Sluggish Third Period Costly; Fagler Hits 27

Geier Confident Over Gym Team

We haven't reached our peak yet, but we should be at prime for the All-College Meet in Boulder Feb. 28," gymnastics coach Jake Geier said.

has ever been in the University," stated Coach Geier, speaking of Bruce Riley, a second semester transfer student. "He is a great all-around performer," Geier went on.

Kidd won four first in the triangular meet in which Nebraska, Kansas State, and North Dakota participated in Saturday. He won the side horse, high bars, flying rings and parallel bars, leading the Huskers to a 89 1/2 point total while Kansas State gained 30 and North Dakota 12 1/2.

WINS FOUR FIRSTS... Gymnastics team Captain Tom Kidd, a junior on Coach Jake Geier's squad, captured four first places in Saturday's triangular win over Kansas State and North Dakota. Kidd won the side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bars and flying rings. Max Kennedy, a Husker teammate, won the remaining two events, the trampoline and tumbling. The up and down Cornhuskers, who played a giant-killing role last Saturday night in their win over Kansas State, absorbed a smarting 86-78 setback from Colorado Monday night in the Coliseum.

Bob Jeangerard, Buffalo sophomore who came into the contest during the second quarter, led the offense during Colorado's 21-9 supremacy during the third period. The Bufs held a 45-40 edge at intermission.

scoring column. Halderson, a 6-8 sophomore center, hit 15, followed by soph forward Bunte who collected 13.

I-M Basketball Playoff Hopes Rise, Fall As Cage Teams Continue Upset Pace

By BILL MUDELL Intramural Sports Columnist
The intramural basketball leagues continued to undergo their regular shake-up last week as unheralded underdogs continued to cut the favorites down to size.

place and was promptly smacked down twice. First, the Ag Men's Club turned the trick, 30-27 and then the lowly Jokers stopped the Holdrege aggregation, 29-23. It was only the second Joker win of the year, both coming over the Holdrege outfit.

with Ag Men "B" with a 5-1 mark. The Ag Men disposed of winless Holdrege "B", 32-21. The Ramblers practically sewed up league XI laurels last week by dropping the Rockets again, 47-42 to give them a 5-0 mark.

Dents continue unbeaten and in first place. The Lutherans chalked up number five last week by stopping the Methodists, 28-18 after trailing the first half. The Dental Sophs blasted Phi Delta Phi, 60-35 in a wild game for their sixth in a row while the Fannies were getting a forfeit win from Heagy Manor. Navy ROTC kept within challenging distance of the Sophomores by eking out a win, 41-33, over the Dental Freshmen.

The Buffs saw their comfortable margin dwindle to four points at one time during the fourth canto, but the Colorado stall and NU fouls prevented further threat to the invaders' lead.

Coach Harry Good's Huskers trailed, 49-66, at the opening of the final period. But the game was far from over at that point.

Nebraska, playing an entirely different brand of ball that was displayed against the fifth-ranked (nationally) Wildcats, failed to catch fire until the waning moments of the third quarter. The Scarlet-clad hoopsters hit only 24 of 38 gift shot attempts, while their opponents capitalized on 32 of 44. Field goals were even at 27-all.

Willard Fagler caught the lime-light for the Huskers in the fourth period to start the vain rally attempt. Fagler messed the nets for 12 points during that spurge, and gathered 27 points for the evening to lead all scorers. The sophomore workhorse hit nine of 15 shots from the floor and nine of 15 free throws, while grabbing 11 rebounds.

The objective this week end for the gymnastic, wrestling and swimming teams will be Colorado as the three squads will face their respective squads from the "colorful" state.

sin and Cornell College to give them a record of 4-1. In their last outing of the season, the grapplers handed a loss to Cornell by the score of 18-13. Charley Bryant pulled the surprise of the evening by decisioning previously undefeated Warren Sonneman in the 167-pound class. The score was tied going into the heavyweight contest which pitted Cornhusker Ed Hushman against Merlin Jones. In the ensuing action, Jones suffered a shoulder separation defaulting the match to Hushman and the team victory to Nebraska.

