

Theater To Begin Tryouts For 'Hasty Heart' Tuesday

Play Takes Place In South Seas; Eight Men, One Woman In Cast

Tryouts will begin Tuesday for the third University Theater Production "Hasty Heart" by John Patrick.

Tryouts will be held Tuesday and Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. and Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room 301, Temple Building.

Stage Crew Applications Open Tuesday

Applications for crew members for the next University Theatre production will be taken this week at the regular tryouts.

Technical Director John Tolch announced that the new procedure for getting crew members was begun to help the students and to make it simpler to apply.

THE TRYOUTS will be held Tuesday and Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. and on Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 301, Temple Building.

"There are many unusual props that will have to be made for this play that should make it fun to work on," stated Tolch. "We need a bagpipe and a native African musical string instrument, both of which will have to be made."

TOLCH ALSO announced that many costumes, including a Scottish kilt, will have to be made by hand, giving "practical application of sewing abilities." All students may try out for the play who are in good standing.

Tolch also announced that the entire work schedule for the crews for all second semester shows is now posted in the Temple. This is to help students plan their schedules to fit in with the remaining plays.

The third annual Film Society Series, sponsored by the Union activities committee, will be held Wednesdays starting Feb. 17.

Admission to the movies will be by membership only and no admissions for single performances will be sold. Membership may be purchased for $1.80 for students and faculty members.

The films chosen will not be available to the public in commercial theaters. They will be shown at the State Theater at 7:30 p.m. on the following dates:

- Feb. 17, "Greed," Mar. 3, "Blood of a Poet and Moana," Mar. 17, "Duck Soup and the Barber Shop," Mar. 31, "A Time out of War and the Land," April 7, "Pictura—Adventures in Art," Apr. 21, "The Blue Angel," and May 5, "Fame is the Spur."

A special price of 50 cents will be charged for each picture.

The action of the play takes place in a small British hospital in the South Seas during World War II, Director Max Whittaker said.

THE CAST will consist of eight men and one woman. The men will play character parts portraying a Scottish boy, an American, a New Zealander, an Australian, a Cockney, a native and two British soldiers, one an orderly and the other the colonel who is in charge of the medical ward. The lone woman is a nurse in the ward.

"The many dialects that will be used in the play should make it a lot of fun to rehearse," commented Whittaker, "and the play is really a well written comedy."

The "Hasty Heart" which will be held in the Arena Theatre on Feb. 24, 25, 26 and 27 and March 3, 4, 5 and 6 will have a preview opening in Fairbury, Neb., in conjunction with a dramatic clinic on Feb. 21.

'They'll Never Get That One'

hard-studying students to prepare their examinations. Dr. Moore is acting chairman of the department of physics.

Unusual Bequest Gives NU $10,000

Ten thousand dollars for research on thunderstorms has been left to the University by Umno Franklin Luebben, described as an Omaha inventor.

Acting Chancellor John K. Selleck said that the terms of Luebben's bequest were rather unusual. He indicated that no one at the University had figured out exactly what use could be made of the money.

The Board of Regents who accepted the bequest, were told the will provided the money should be spent for: Scientific research in atmospheric electricity and the thunderstorm-research that "may lead to means whereby the violence of such storms may be moderated and/or with suitable atmospheric conditions, a needed rain might be started alone or in conjunction with cloud salting."

School fees are fixed at $600. This amount includes the tuition fees of "The Junior Year in Munich" and affiliated institutions, as well as expenses connected with the Junior Year office and staff. Lab Theater To Present English Play

First NU Showing Of Work By Fry

"A Phoenix Too Frequent," play by Christopher Fry, will be produced Friday and Saturday evening by the Laboratory Production Theater of the University.

This will be the first time that University theater-goers and students of literature will see a play by the noted English author.

"A Phoenix Too Frequent," one of Fry's poetic comedies, is a lab production which will be presented in the Arena Theater by a cast of three people. Cast members are Luanne Raun, Jack Parris and Margot Hunt.

FRY, CONSIDERED a playwright, has raised much comment in critic circles by fusing poetry with drama as he has done in "A Phoenix Too Frequent."

Some critics of Fry are undecided whether "his language is almost that of Shakespeare or that of a merchant of ginger-beer." However, the excellence of his poetry has caused many to think of Fry as the "modern Shakespeare."

"Poetic excellence and subtle wit are but two of the striking elements in this forthcoming play," stated Dale Holt, graduate student in speech and dramatics who is the director of the play. There is no admission charge.
