Seven European nations have agreed to join a "Western European Union" for common defense with the United States and Canada standing by as partners and guarantors.

The union results from the rewriting of the 1948 Treaty of Brussels to include West Germany and Italy with the original five member nations-Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The agreement will give Germany back her freedom, authorize a 500,000 man Germany army, bring West Germany into the Brussels alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and end the