Even so, leagues XIII and XIV could present a problem if a couple more of the common upsets could occur.

The Ag Men victory moved them into the number one position and then they were humbled by four-time loser Ag Parasites by a 29-20 score. The Aggies continue in first place with a 5-2 mark followed by Holdrege "A", Parasites, and the University Aggies, all owning a 4-3 record. The Uni Ags won two over the week, beating the Parasites, 41-29 and Vocational Ag, 35-24.

Previously unbeaten Alpha Gamma Rho "C" felt the axe in league X as the AGR Scrubs fell before the Ag YMCA, 29-16. The loss dropped the Scrubs into a tie with the Jokers. The Ramblers practically sewed up league XI laurels last week by dropping the Rockets again, 47-42 to give them a 5-0 mark.

K-State Riflers Defeat Nebraska

The Nebraska varsity rifle team suffered defeat Saturday at the hands of Kansas State, in a dual meet.

The matmen and tumblers will be facing Colorado State at Greeley Friday while the tankers will oppose the Colorado A. & M. at Fort Collins. Saturday's agenda will find the Cornhusker trio facing their respective opponent from their Big Seven rival at Boulder.

The swim team has found "troubled waters" in their ventures so far, losing its first three outings of the season to Kansas, Grinnell, and Oklahoma. The tankers came out of their losing ways last Saturday and reversed the previous decision against Kansas. The Huskers revenged the setback by a 50-43 tally.

League I was muddled over the week as last place Phi Gamma Delta toppled Delta Tau Delta in an overtime fray and then a shocked heavily favored Alpha Tau Omega.

In that Fiji-Tau tussle, the Phi Gams led most of the way in disposing of the ATO's. With Ed Schmitt burning the nets for 20 points, the Fijis kept the Taus in hot water all the way before coming out on top, 37-34. Tom Toblin's eight helped the winners while Hobe Jones led the losers with 11 counters. It was expected that Jones' arrival in the Tau fold would make the ATO's almost unbeatable. Phi Gamma Delta showed otherwise.

Other league I action saw Sigma Chi shatter Sigma Nu, 66-28 and Sigma Phi Epsilon swamping Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 55-26. The Sig Ep victory kept them atop the league with a 5-0 mark.

Sooners Dread Invasion Of Kansas' Home Court

The booking all basketball teams dread this year—Kansas' Hoch Auditorium—is next on Oklahoma's schedule.

The leading point earner on the squad is Tom Kidd. Kidd scored a complete sweep of the four divisions that he entered, garnering a first in each. Dan Fogel is next to Kidd in the scoring ranks.

Main Feature Clock

(Schedules Furnished by Theater)
Varsity: "Androcles and the Lion," 1:10, 3:17, 5:24, 7:31, 9:30.
State: "Hiawatha," 1:00, 3:55, 6:50, 9:45, "Torpedo Alley," 2:31, 5:26, 8:21.

Cage Rosters

The deadline has been set for adding names to the intramural basketball rosters. No more changes will be allowed in the team rosters after Saturday, Feb. 14.

ership by winning at Lawrence. (3) Kansas has won 17 straight games at Lawrence since Drake's 1951 Oklahoma team last stopped a Jayhawker squad at Hoch Auditorium. The score was 61-59 as John Rogers, Sooner sub, hit a long shot just before the gun.

Kansas will be widely favored at Lawrence. However, road clubs so far are having their best season of all time in the Big Seven. Visiting teams have won seven games already, some of them by whopping scores. This remote fact is the only faintly favorable thing Oklahoma fans can see in next week's game.

Phi Kappa Psi rang up its seventh straight victory while beating Alpha Gamma Rho, 53-25 and kept the top rung in league II. Elsewhere the league was jumbled as Phi Delta Theta dropped Kappa Sigma, 25-24 to avenge an early-season loss and Beta Theta Pi smacked the same Kappa Sigs and then won a forfeit from Delta Upsilon to climb into second place. Theta Xi climbed to third by walloping the DU's, 45-32.

