Along Military Lines

Army, Air Units Commission 36

Competitions, Field Trips, Saber Presentation Planned
By STAFF WRITER

Ten Army and 26 Air Force ROTC seniors will be graduating in January. All 26 men will receive commissions in their respective branches.

There will be a commissioning ceremony at Love Library Auditorium Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. with Colonel R. E. Campbell as main speaker. Rabbi H. I. Stern will give the invocation. The ceremony will be open to the public.

NEBRASKA'S VARSITY rifle team journeyed to Manhattan, Kan., for a shoulder-to-shoulder match with the Kansas State riflemen. The Nebraskans dropped the match by six points—1846 to 1840.

Paul Jordan was high man for Nebraska. He fired a score of 382 out of a possible 400. Also participating were Cadets McCutchan, McAndrew, Oden, Perrenand and Te Selle.

TWENTY-ONE Lincoln doctors, all veterans of naval service, have contributed funds for the purchase of a Naval ROTC battalion sword.

The sword will be presented to the current battalion officer during special ceremonies in Love Library Auditorium on March 30.

A FIELD trip to Nellis Air Force Base, Las Vegas, Nev., is tentatively being planned for the weekend of Feb. 5. Nineteen cadets will make the trip. They will leave Friday morning by air lift and will return to Lincoln on Sunday morning.

Captain Nyland will be in charge of the trip. All AFROTC students interested in the flight are asked to sign their name to the list on the AFROTC bulletin board.

DON GOKLEY, Gary Martin, Ray Hughes and Bill Neef were initiated into the Phalanx honorary society last week.

Lt. Colonel Humbert F. Biassella is scheduled for arrival to make a two day annual inspector general's survey of the Army ROTC activities for Fifth Army Headquarters.

The army instructor personnel are engaged in two vigorous bits of competition along the lines of rifle practice and with the bridge decks in noontime tournaments. Major Weibel and SFC Whitney so far lead the rifle shooters, who are getting in practice for the Fifth Army matches. Miss Diexen of the administrative office heads the Culbertson competition.

NROTC SUMMER cruise dates have just been announced. Freshman and junior regulars will participate in USMA/NROTC joint cruise ABLE, embarking at Norfolk, Va., on June 6. They will return to the same port for disembarkation on Aug. 3.

Junior contracts will go on cruise CHARLIE, embarking at Norfolk on July 18 and returning to port on Aug. 27.

Sophomore regulars will participate in aviation/amphibious training in first regiment. They will be at Corpus Christi, Tex., from June 25 to July 16 and in Little Creek, Va., from July 18 to Aug. 6.

'Phoenix Too Frequent' Combines Prose, Poetry To Open Jan. 15; To Run 2 Days

"A Phoenix Too Frequent," a poetic comedy by Christopher Fry, will be presented Friday and Saturday, January 15 and 16 at 8:15 p.m.

Under the direction of Dale Hoyt, a graduate student in speech and dramatics, the lab production will be presented in the Arena Theater by a cast of three people.

The scene of action is the tomb of Virilius. Virilius had been an accountant and had died "wearing his office tunic and checking the pence column as he went."

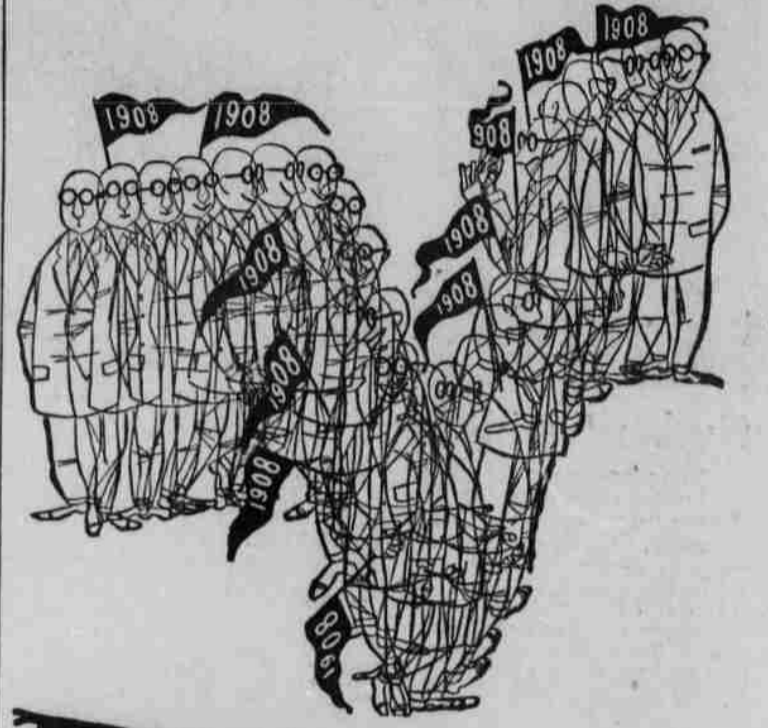

DYNAMENE, THE mourning wife, played by Luanne Raun, has vowed to spend the rest of her days, "fasting and grieving in the tomb." Doto, her maid, pledged by Margot Hunt, pledges herself to die, also fasting and grieving.

All goes well in the mourning until Tegeus, a corporal of the guard, enters and proceeds to weaken the vows of Doto and Dynamene by means of his manly presence. Tegeus is played by Jack Hunt.

The eloquent love-making by Tegeus, and the wrath of the wine that has been drunk, culminate the story with an almost O. Henry twist.

Fry, considered a poet playwright, has raised much comment in critic circles by fusing poetry with drama.

This will be the first time that University theater-goers and students of literature will see a play by the noted English author.
