

AWS Considers Revisions In Women's Point System

Problems involved in revising the AWS point system were discussed at a special meeting of the Associated Women Students board Tuesday.

The meeting was one of a two week series intended to evaluate all campus organizations.

Under the present system women students may have a maximum of 20 points. Points are given to officers of organizations. Presidents of the organizations receive 15 points; board members, eight points; vice presidents, 10-12 points; and secretaries and treasurers eight to ten points.

In revising the point system, the board will consider seasonal work, responsibility and the time required for the activity in relation to the girl's time.

During investigations into the point system the AWS board has received from every president of University organizations evaluations of the activity and the amount of work required of its officers. Dean of Women Marjorie Johnston and Woodrow Reed, Junior Division adviser, were consulted about problems to be considered in the revision.

AWS boards of other universities and colleges were contacted to obtain information about the point system used on campuses similar to Nebraska.

The AWS evaluation of activities is expected to be completed in two weeks, Virginia Koehler, chairman of the point system committee, announced. Meetings will then be held with presidents of organizations to obtain their viewpoints on the revised system.

The new plan will include a method of appeal. Coeds with more than the maximum number of activity points will be able to appeal to the board for special consideration, Miss Koehler said. However, she said, rules will be enforced strictly.

PSX Elects Hershberger As Treasurer

Barbara Hershberger, University Tassel, was elected treasurer of Phi Sigma Chi, national women's pep organization, at the 16th annual convention Oct. 12-14. The University Tassels were hostesses.

Members voted to locate the permanent central office of Phi Sigma Chi here. All permanent records will be filed here and all correspondence will pass through this office.

About 30 delegates from seven universities and colleges attended the convention. No plans were made for increasing the number of pep groups in the organization. Jane McKee, Kansas State college, was elected national president for the coming year. Other officers are vice president, Mary Svach, University of Omaha; recording secretary, Jane Romig, University of Washburn; corresponding secretary, Joyce Shannon, Kansas State college; treasurer, Barbara Hershberger, University of Nebraska.

Organizations included in Phi Sigma Chi are: Feathers, University of Omaha; Ichadelles, University of Washburn; Jay Janes, University of Kansas; Purple Peppers, Kansas State college; and the Wheaties, Wichita University.

PBK To Hear Five Speakers During Year

Prof. Clifford M. Hicks has announced the Phi Beta Kappa program for the coming year.

The first meeting, Oct. 29, will feature a talk by Dr. John Champe on "Problems in Plains Pre-History." Dr. Louise Pound will speak Dec. 5, about "American English After Two World Wars." At the third meeting, Feb. 18, Dr. W. F. Pfeiler will speak on "No Harps into the Willows: Militant Literature in Exile." "Survey of Scientific Research in Postwar Western Europe" is the title of Dr. Norman Cromwell's speech, March 11.

No date has definitely been set for the fifth meeting which is to be held jointly with Sigma Xi.

Dr. William Werkmeister is the speaker for the final meeting, May 4. Werkmeister will talk on "Values in a World of Facts" for the initiation and reception of new members.

All meetings will be held at 8:15 p.m., in the Union.

Bridge Instruction Will Begin Today

Union bridge lessons start today.

All those interested are to meet in the Union gameroom from 4 to 6 p.m.

James Porter will be the instructor.

YWCA Freshman 'Roundup' To Explain 10 Commissions

With the six week restriction on freshmen coeds entering activities ending this week, the YWCA will have their annual freshmen "roundup" Thursday from 3 to 5:30 p. m. in Ellen Smith.

At the "roundup," coeds may register for one of 10 YWCA freshmen commission groups.

Each group's leader is a member of the freshmen cabinet which meets weekly to plan the commission groups' programs.

The purpose of having separate commission groups for freshmen during the first semester, Virginia Koehler, leader of the freshmen cabinet, said, is to completely orient freshmen coeds into the YWCA program.

Miss Koehler said that the freshmen groups are patterned after the upperclass groups in their discussions. However, she added, the discussions are of a broader scope and are designed to acquaint the freshmen with all areas.

Some of the semester discussion topics will be: "Why Are We in College?" "Problems of Campus Living," "Religion on the Campus," "Christian Heritage," "Political Effectiveness" and "Social Service Tour."

Freshmen unable to attend the "roundup" Thursday may register anytime after Thursday in Ellen Smith.

