AUF Official Tabulations Show $7,647.50 Net

Money Dispersed Among Three Main Organizations

The All University Fund collected a record-breaking amount, $7,647.50, for the period Feb. 1, 1952 to Jan. 30, 1953.

The campaign beginning Oct. 6 with the kick-off dinner, and lasted for three weeks, proved to be the most successful ever conducted on the University campus.

The original goal was set for only

$5,000. Eleven area captains and 200 workers took part in the soliciting.

AUF is the only campus charity fund and the money collected from the students and faculty is divided among various organizations during the year. AUF eliminates the students' having to contribute to numerous organizations throughout the year.

The officers during the successful campaign were: Joan Hanson, president; Rocky Yapp, vice-president in charge of publicity; Sue Brownlee, vice-president in charge of solicitations; Jane Calhoun, secretary; and Bud Weidenspan, treasurer.

Rev. Rex Knowles, Dr. Charles Miller, and Mrs. Virginia Trotter were the advisors for the group. The total incomes are divided into the following list: Faculty solicitations—$675; auction income—$1,030.25; booth income—$459.59; board member donations—$116; book sales income—$90.25; organization donations—$241.05; fraternity solicitations—$1,408.90; sorority solicitations—$1,734.68; independent solicitation—$757.16; organized house solicitations—$514.54; denomination donations—$137.18; Ag campus solicitations—$482.90.

The money is dispersed among three main organizations, Community Chest, Cancer Research and the World Student Service Fund. Fifteen per cent of the total will go to the development of cancer research, forty per cent will go to WSSF, and forty per cent will go to the Community Chest. The remaining five per cent was used for expenses.

The money that will be given for cancer research amounts to $1,366.49.

The total amount to be given to World Student Service Fund is $3,109.63. This is the national fund which campaigns annually in American colleges to aid universities abroad. It is the only national agency organized for this purpose.

The Lincoln Community Chest will receive $2,789.

The purpose of the organization is to finance the needs of 27 private welfare agencies and their branches. It is responsible for the development of an orderly and well-rounded community welfare program.

AUF was organized at the University in 1943 and the campaigns have been held annually since 1944. The amount collected last year was $6,500.

Inflation Hits Students

University students felt the pinch of inflation a little more during 1952 than in 1951, according to figures released Wednesday by the Student Loan Committee.

The committee reported that last year it authorized $38,543 in regular loans to students, or $10,421 more than the preceding year. One hundred and eighty-two students received the financial aid, or 46 more than in 1951. These regular loans ranged from $50 to $1,000.

In addition, 291 emergency loans totaling $11,616.50 were granted. They were loans of $50 or less.

Prof. Richard M. Bourne of College of Business Administration was 1952 chairman of the committee.

NU Grad Receives Ike Appointment

John B. Stoddard, University alumnus now a resident of Springfield, Ill., has been appointed federal district attorney for the Southern District of Illinois by President Eisenhower.

Stoddard, a native of Malvern, Ia., was appointed Wednesday. He will succeed Howard L. Doyle.

He was graduated in 1941 from the College of Business Administration, and served in the Air Force during World War II. He received a law degree from the University of Michigan following the war, and from 1949 to 1951 was assistant and state attorney in Illinois. Since '51 he has been engaged in private practice in Springfield.

Warm Day Brings Bugs

The first warm day of winter has brought spring cankerworms and small moths clustering on buildings.

Bob Roselle, O. S. Bare, and Don Scott, extension entomologists, took a scientific trip around Lincoln and named the insects micro lepidoptera, the common small name for cankerworms and small moths.

"They are coming out in large numbers on warm days, Roselle said, and they will disappear in a few days." The cankerworms and moths are attracted to lights by large numbers, Roselle said, however, they are of no danger.

Model International Court Hearing Will Open NUCWA Spring Conference

University law students will demonstrate how the world court operates by staging a hearing before a model International Court of Justice Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. It will open the evening session of the United Nations spring conference which is Mar. 18 to 21.

Research Sources Setup To Help Nation's Envoys

NUCWA delegates have less than a week to gather research material on their country for the mock General Assembly.

However, the task has been made easy by the research committee, headed by Rosemary Amos.

A special table in the Documents Reading Room on 3rd floor of Love Library has been set up to help delegates. The table is flanked by flags of the individual nations and the UN flag.

On this table are a general bibliography of material for each country and voting blocks, UN Yearbook, UN Bulletin, Korean Survey, UN Digest, Voice of Korea and Index to UN Documents including all speeches made at the actual General Assembly in New York. The New York Times index is also a recommended source.

Delegates will also find material from foreign embassies. The Research Committee wrote letters to 60 embassies. All returned information has been placed on the special table.

If delegates have trouble finding information, they may contact Miss Ruth Hadley, librarian in charge of the reading room.

