is inspiring to sell the genuine interest students display in assuming leadership in such work.

Besides her duties as college unit president, Miss Rosenbaum is a member of the "Y" cabinet, co-chairman of the Rocky Mountain student conference for 1950, and vice president of Sigma Delta Tau.

The board of directors is the policy making body for Lancaster county. Meetings are held once a month.

College Participation

According to the annual report made by the county chapter, hundreds of university students have participated this year in the various fields of entertainment, water safety, first aid and motor service.

Through auditions held at the beginning of the first semester, talent was enlisted and programs were given at the Veterans hospital for patients. Programs were also taken to hospitals and orphanages in Lincoln. Two bus loads of carolers entertained during the holiday season.

As a committee, members served as instructors at the Saturday morning swimming programs for community youth at Northeast and Lincoln High school pools. They served at Student Health.

Motor Service

The University Motor corps completed detailed training and made the college unit self-supporting in the matter of transporting their entertainers to various places. College members also assumed regular driving assignments in taking crippled children to a clinic for handicapped children.

Miss Rosenbaum will retire as president of RCCU until following election of officers at a meeting Saturday. Nominations will be made by the present officers.

Russian Movie, 'Great Glinka,' YM Film Fare

"The Great Glinka," a Russian film with English sub-titles, will be presented by the University Y. M. C. A. on Feb. 3 and 4.

The movie will be shown both evenings at 8 p. m. in Love Library auditorium.

"The Great Glinka" was written and directed by Lev Arnshtam. The musical arrangements for the show were written by Vissarion Shebalin, director of the Moscow conservatory. The choir and ballet of the Bolshoy theater produce renditions of the music.

Boris Chirkov as the composer, Mikhail Glinka, stars in the film which relates the story of Glinka's life, from his childhood to the time of his composing and producing his first opera, "Ivan Susanin." A full-dress presentation of the opera climaxes the film.

"The Great Glinka" has been judged by critics as one of the best screen biographies of composers made. The National Board of Review of motion pictures has rated it among its selected pictures.

4-H to Choose 1950 Officers

Election of officers for the coming year will be the main business of the 4-H club at a meeting Thursday, Feb. 2 at 7:30 p. m. in the Ag Union recreation room.

Retiring president, Marilyn Boettger has announced the following slate of nominations:

President, Eugene Robinson and Clayton Yeutter; secretary, Doris Eberhardt, Ralph Hill and JoAnn Skelton; treasurer, Dean Eberpacher, Margaret Tefft, and Steve Eberhardt.

Nominations for committee chairmen: song chairman, Lois Wild, Alice Anderson and Joyce Schroeder; program chairman, Bob Watson, Marilyn Bamesberger and Carroll Christensen; publicity chairman, Joan Meyer, Joyce Kuehl and Dick Hoven-dick.

Additional nominations will be accepted at the time of the meeting.

The program of the meeting will feature Duane Seilin, Nebraska International Farm Youth Exchange student, who will speak on his summer in Finland.

Tryouts to Close For Style Show

Thursday marks the last day that Home Economics students may try out for the Home Ec style show to be presented Thursday, Feb. 23. Tryouts are held in the banquet room of the Foods and Nutrition building from 4 to 5 p. m.

Students may model any garment that they have constructed, either in class or at home.

The style show, sponsored by the Home Ec club, is presented annually. Students in Costume Design 123 create the show.

Annette Stoppotte is chairman for the style show this year.

'Daily' Calls For Office Secretary

The Daily Nebraskan is in need of a secretary for the remainder of the semester.

This secretarial job is a paid position and requires only two or three hours work each week day afternoon.

Any student, male or female, with a working knowledge of keeping files and bookkeeping is eligible for the position.

Full details may be learned by inquiring at the Daily Nebraskan office, basement, Union.

Vandalism in Book Nook Hits New High; Union Loss $174

Vandalism has shown its ugly face at the Union.

Books, valued at $174 have been taken from the Book Nook during the first semester, according to Union officials.

It was announced that a total of 63 volumes are missing, including biographies, plays, poetry, short stories, non-fiction and fiction.

It was the largest single loss the Union has yet suffered due to thievery during its 12 years of existence.

Evidently the stealing has taken place at various intervals since the beginning of the school year. The nook had just been replenished by new additions to the collections.

Officials believe that persons guilty of the offense, are old violators.

Over 60 Stolen

Members of the Union house and hospitality committee said that the number taken fell only three short of the 70 new books provided just last fall.

The Nook features the most popular of up to date books and magazines that have been especially chosen to satisfy college students.

New books furnished included such books as "The White Tower," "Inside USA," "Short Stories of Katherine Mansfield," "The Snake Pit," and "Anna Karina."