The YWCA freshmen commission groups are:

Commandant Filing Closes On Thursday

Filing for the title of Honorary Commandant closes at 5 p.m. Thursday. Applications may be filled out at the office of Dean T. J. Thompson, Room 104, Administration building.

All senior girls are eligible to file. The only requirement is a 5.5 average for all three years.

The honorary commandant presented at last year's Military Ball was Eileen Derieg. The commandant reviews parades and other military functions during the second semester.

FAIRLY FULL FUTURE . . . "and when she said, 'No, but March 23, 1954, is open.' . . . that's when I hung up."

Rhodes Candidates Announced

Tom Rische and Dick Holze are the University candidates for Rhodes scholar competition.

The announcement was made by C. H. Oldfather, dean of the college of arts and sciences. Local scholarship interviews were held Oct. 13.

Rische, a journalism major, is a senior in Arts and Sciences. Holze is a junior in the same college.

The two candidates will enter state competition Dec. 12. A district committee will make the final selection of Rhodes scholars Dec. 15, 1951.

To be eligible for a Rhodes scholarship, a candidate must be an unmarried male citizen of the United States between the ages of 19 and 25 on Oct. 25, 1952. He must have completed his sophomore year by the time of application, and must receive official endorsement of his college or university.

Candidates must have scholastic ability, high moral character, leadership ability and physical vigor. Rhodes scholarships are an appropriation of Cecil Rhodes, English industrialist, to further American-British relationships and understanding through education.

The Rhodes scholars will enter Oxford University in England in Oct. 1952. The scholarships, worth 500 pounds a year, are good for two years.

Sketches of House Displays For Homecoming Due Today

Entries for Homecoming house displays should be turned in to the Innocents today if houses want to be certain their ideas are accepted.

Each entry must include a sketch of the proposed house decoration in order to eliminate duplicate displays. If two groups have the same theme but different presentations of that theme, both can go ahead. In case two ideas are very similar, the first submitted will be accepted.

For every group of 20 or more a fee of five dollars must be paid when the theme is submitted.

Decorations must be completed by 6 p.m., Nov. 2.

Expenses for the decorating must not exceed fifty dollars. An itemized expense account is to be submitted by 6 p.m. Nov. 2.

Professional help on decorating is prohibited.

The sketch, fee, and expense account may be turned in to Dick Billig at the Cornhusker office or Phi Kappa Psi, or the entries may be placed in the Innocents box in the Union basement.

George Cobel, Al Blessing and Dick Billig will study the entries and notify houses if their ideas must be changed.

British Editor

PREDICTS RED H-BOMB . . . Kenneth DeCourcy (above), British editor who predicted Russian explosion of A-bomb, says Russians will explode an H-bomb next summer. He said Red H-bomb production is under British A-scientist, Bruno Pontecorvo.

'Ike's' Deputy

NATO SCHOOL HEAD . . . Vice Admiral Andre Lemonnier of France heads the 10th Atlantic defense organization's "West Point" in Paris to train officers and senior officials. He continues as General Eisenhower's naval deputy.

Marines Fight As Peace Talks Continue

WOUNDED WALK BACK FROM BATTLE . . . Despite peace talks and talks of peace talks, the marines are still fighting the Reds in Korea and some of them are getting hurt. This group of leathernecks, some of them critically injured, are, nevertheless, able to navigate, and so are making their way back to a medical clearing station on foot. Scene is on the eastern Korean front. Note the badly wounded man in the center. Handicapped by a bandaged leg and face and arm in sling, he is being helped by a comrade who apparently is less seriously wounded. Armistice plans do not mean a cessation in the killing and the wounding during a war.

DG's Hold Auction For AUF Donations

A white elephant sale at the night raised money for the All Delta Gamma house Monday University Fund.

Joy Wachal, auctioned off chocolate cake, a nightgown, books, pictures, jewelry, scarves and fudge. She is the AUF representative for the house.

The food brought the highest bids. One girl bought a cake for $3 and then sold it for 15 cents a slice to increase her contribution.

Others bought articles they had admired and borrowed.

University To Welcome 200 Nebraska High School Debaters This Saturday

Approximately two hundred students from forty Nebraska high schools will come to the campus Saturday for the annual high school debate conference.

The students will arrive about nine o'clock Saturday morning for the conference which is planned and intended for students of speech and social studies in Nebraska high schools.

The students will hear three speakers from 9 a.m. to noon. Col. Francis Drath, head of the manpower division of the state selective service division, and Myron Schroeder, assistant director of Nebraska civil defense, will discuss the high school debate question on universal conscription.

