rodeo arena at 1:30 p.m. for the annual College Rodeo. Events scheduled include: saddle bronc riding, steer riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, bull dogging, barrel racing and pole bending.

Calf catching and wild cow milking contests for the boys and girls representing organized houses also will be held.

The day's events will be climaxed by a street dance. Rodeo winners and the Goddess of Agricultural will be announced.

Committees and chairmen include: Events, Otto Shipperite and Betty Bock; Publicity, Diane Peterson and Betty Bock; Barbecue, Mark Clark; Tickets, Margo Franke and Dorothy Beechner.

Rodeo, Doyle Hulme and Bob Discoe; Public Address System, Ken Wehrman; Horse Show, Paul Yuetter; Food Booth, Mary De Mars; Finance, Will Waldo; and Faculty, Ann Klosterman.

Separate tickets for the barbecue and rodeo may be purchased for 80 cents each or a combination ticket is available for $1.50.

Block And Bridle: Majors Honored By Club

A. D. Majors, well known livestock commission man and Omaha civic leader was honored at the annual Block and Bridle Club honors banquet held last Friday in the Union ballroom.

Majors' picture will be placed in the Animal Husbandry building along with pictures of the men honored in previous years. He was selected for his outstanding contribution to youth, interest in his fellow man and his civic accomplishments.

Winners in the livestock judging contest were announced. Dick Deels won first place in the junior division. Paul Yuetter received an Elgin watch for winning the senior division of the contest.

In the meat judging contest, Mas Waldo took first place honors.

Professor M. A. Alexander was awarded an Elgin watch for being the livestock judging team coach, past Block and Bridle Club advisor and past president of the national Block and Bridle Club.

Alpha Gamma Rho won the traveling plaque for the first place team in the junior division.

Mervyn Schiefert was named the outstanding senior Block and Bridle club member for the past year.

Home Ec Club

The Home Ec Club will hold a meeting Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in the Home Ec Building lounge, according to Patsy Kaufman, publicity chairman.

Fifty-Nine Years Old: Senior Day Became Ivy Day

Ivy Day, one of the oldest traditions of the University began in 1898 as Senior Class Day.

The spring festivities were first called Ivy Day in 1901, when seniors marched to the south side of the old University Hall and sang the school song. After the senior class president turned over the ivy trowel to the junior class president, the senior dance was held.

Two years later, 13 Innocents were tackled, and 16 senior women did a May Pole Dance to make Ivy Day an even bigger occasion. In 1905, the Order of the Black Masque, the local chapter of Mortar Board, was founded. The masking of outstanding junior women added more excitement to Ivy Day.

Ivy and Daisy chains were added in 1910. Fifty girls carried the chains around the campus. The first May Queen was crowned in 1912.

In 1918 a large flag of 1403 stars was presented to the University in honor of college men in the armed services. Ivy from Doughboys was planted.

When the war was over, the Lord of the May was presented on Ivy Day, but this presentation was soon discontinued.

Ivy Day in 1936, included Farmers' Fair, E-Week, and the grand opening of the new Student Union. Now a May Queen, the Ivy Day Court, Ivy and Daisy chains, the Ivy Day Sing, the tackling of new Innocents and the masking of new Mortar Boards, and the planting of the traditional ivy are all a part of Ivy Day.

On Ivy Day afternoon between five and twenty-five junior women will be chosen to continue the 51-year old tradition of the Black Masque Chapter of Mortar Board.

The women will be chosen on the basis of leadership in student activities, service and scholarship. New members must have over a 6.1 cumulative average and must have given service to the University.

The nineteen women who served as Mortar Boards this year are: president, Virginia Hudson; vice-president, Carol Link; Jo Ann Chalupa Newmeyer, secretary; Carol Wilste, treasurer; Jeanne Elliot, historian; Linda Butman, publicity chairman; Carol Anderson; Courtney Campbell; Beverly Deepe; Margaret Edwards; Melva Fahrbruch; Jane Jeffrey; Diane Knotek; Shirley McPeck; Dorothy Novotny; Shirley Richards; Hanna Rosenberg; Sue Simmons; and Marian Sokol.

Thirteen juniors in University activities will be tackled Saturday afternoon when the Innocents Society reveals its successors.

The scarlet-hooded secret society helps with homecoming, football games and New Student week. The society has combined with other Big Seven senior honoraries to set up a men's senior policy group.