Many contributions have been made by various organizations. A recent donor was InterVarsity Christian Fellowship.

Most of the fund appropriated especially for the service for students was made possible by the Elizabeth Seacrest Hardy fund which originally allocated $1,200 for it.

Rules

Rules designed to prevent any abuse of Nook privileges were posted last September by the Union committee.

Those who used the room were urged to remember the following restrictions.

1. The Book Nook is for recreation, not studying.
2. All books and coats should be checked and not taken into the Nook.

Ag Coed to Study At Detroit School

Laverne Acker will leave Saturday to attend Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit, Mich., this coming semester.

The University is allowed to send two students to the school each year. It is a Child Development and Family Relations school, which is Miss Acker's major. Her credits earned at Merrill-Palmer will be transferred back to the University to allow her to graduate from here in the spring.

Miss Acker is a member of Mortar Board, past president of Ag YWCA, a member of Omicron Nu, Phi U. and the AUF advisory board.

Builders Plan 1950 Calendar Girl Show

The months of the year will come to life Feb. 18 when NU Builders present their 12 "Calendar Girls" in a 12-part revue.

From the "Calendar Girls" presented in the show, the audience will select the "Girl of the Year." The winning coed will be revealed in a full-page spread in the March Corn Shucks.

Based on the Builders' publication, The Nebraska Calendar, a memorandum book with varied pictures of campus scenes, the "Calendar Girls" will each depict a month of the year in a show of seasonal scenes, songs and humor.

They will be chosen by a board of three faculty judges from coeds nominated on the basis of ten calendars sold. Candidates may be entered by a women's or men's organization or by an individual Calendar salesman, one entrant for every ten books.

Judges.

Judges will be Dr. Floyd Hoover, assistant registrar; Dr. Lloyd Weaver, botany professor, and William Hice, journalism instructor.

Coeds will be judged on appearance and personality. They will be assigned a month to represent the show committee, composed of Builders members. The "Girl of the Year" will be named by audience balloting at the close of the "Calendar Girl" show.

Houses, organizations or individuals interested in selling the Calendar, priced at $1 a copy, may check out the date-books in Room 308, Union, any afternoon. Nominations for "Calendar Girls" must be handed in at the same office before 6 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 15.

Calendarists which have been sold thus far by Builders members or house representatives will be counted towards the ten sales necessary to nominate a candidate.

Show Feb. 18

The "Calendar Girls" show will be held after the basketball game dance. The revue will be emceed on Feb. 18, in the Union ballroom in connection with a Union by Bill Dugan, Harris Carnaby and George Wilcox.

Costumes typical of the 12 months will be worn by the dozen "Calendar Girls." Background music will be provided by a dance combo in keeping with the months.

Warship Workshop New

Another new project is the workshop, headed by Mary Sidner. The committee plans to complete a workshop room on the third floor of Ellen Smith to be used for private devotions. In collaboration with the YM this committee will provide music for Sunday services at the state reformatory. This will be the major work throughout the semester. Anyone interested in church music or related work can sign for this committee.

A committee headed by Beth Wilkens plans to organize a program of camp counselling training for people who are interested in this work. Representatives from Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls will be guest speakers from time to time and this will provide an opportunity to meet people hiring camp workers.

Audrey Flood will head a committee on summer projects. Social service projects, work camps, international seminar and summer trips counselling will be some of the activities of this group.

The May morning breakfast, a mother-daughter breakfast, which will be given the morning after Ivy Day, is open for work by freshmen only. This is one of the most interesting freshman activities.

Committees for the rendezvous are: Chairman, Jean Smith; refreshments, Chloee Ann Calder; skit, Lois Frederick.

Shucks To Add Section Editors

Reorganizing its editorial setup, Corn Shucks is establishing six new associate positions. The positions, according to Editor Frank Jacobs, will be called section editors. It will be the duty of the section editors to write and organize features for each month's magazine.

Any student is eligible to apply for one of the positions. Interested parties should leave their name in the Corn Shucks office before 5 p. m., Monday, Feb. 6.

In creating the above positions, Corn Shucks seeks to add variety and efficiency to the editorial side. The new section editors will work with the managing editors in preparing the features and departments for each issue of the magazine.

NUCWA To Hear German Model Assembly Delegates to Meet

Fritz Kieschke, Nebraska student from Germany, will discuss the question of trusteeship for South West Africa at the meeting of model general assembly delegates tonight.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in Room 313 of the Union. The question of South Africa, formerly under German control, is one of the issues which will come up before the mock United Nations conference next March.

Delegates attending the meeting will also elect the chairmen and vice chairmen of the four committees which will be working at the conference. The committees are: political and security; economic and financial; social, humanitarian and cultural and trusteeship.

