Huskers Journey to Kansas; Meet Leaders

By Bill Mundell
Sports Editor, Daily Nebraskan

The football fans in Kansas are putting it, this week it's going to be Reynolds versus Hoag, "Hot Rod" versus "Churning Charley." In other words, this Saturday the Huskers journey to Lawrence for a second try at conference competition.

And this week the Cornhuskers know beforehand that it's going to be a rough afternoon if they are not keyed-up. The Huskers journeyed to Colorado without expecting the worst and wound up with their first loss of the year two weeks ago.

That loss currently holds the Huskers in sixth place in the Big-Seven conference while their next opponent, Kansas University, is currently the number one team in conference standings with two wins in two starts.

But back to the way the Kansans are looking at the coming battle. All publicity on the game is with the center of interest on Reynolds and Hoag. Both sophomores are currently burning up their competition and according to the sports writers in the sunflower state, one of the two will be the sophomore of the year in collegiate football.

One-Two
The two rank one-two as the conference's leading ball carriers, Reynolds, first and Hoag, second. Both are among the top ten in pass receiving and punting. Reynolds is first in scoring with Hoag third, which should make it a very interesting afternoon for those who watch only left-halfbacks.

But for the majority who watch all the players, it should still be a mighty interesting afternoon, and a game that both teams want badly and will go all-out to get.

Both teams won handily last Saturday, Kansas roared to a 40-7 win over Oklahoma A&M while the Cornhuskers were shutting out Penn State, 19-0.

In the Husker victory, the whole scoring show again was Bobby Reynolds. Bobby chalked-up all 19 points scored in the game on three good touchdown runs and one extra-point conversion.

The Huskers sent Reynolds to score on their first series of downs. The Lions had received the kickoff and couldn't gain and punted over the Husker goal. From their own 20 yard line, it took the Nebraskans only 11 plays to get the score. Reynolds contributed 57 of those 80 yards on four plays.

His first carry was around right end for 21 yards; his second, a terrific snaking run around end good for 11 yards. On his third try he shot off guard for six yards and the fourth was the crowd pleaser, the scoring run, 19 yards around right end.

successful. The remainder of the first quarter was spent in midfield, neither team advancing beyond their opponent's 40 yard line. The Nittany Lions got their first scoring chance early in the second quarter, Reynolds back to punt was forced to run and just missed making a first down, Penn State taking over on Nebraska's 30 yard line.

Four plays later, however, the Staters had reached only the 24 and that threat was over. From this point the Huskers began to roll again and got to the State 22 before a penalty for illegal use of the hands stopped them.

A pass interference penalty gave the Lions their next chance and this time they had a first down on the Husker 13. Four plays netted only four yards and that was all the activity in the first half.

Goal-Line Stand
Penn State started off with a bang in the second half taking the kickoff on their own 15 and in nine plays back knocking on the Husker goal. This time it was first down on the Nebraska three-yard line. The Husker defense dug in and slammed the Staters back and took over on the four.

Theta Chi Hits Delta Chi, 14-0
Theta Chi put the clamps on Delta Chi in the second quarter and coasted the rest of the game, winning 12 to 0. Dale Link and John Fletcher were the offensive mainstays for Theta Chi, while Dwane Van Fell kept the Delta Chi offense in trouble with his pass interceptions.

Van Fell pulled down his second interception of the day and made a bee-line for the goal. Important blocks by Robert Gebhardt and Ed Clausen paved the way for the touchdown.

Later in the same quarter Clausen set up the pins for another Theta Chi touchdown with an interception of Windy Bergston's pass. Fletcher then took the situation in hand. Taking the pass from center, he leaned back and uncorked a 45 yard pass to Link who took the ball on the run and didn't stop until he crossed the goal line.

Delta Chi tried to come back in the second half, but the Theta Chis maintained their superiority and coasted out the rest of the game for the win.

The second NU tally came early in the fourth quarter. Taking a Penn State punt on his 37, Ron Clark returned the ball to the State 44. A 15-yard penalty set the Huskers back 40

BOBBY REYNOLDS . . . continued his terrific scoring pace in Saturday's tussle with Penn State, getting 19 points.

Reynolds' attempt at converting was successful and Bobby had his 19 markers.

Running Stopped Cold
Especially pleasing to the Cornhusker fans watching Saturday's contest was the showing of the Nebraska defense. Three times the Lions were stopped short of the goal and their running attack was completely bottled-up.

The only State gains all day came via the forward pass as the Husker pass defense appeared plenty leaky as has been the case all year long. It was much to the benefit of the Huskers that the Penn State passers were as erratic as they were because their receivers were open all afternoon.

Sparkling for the victorious Huskers in their first win over Penn State besides the scoring performance of Reynolds, was the driving of Adduci and Curtis. Don Strasheim and Walt Spellman turned in good line duty all day.