Beta Sigma Pi climbed to second in league III behind the leading Pioneer House by crushing Farm House, 48-21 as Dick Huebner and Bill Renner potted 14 and 13, respectively. Any of the seven teams in this league could still make the playoffs.

League IV finds no unbeaten team, but Phi Kappa Psi still holds the top spot with a 5-1 record over Zeta Beta Tau's 4-1 mark.

A similar situation exists in league V where last week last place Alpha Tau Omega dropped first place Phi Gamma Delta "B". Sigma Phi Epsilon "B" further muddled the standings by stopping SAE "B" by a 35-26 score.

It shows that Hank Iba's Oklahoma Aggies did the best job on the Kansas floor, getting beat only 12 points. Coach Jack Gardner's Kansas State Wildcats bowed. Both these clubs are rated in the country's top ten this week.

The Kansas club will also be looking at some interesting statistics:

League VI finds Phi Kappa Psi "B" way out in front with a 6-0 mark and no-one in particular in the next four positions. Alpha Gamma Rho "B" holds the number two slot but their 4-2 mark is mighty shaky.

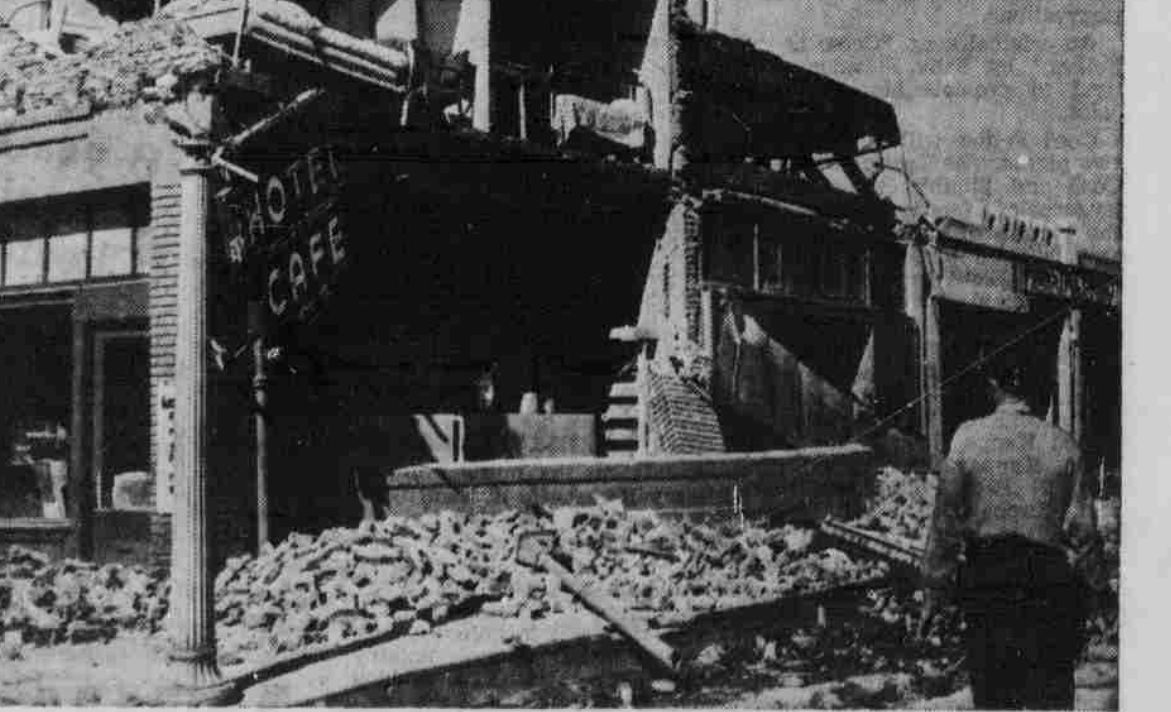

League IX was thrown into a free scramble last week. Holdrege "A" entered the week in first place and was promptly smacked down twice. First, the Ag Men's Club turned the trick, 30-27 and then the lowly Jokers stopped the Holdrege aggregation, 29-23. It was only the second Joker win of the year, both coming over the Holdrege outfit.