The South West African issue, Kieschke's topic, will be under the consideration of the trusteeship committee when the assembly meets. It is a real issue before the U. N. South West Africa formerly was a mandate of the League of Nations. When the U. N. was established, the Union of South Africa refused to make it a trust area.

Some of the problems which will be discussed at the model conference will be: (1) Is there any reason why the Union of South Africa should annex South West Africa—security, economic need or any other? (2) Is the Union of South Africa acting legally in refusing to make South West Africa a trust area? (3) Is the Union of South Africa harming the trusteeship system by its action? (4) If the Union of South Africa has special interests in South West Africa could they be protected as well by trusteeship as annexation?

Chairmen

The conference chairmen will be in charge of the committees when they discuss such problems as the South West African issue. Since the chairmen do not take part in committee debate or voting, they will have to have alternates from their delegations to represent them on the floor. The chairmen and vice-chairmen will be working with the assembly steering committee and the agenda committees from now until the conference.

Nominations for heads of any of the committees may be submitted by leaving their names and a statement of qualifications in the NUCWA box in the Union basement.

All house delegates will attend the meeting tonight. This includes four representatives, one to work with each committee. Houses may name any number of additional delegates, however, to participate in preparations for the conference and in the actual meetings.

Potsy Comments

"I was tickled to death," said George "Potsy" Clark when asked about Glassford's decision to stay at Nebraska. "Of course," I was optimistic all the time, Potsy continued, "but couldn't say anything until Bill made up his mind."

Clark was pleased with the fine demonstration Wednesday afternoon and said it proved "from the Chancellor down to the people of Nebraska that they are proud of Bill and the fine work he is doing."

He also said we will go on with our present plan of action started by Glassford last spring.

Student Relations

Concluding, he said, "All my relations with students here have been very pleasant and I am very happy to see this crowd and appreciate your support."

Frank Piccolo, yell king, commenting on the rally, said that he hoped it did some good. "The cooperation of the students was terrific," he said.

"Nebraska has long needed a display of this kind," continued Piccolo, and he stated that he was glad to see it.

Glassford returned Tuesday night from Chicago where he met Tom Hamilton, athletic director of the University of Pittsburgh to talk about the head football coaching job at Pittsburgh.

Glassford is now under a one-year contract to Nebraska.

Union Plans 'Mardi Gras' Celebration

You don't have to travel to New Orleans to see a Mardi Gras this year. One will be held right on campus for University students.

The Union Mardi Gras is offering vaudeville acts, games of chance, bingo, and the music of Riley Smith and his orchestra, Friday, Feb. 10 for those seeking an evening packed with fun.

The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Mardi Gras Queen. All organized mens groups are urged to get their candidate's permission before turning in the entries. Friday noon, Feb. 3 is the deadline for the entries.

The special activities committee has promised that there will be a good time in store for everyone with a variety of entertainment.

In the ballroom Riley Smith will provide music for dancing. If you don't care for dancing, there will be games of chance offered at the Basin Street Casbah, Parlors XYZ. The "New Orleans Theatre" will present the Variety of Acts show at 9:15, 10:15 and 11:15 in parlors ABC, 2nd floor.

For the card sharks there will be a bridge tournament in the card room. There will be bingo in room 316 and a special music program in the Music Room.

Delians Reveal Writing Prizes

Cash prizes will be awarded in the Delian Union Literary society's short story contest which is open to all unaffiliated students.

First prize will be $30, second prize $20 and third prize $10. In addition the Delian Union society will try and have the three winning stories published.

Manuscripts must be in the mail not later than midnight March 31, and should be sent to the active alumni sponsor, Clark Gustin, 2233 D street, Lincoln, Neb.

Miltzer said he doubted that the Russians have the bomb now, but that it was probable that they would have it before too long.

Anderson Suggests

He suggested spending the money proposed for the bomb in "a calculated risk for peace." He suggested the money could be spent to internationally exchange students, laborers, farmers and business people; to set up workshops in which retarded people could learn about American technological advances, and to encourage the communication of ordinary American citizens with citizens of other countries.

"It is time," Anderson said, "for someone to do otherwise than run another lap in the armament race."

Using the Hydrogen Bomb would be no different than using an ordinary TNT bomb, was the opinion expressed by Walter Miltzer, professor of chemistry. The ethics involved is one of killing people, he said, and both bombs kill people to a different degree.

Miltzer said he doubted that the Russians have the bomb now, but that it was probable that they would have it before too long.

A. T. Anderson, assistant professor of history, believes that President Truman made a mistake in approving the bomb at this time. He listed these reasons:

1. "It is highly improbable that