On the defensive side it was Verl Scott, Ed Husmann, Bob Mullen, Don Ball, and George Paynich leading the way.

Pacific Schools Fight Over Policy
Pacific Coast Conference officials have threatened to ban the College of the Pacific from conference competition for violation of the eligibility rules.

The conference charged Pacific of allowing Stockton College sophomores to play for them. "It is a fundamental thing that students must be enrolled in the school for which they compete," said a letter from the commissioner to the faculty athletic advisor at COP.

What the final outcome of the controversy will be has not yet been determined but unless the COP decides to conform to the conference standards, they may be banned from competition.

Sig Eps Zoom to Top Spot; Sammies, Sig Gams Climb

Palacers, Nu's, P. Kaps Fall; Phi Delt Bees Top B Ratings

- ALL-UNIVERSITY
1. Sigma Phi Epsilon (6-10)

6. Presby. House (6-0)
7. Delta Tau Delta (5-1)
8. Brown Palace (3-1)
9. Sigma Nu (3-2)
10. Phi Kappa Phi (4-1)

A new leader is running in front of the intramural football teams this week. Sigma Phi Epsilon, unbeaten in six games, is ranked as number one team of the University.

The Sig Eps, sixth place last week, roared into the top spot by virtue of their 20-0 shellacking of previously unbeaten and tough Delta Tau Delta this week. The Deltas, although absorbing the crushing loss, remained in the number seven position by smashing Phi Kappa Psi, 28-0. The Phi Psi's had trounced Beta Theta Pi earlier in the week.

Jumping from fourth into second place this week is Phi Delta Theta. The Phi Delt edged last week's third place team, Sigma Nu, by a 6-0 score. The Phi Delt held a like margin of victory over Alpha Tau Omega to earn them the runner-up position.

Last week's top team, the ATO's this week slipped to third although winning their only game. Their unimpressive 14-0 win over Delta Upsilon coupled with the Sigma Nu loss were the chief causes in their decline. They currently have a 3-1 record.

Sammies Climb
A new face is holding fast to fourth position this week. Sigma Alpha Mu, unrated in the All-U rankings last week, pulled one of the week's top upsets by tripping previously unbeaten Brown Palace, 7-6. The Palacers are defending All-University champions of seven-man ball.

The win gave the Sammies four straight wins to date and establishes them as a definite threat to this year's title.

Another newcomer is fifth this week. Sigma Gamma Epsilon the top Independent outfit is holding down that spot. The Sig Gams won their fifth straight contest this week, dropping previously unbeaten City YMCA, 1-0.

Dropping a peg from last week and sixth this week is Presby House. The Presbys, although unbeaten in six starts, were unimpressive in their 14-0 win over the Methodists Friday.

Following the seventh place Deltas this week comes Brown Palace, dropping from second.

Sigma Nu managed to catch on at ninth place in their slide downward this week while Phi Kappa Phi, also a loser this week, slipped from seventh to tenth. The Phi Kaps lost their first game of the year Wednesday, 6-9 to Pioneer House.

Over in the Independent ratings this week, a new leader is present. Sigma Gamma Epsilon replaces the Bengals as the top Independent team this week. The Bengals won 7-6 over the Wheels, but lost their first of the year, 6-12 to the Ag Men's Social Club. The loss dropped the Bengals to fifth.

City Y Busy
City YMCA had a busy week, participating in three contests and on the strength of winning two and looking good in the third they climbed into second place. The Y men downed the Ag Men, 13-7 and the Wheels, 19-0, while losing to the Sig Gams, 0-1.

Third place team this week is the Ag Men's Club and behind the Bengals in fifth comes the Wheels.

Over in the Fraternity "B" division, Phi Delta Theta regained the top spot they lost the week before. The Phi Delt went to town crushing Sigma Nu, 45-0 last week.

Kappa Sigma, first last week, this week is in fourth place. The Kappa Sigs lost their first game of the year this week, 6-8 to Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The win gave the unrated Sig Alphas a boost into second place.

Beta Theta Pi holds the third spot and Sigma Chi drops a peg to the fifth position.

Behind the leading Presbys in the Denominational division are the Baptists. The Baptists dropped the Methodist House, 7-0 this

The first four teams in the Fraternity "A" division this week match the four in the All-U standings. Delta Tau Delta is fifth, Brown Palace is sixth, Sigma Nu is seventh and Phi Kappa Phi ranks eighth.

Theta Xi In
Theta Xi makes its first appearance of the year holding down the number nine position in the "A" ratings. The TX men walloped Zeta Tau, 20-0 this week for their third win in four starts.

Rounding out the top ten "A" teams this week is Phi Kappa Psi, winner and loser this week. They trounced the Betas, 15-0 and lost to Delta Tau Delta, 0-28.
