Cornhuskers Lookign For 'Take-Charge' Type Player

By GEORGE PAVNICH Sports Editor
In any football organization leadership is a must. It seems essential that in such a gathering there must be at least one guy the remainder of the group can look up to as a sort of "Rock of Gibraltar."

recognize leaders when they appear, we shall discover that they are to be found everywhere. Maybe I just can't spot that gold leader from where I sit.

SATURDAY the Pitt Panthers offer the Huskers a challenge. If Nebraska can come up with a good showing as we have a hunch they will, it may be that NU will have a bi-weekly type of club—bad, good, bad, good, etc.

Coach Glassford no doubt will have a few tricks up his sleeve as he faces his old alma mater, Pittsburgh. His lineup changes will be revealed at game time. This was the same setting as before the Illinois game when Glassford sprung a surprise backfield at the Illini and almost walked off with an upset.

FOOTBALL PREDICTIONS—Pitt 21, NU 14; Kansas 21, Colorado 14; Oklahoma 27, Texas 21; California 21, Penn 14; Stanford 21, Oregon State 0; Southern Cal 27, Washington 0; UCLA 21, Wisconsin 20; Baylor 18, Arkansas 0; Missouri 14, SMU 7; Michigan State 21, TCU 7; Army 40, Dartmouth 0; Maryland 21, Georgia 7.

Husker Notes—Gridders John Bordogna, Andy Loehr and John Machisic will be playing before the home folk this weekend. A huge delegation from Turtle Creek, Pa., will be on hand to cheer the transplanted Pennsylvanians on. Former Husker line coach Ralph Fife will be on hand also. Fife is head football coach at Mt. Lebanon High School in Pittsburgh.

FRAN NAGLE, quarterback from Lynn, Mass., wasn't the regular captain but in reality he was the backbone of the team. Sure there were great ball-players like Bob Reynolds, Don Strasheim and Charlie Toogood, but Nagle was the unofficial leader.

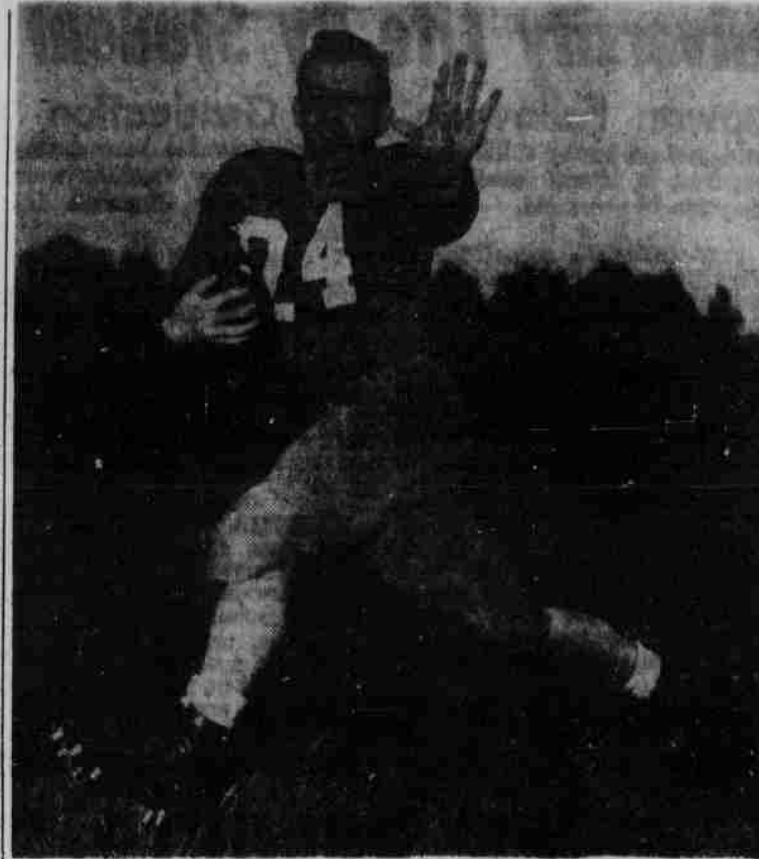

He had the qualities it took—an outstanding ballplayer as well as the person any Husker would have done well to imitate. Nagle was one of those clean-cut types that aren't easily found these days.

This season as the Cornhuskers got off to a bad start, there seemed to me to be a definite lack of this type of take-charge guy.

We all know there are plenty of Huskers on the current squad with outstanding talent, but where is the guy with the little something extra?

I may be off base in bringing up the subject because a lack of this special ingredient can only be disclosed from within the club itself.