William Howell, director of forensics at the University of Minnesota, will talk on participation in discussion.

The high school students will have an opportunity to discuss the speeches and the debate question in the afternoon.

The University debate team, Bob Hasebroek and Paul Laase, and the University of Minnesota debate team will argue the question: "In time of emergency all citizens should be conscripted."

This debate is scheduled for 3 p.m. in Love library auditorium. It is open to all interested students and faculty.

The debate conference is an annual affair.

Goodwill Industries Visit Included In YWCA Tour

Goodwill Industries is to be the first stop on the tour sponsored by University YWCA Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m.

This year Goodwill celebrates its 50th anniversary in Lincoln providing employment, training and rehabilitation for the handicapped and disabled. It also provides reconconditioned clothing and furniture at reasonable prices to persons of limited means. Goodwill conducts religious services in its chapel to help meet the needs of the community.

Goodwill which is a non-profit organization has a payroll of 30 persons, all of whom are handicapped except four.

According to C. W. Heston, shop foreman, "Goodwill Industries is the starting place for the handicapped people to be trained so that they may continue on to find better jobs."

An example of the type of rehabilitation Goodwill does is that of a blind man who came to the Goodwill Industries lacking a job and possessing no self-confidence in himself. Goodwill offered him a job as a telephone solicitor in which he used a brail telephone directory to call people about the services offered by Goodwill.

Today, through the training and encouragement he received at the Goodwill Industries, the blind man now has a desk job at the Grand Island ordnance plant.

Anyone interested in participating in the YW special tours may sign up with her house representative, the YW office or at the Activities Mart. Transportation will be provided at the YW office, Ellen Smith hall.

Home Ec Club To Open Drive For Members

The Home Economics club membership drive for freshmen begins Thursday. Upperclassmen who are interested in the club are also welcome to join.

Home Ec events during the year will include the freshman get-acquainted picnic, Ellen H. Richards dinner, smorgasborg, Christmas tea and style show. The club also sponsors a scholarship for a foreign student.

It meets every two weeks, next meeting being Thursday at 4 p.m.

New club members will begin immediately to earn the 15 points required for pins. Girls must attend three meetings to be able to vote at elections.

If it is impossible to attend because of class, one hour of work will take the place of one meeting.

Four Coeds Begin Weekly Broadcasts At Vets' Hospital

The men at the Veterans' hospital are hearing their favorite records played especially for them again this year.

Every Tuesday and Thursday from 3 to 4 p.m., four University coeds go to the hospital to present a disc jockey radio program for the veterans. The program series began Tuesday.

Each program is broadcast from the hospital station and the veterans have their own earphones with which to listen to the program.

After the coeds have played as many request records as possible, they carry on in a "Godfrey-like manner." They tell about important University functions and urge the men who are able to visit the campus during special events, such as Homecoming and College Days.

go into the wards and ask for requests for the next day's program and visit with the men. The next day they dedicate records to certain men.

A contest is scheduled for this year. The girls will play a record and call it the "Mystery Tune." The men will then be asked to name either the band or the vocalist. Prizes of cigarettes will be awarded to the winners.

Under the sponsorship of the College Unit of the American Red Cross, the veterans' program is planned, directed, and produced by Marilyn Loloff, Mary Pitterman, Betty Hanson and Martha Hamilton.

Peters, 16th Entry, Wins 'Crystal Ball'

Richard Peters is the winner of last week's Crystal Ball contest. He missed one prediction, the Texas-Oklahoma game in which Texas won 9 to 7. Peter's entry was the sixteenth turned in.

C. W. Sheffield and George Gohde placed second and third respectively. Sheffield was the 79th entry and missed the Dartmouth-Army game. Gohde missed Navy-Rice. His entry was number 87.

According to the Daily Nebraskan business staff, many persons missed only two games. More and more entries are being turned in each week.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil
Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

DON'T let those stripes fool you. J. Paul was no prisoner of love! His hair looked like a tiger rag, and he was feeling mighty low. But did Sheedy buy a wig? No! He's not a cheater! "I hate to be catty," his roommate said, "but even an ugly puss looks better with Wildroot Cream-Oil! Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin! Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the fingernail test!" Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now he has every girl on campus waiting in line for a date! So, be cagey . . . get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil Hair Tonic at any drug or toilet goods counter today. And ask your barber for professional applications. Then you'll be the cat's pajamas. But don't delay, Meow is the time.