This year's Innocents are: Sam Ellis, president; John Fagan, vice-president; John Nelson, secretary; Charles Trumble, treasurer; Arley Waldo, sergeant-at-arms; Ben Belmont; Bob Cook; Fred Daly; Bill DeWulf; Jim Feather; Doyle Hulms; Sam Jensen; and Marshall Nelson.

Elections for the 1957 May Queen were held March 20. She will be presented during the Ivy Day ceremonies.

The finalists for queen are: Betty Branch, Emily Hemphill, Mary James, Rita Jelinek Meyer, Beth Keenan, Mary Keyes, Janet Kuska, Barbara Rystrom, Kay Skinner and Gail Walling.

Last year's Ivy Day Court was reigned over by Ingrid Swerre, May Queen of 1956. Billip Croft was maid of honor.

Spring Day is scheduled Friday. The combination of Ivy Day and Spring Day provide the students with a week-end of festivities.

YWCA Breakfast Scheduled Sunday

The YWCA May Morning Breakfast, being held in conjunction with Spring Day and Ivy Day events, will be held Sunday at 8 a.m. in the Union.

This annual event will honor the outstanding "Y" senior woman and the mothers of the "Y" girls. Mrs. Grace Robles, Lincoln YWCA Board member, will speak on "Leadership." The program is planned so that those who wish may attend church after the breakfast.

Anyone wishing to attend "The Horizons of Y" may purchase tickets for $1 each from the YWCA office or members of the Y cabinet.

Parade Committee

There will be a meeting of the Spring Day Parade Committee today in Room 315 of the Union, according to Lyle Hanson, chairman.

Spring Sunburns Mark Sorority Girls

By JAN FARRELL, Society Editor

Spring officially arrives at the University with the Ivy Day weekend, but ask a sorority sun-deck fan and they'll tell you sun-burning started weeks ago.

Legacy week-end was a success for both the high-schoolers and the co-eds. There were only a few sorority girls who were still complaining Monday about their broken backs from sleeping on floors, a couple of chairs or under the piano. Most everybody has recovered from the sleepless slumber parties.

Monday there were announcements of one marriage, six engagements and six pinnings.

Marriage
Shirley Gunn, Kappa Delta senior in Arts and Sciences from Omaha, to John Kelley, Delta Sigma Phi senior in Arts and Sciences from Beaver City.

Engagements
Natalie Zolot, junior in Teachers from Lincoln, to Al Grove, Delta Tau Delta graduate student in Business Administration from Dell Rapids, S. D.
Joyce Wiederspan, Alpha Chi Omega junior in Teachers from Lincoln, to John Moyer, Delta Tau Delta junior in Engineering from Lincoln.

Pat Nixon, Residence Halls for Women senior in Business Administration from South Sioux City, to Robert Ringham, Delta Kappa Epsilon alumnus from Depaw and instructor in Economics from Kenosha, Wis.

Nancy George, Alpha Omicron Pi freshman in Teachers from Omaha, to Jim Lewis, Delta Sigma Pi sophomore in Business Administration from Omaha.

Dixie McKay, Alpha Xi Delta sophomore in Teachers from Winner, S. D., to Geoffrey Fried, Pi Kappa Alpha senior in Business Administration from Butte.

Carol Link, Delta Gamma senior in Teachers from Ainsworth, to Tom Waring, Phi Rho senior in Medicine from Stanton.

Pinnings
Dallas Hunt, Kappa Kappa Gamma freshman in Teachers from Lincoln, to Jim Shields, Sigma Chi junior in Veterinary Medicine at Kansas State from Falls City.

Corrine Ekstrom, Delta Delta Delta, junior in Teachers from Omaha, to Ernie Hathaway, Phi Delta Theta junior in Arts and Sciences from Omaha.

Mary Jo Wehr, Kappa Delta sophomore in Arts and Sciences from Lincoln, to William Dahl, Acacia junior in Business Administration from Alliance.

Jan Chatfield, Pi Beta Phi sophomore in Teachers from Lincoln, to Steve Leeper, Alpha Tau Omega sophomore in Dentistry from Hastings.

Judy Lundt, Alpha Phi junior in Teachers from Omaha, to Phillip Stevens, Phi Delta Theta junior in Business Administration from Lincoln.