As a famous writer once said, "Once we acquire the ability to

Leading Rusher

Dennis Korinek leads the Nebraska club in rushing with a net of 172 yards in 25 carries for a 6.9 average. The Ulysses lad also is the top Nebraska receiver as far as yardage is concerned. Korinek has snagged two passes good for 97 yards.

Forty I-M Clubs See Action

Sig Eps, DU's, Phi Psis Win To Keep Unbeaten Records

By GLENN NELSON Sports Staff Writer
Forty intramural football teams saw action Tuesday and Wednesday as unbeaten Sig Ep, DU and Phi Psi teams continued to lead fraternity action.

Sigma Phi Epsilon made it 3-0 in League I by dropping winless Phi Gamma Delta, 39-9 in a lopsided contest Wednesday. The loss forced the Phi Gams into the league cellar.

DELTA Upsilon and Phi Kappa Psi, tied for the lead in League II, upped their records to 3-0 Wednesday by downing Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Delta Theta, respectively.

The DU's had trouble annexing a 19-13 victory over the AGR's, while the Phi Deltas gave way 18-6. In other League I play, second-place Delta Tau Delta blanked Sigma Nu, 12-0, and Alpha Tau Omega squeezed past Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 19-13.

SIGMA ALPHA Mu moved to third place in League V by shutting out Norris House, 13-0. In fraternity B team play Tuesday, Sigma Phi Epsilon rolled over Alpha Tau Omega, 54-25; Delta Tau Delta dropped Phi Gamma Delta, 30-0; Sigma Alpha Epsilon shaded Sigma Nu, 1-0 (overtime) and Beta Theta Pi squeezed by Sigma Chi, 6-2.

Other B League play listed Phi Kappa Psi in a 42-2 romp over hapless Theta Xi and Delta Upsilon a one-point victor over Phi Delta Theta, 19-18.

The Gents continued to lead independent League IX as they put Sigma Gamma Epsilon into the cellar, 19-0.

In other independent play, the Jokers upheld their unbeaten string by rushing past the Jinxers, 19-0, in the first game of the year for the losers. Other League XI play listed Ag Gamma Club still without a loss by virtue of a 1-0 overtime win over Agmen.

"Blueprint" A Thrilling New Mystery

"A Blueprint For Murder," which opened Monday at the Lincoln Theater is a murder mystery with a new twist. The usual formula that mystery story writers employ to have he murderer turn out to be the one least suspected is reversed by Andrew Stone, who wrote the screen play and also directed, and although the audience suspects from the very beginning who the guilty person is, the author has cleverly maintained suspense throughout.

Jean Peters plays the part of a stepmother who skillfully hides her poisonous tendencies until Joseph Cotten, as the uncle of her stepdaughter who dies mysteriously, discovers her diabolical scheme to get the fortune her dead husband has left in trust. His trick of putting arsenic in her cocktail motivates one of the climactic scenes in the picture.

Main Feature Clock
Lincoln: "Blueprint For Murder," 1:05, 2:45, 4:30, 6:15, 8:00, 9:45.
Varsity: "A Lion Is In The Streets," 1:36, 3:35, 5:34, 7:33, 9:32.
State: "Martin Luther," 1:10, 3:15, 5:20, 7:22, 9:30.
Stuart: 3-D Cartoon and "Wings of the Hawk," 1:00, 3:09, 5:18, 7:27, 9:36.

Don Glantz Returns

Huskers At Top Strength For Pitt; Thirty-Two Make Pittsburgh Trip

Bordogna Will Open At Quarter For Nebraska

The Cornhuskers worked out Thursday morning at Memorial Stadium in preparation for Saturday's big test against the Pitt Panthers at Pittsburgh.

Center Ted Britt, who missed last week's tilt, was left at home again. The junior from North Platte has a bruised shoulder which has not responded too well to treatment.

Nick Adduci, veteran fullback from Chicago has not rounded into shape as quickly as was hoped for and the senior will work out in Lincoln during the Huskers' absence.

ONE SURPRISE addition to the NU traveling squad was Don Glantz. The Central City junior guard was in the Student Health unit Tuesday. He will probably see limited action against the Panthers.

NEBRASKA TRAVELING squad: Ends—Jack Braley, Miles City, Mont.; Sylvester Harris, Kansas City, Mo.; Andy Loehr, Turtle Creek, Pa.; Bill Schabacker, Minden; Jerry Yeager, Hastings.

Tackles—Ted Connor, Hastings; Bill Holloran, Schuyler; Max Kitzelmann, Omaha; Dick Morre, Mt. Vernon, Ia.; Bob Oberlin, West Allis, Wis.; Jerry Minnick, Cambridge.