The committee, which has provided basic bibliographies to give delegates a start, includes: Ann Thompson, Mary Burlic, Bob Young, Sue Bock, Barbara Olson, Jane Brode, Kathy O'Donnell, Alice Logie, Gloria White and Joan Mason.

At the last meeting individual delegations received bibliography slips. Those not picked up will be handed out at the Thursday meeting. They include:

Costa Rica, Burma, Afghanistan, Liberia, New Zealand, Paraguay, Poland, Beyerussia, Western Bloc, Chile, Czechoslovakia, Haiti, Guatemala, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Uruguay, Ecuador, Tunisia, Iceland, Arabia, Iraq, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Yemen, Philippines, Scandinavia, Pakistan, Nicaragua, Mexico, Lebanon, and Honduras.

The hearing will be held in Courtroom No. 2 in the Nebraska State Capitol. The public is invited to attend and asked to use the north ground-floor entrance to the building.

The judges of the fourth annual world court session will be leading lawyers of Lincoln under the chief justiceship of F. B. (Bill) Baylor.

The case to be tried will revolve around the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute between Great Britain and Iran. The oral arguments will be presented for the two opposing sides by Harry D. Davis, Grand Island, and Bruce L. Evans, Lincoln, as agents; and Richard M. Duxbury, Lincoln, and Henry D. Neely, Omaha, as counsel.

Other law students who participated in preparing the case are:

Middies To Select 6 Queen Finalists

Midshipmen will select six finalists for queen of the Navy Ball on Friday between 8 a.m. and 12 noon.

Pictures of the midshipmen's choices were submitted to Bill Devries, chairman of the queen committee.

The finalists and the queen, who will be chosen by three judges, will be presented at the Navy Ball which is scheduled for March 21 at the Coliseum.

The idea of the ball came from the annual "Ring Dance" held at the Annapolis Naval Academy. As NROTC units were established throughout the country, the idea became a part of campus social life.

Jimmy Phillips and his orchestra will furnish music for the ball.

Without Proposed Med Expansion Gustavson Sees Lower Enrollment

By PHYLLIS HERSHBERGER Staff Writer

If the University is able to increase its medical facilities, it can take 10 more students in each class. If an increase is not made possible, the medical school will be compelled to decrease its enrollment, Chancellor R. G. Gustavson told the Revenue committee of the Nebraska Legislature in a hearing Thursday.

The committee considered a bill (L.B. 211) calling for 33 mill levy for six years to be used for the expansion of the University College of Medicine. This bill would enact into a law the financial proposal for a building program agreed upon by the survey committee of the Nebraska State Medical Association and by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents.

During the six years, the mill levy is calculated to reach $6,000,000. Of that total, $5,200,000 would go for addition to the present hospital plant; $615,000 for additions to the nursing home, and $185,000 for campus improvements.

No Opposition

No speakers opposed the bill. Speaking in favor of the bill were Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, Dr. James P. Tollman, Dean of the College of Medicine, members of the survey committee and the University Board of Regents.

After a 4 mill levy was appropriated to the University in 1947, a special committee made a survey of University needs and listed engineering, agriculture, general classrooms and the College of Medicine as four critical areas, Chancellor Gustavson said.

The Chancellor commented that the plans for using that mill levy were based on the dollar level in 1947 and since that time the value of the dollar has shrunk. Due to the loss of the value of money, the University suffered a loss of two buildings, he said.

He said that because the University had inadequate facilities for psychiatric study, an agreement had been made with Douglas County for medical students to use their facilities. However, the county needs its provisions so the University must make provisions for psychiatric studies, he explained.

It is necessary to provide more beds in the University hospital so students have more opportunity for practical patient study, Chancellor Gustavson asserted. An increased number of patients would cause a need for more nurses and more housing for nurses.

Gustavson Retorts

Several senators commented that two years ago, two hospital wards had been closed. In answer to queries concerning this and the necessity of more beds, Chancellor Gustavson replied, "We had patients to fill every bed in the hospital, but we did not have money to care for them."

He said later, "When you (the legislature) cut the University budget $2,000,000 two years ago, you forced a contraction of service throughout the entire University." Each department had to contribute something to the deficit, he said, and the College of Medicine closed part of the hospital for its contribution.

Several of the members of the committee were concerned because many Nebraska graduates went to other states to practice. Chancellor Gustavson assured them that the expansion program included plans for a medical center where practicing physicians could learn new techniques. "Men like to go where they are in proximity of a medical center," he said.

Dean Tollman spoke of the extreme scientific advance in medicine and said that this advance called for more nurses, laboratory and X-ray technicians, dietitians, therapists and other assistants.

He said that the University College of Medicine is concerned with the training of such assistants because "with assistants a doctor can give more and better service."
