

Council Appearance

Anthony Van Dijk, World University Service representative currently at the University to accept the coming All University Fund drive, is shown speaking to the Student Council at their meeting Wednesday.

Send-off Speaker: Van Dijk Praises Work Done For WUS By AUF

by Bill Pitts Staff Writer

"Campaigning for World University Service is effortless because of the excellent job AUF is now doing," states Anthony van Dijk, representative from the University of Leyden in Holland. His main object is to inform and explain in detail where the funds AUF collects are going, he said.

Van Dijk is being sponsored by AUF as a send off speaker for their fall campaign. Twenty-five per cent of all money collected during this drive will be donated to the WUS, Andy Smith AUF president, announced.

Van Dijk first became interested in WUS when he was living in Indonesia. He wants to help promote aid for under privileged people and vile conditions in the world today, he said.

At first, his trip to the United States was a private journalist project for the University of Holland Press. This was to inform his people of the unfamiliar aspects of American education. Arriving in New York, he again came in contact with WUS and began this two month college tour.

World University Service is an international state relief organization based on mutual assistance of promoting relief projects in underdeveloped countries on a university level.

Its main objective is helping people to help themselves. Van Dijk said. WUS is the only national agency organized for the purpose of soliciting in American colleges for funds to aid universities. A.S.A.

Bands Invited To Union Hour

Coffee hour for all students, parents, and friends of bands participating in Band Day will be held in the Union main lounge Saturday.

Free coffee, cream and donuts will be served from 4:30 to 5:45. Colorful pennants of all the various high schools will center around a big NW and boy musical instruments.

Invitations have been sent to all bands by the Hospitality committee, Marilyn Beck, chairman. Neddy Snyder has charge of the arrangements.

Barbeque: Ag Campus To Sponsor Receptions

College of Agriculture will play host to alumni and parents during Open House, Oct. 29 on the Ag Campus.

The Open House, "Ag Day," will begin at 9 a.m. and last through the morning, when the entire Ag Campus will be open to the public.

Climaxing the morning's activities will be a barbeque at the College Activities Building from 11:30 to 12:30 p.m. Tickets for the barbeque will be $1.25 a person. It is sponsored by the Ag College student organizations.

"Ag Day's" main purpose is to acquaint people from all over Nebraska with the opportunities of the University, and the services it provides the state. It is pointed especially to alumni and parents of students now enrolled, to allow them a glimpse of Ag College for one day.

Most of the Ag faculty and staff members will be available at their offices throughout the morning and part of the afternoon to answer any questions visitors may have.

A block of seats at the Kansas-Nebraska football game will be held for early ticket reservations. Those interested should contact A. J. Lewandowski, athletics business manager.

According to Dr. Franklin Eldridge, Associate Director of Resident Instruction, "Ag Day" will be one of the best opportunities for the people of Nebraska to see and watch their College of Agriculture in action.

Africa, Middle East, Greece and Yugoslavia have been benefited by WUS.

Van Dijk expressed his gratitude to Gail Katsize, vice president in charge of solicitations of AUF. His trip to Nebraska was adequate in every aspect and he wishes to thank her for the efficiency of his schedule. It gave him numerous opportunities to express his feelings on the relationship of AUF and WUS.

When asked his opinion of Nebraska he said, "Before coming here, Minnesota was the loveliest state in my estimation. Since my trip from Omaha to Lincoln on the bus, I have definitely changed my mind. Beautiful rolling, green farm lands, adequate highways and pleasant conditions stand out in my mind. Everyone is living traditionally their own life. This has given me an opportunity to understand the people and their wonderful state."

Ag Announces Short Courses

The first session of short courses at the University Ag College will be held Oct. 31 through Nov. 21.

The short courses were planned at the request of many Nebraskans who want additional training in farm operations or home management, but who are not interested in a four-year college course.

Each short course session will be four weeks long and two courses will be available during that time.

Registration fee for each session will be $25. Enrollment for the first session must be limited to 27 men and 20 women. Applications will be approved in the order received.

Applications should be sent to Associate Director of Resident Instruction, 206 Agricultural Hall, College of Agriculture, Lincoln.

Short course students are required to make their own arrangements for board and room. The Associate Director of Resident Instruction maintains a list of rooms that are available.

The first session courses offered for men will be selection and maintenance of farm machinery, and keeping farm records.

Women's courses offered are feeding the growing family, and home relationships and management.
