

NU Student Union To Serve Campus

The Student Union is the only organization on campus entirely devoted to the student social life. Besides sponsoring light entertainment such as dances and ping pong tournaments, the Union also has cultural activities like concerts and foreign film series.

Some of the facilities available at the Union are ping pong, checkers, chess games, a large TV set, a fountain and a snack bar, juke box, cafeteria, a study room, a lounge to meet and chat with your friends, a picture lending service, a summer job file, exhibits and displays of interest to everyone, a music room, complete with phonograph and records for any student's use, and meeting rooms for student organizations.

A weekly feature of the Union is the Sunday Night movie. Top motion pictures are brought free of charge for the students.

Another weekly event are the dances. On every Saturday night the candlelight room is open for dancing. Usually the juke box or Program Service provides the music. In addition throughout the year special dances like the Frosh Hop during New Student Week and the Pink Elephant Dance are held throughout the year.

The foreign film series is a special event for the Union that is being enjoyed by more students each year. For a special price the students are able to see about seven documentary and foreign films. The films include German, Italian, French, English, and Spanish films. For many students it is their first contact with the better class of foreign movies.

During the year there are also such events as concerts, the Spring and Fall Talent Shows, Pigskin Parties, bridge and dance lessons, seminars, forums, book reviews, and chess and bridge tournaments.

The Christmas season is welcomed at the Union by the annual Christmas Party. For the party the Union is decorated with greens and Christmas ornaments.

Ag Students Gather In Dell

Probably the most frequented place in the Ag Union is the Dell. Here students gather for not just chit chat but cokes and hamburgers as well. The Ag Union lounge is another gathering spot where Ag students find a pleasant atmosphere to relax in easy chairs.

Another feature of the Ag Union are the Sunday night movies. Every Sunday a free motion picture is shown.

The Ag Sno-Ball Formal and the Starlight Terrace Ball are but two highlights on the Ag Union calendar for the year. The Ag Union, located in the Ag College Activities Building, is the social hub of the Ag campus. It is the gathering place for all Ag students for relaxation, snacks, and many Union sponsored events.

Every Sunday night the Ag Union sponsors "Pot Luck with the Prof" dinners. This is a joint project of the students and faculty. The purpose is to better acquaint students and faculty by bringing them together in a highly informal fashion.

The voice of the Ag campus is the Ag Rag. Both edited and written separately from the Daily Nebraskan, it features articles of Ag interest only. It spotlights both people and events on the Ag campus.

Coeds Decorate Carnival Booths

Penny Carnival is an annual fall event sponsored by Coed Counselors. All sorority pledge classes and organized houses try out for this event. Out of these, 15 are selected to participate in the carnival.

Each group has its own booth and may not spend more than $10.00 for decorations and equipment.

First, second and third places are awarded to the booths on the basis of originality, participation and audience appeal.

Different games are played at the booths, such as throwing darts, bean bags and rings, which calls for audience participation.

The Delta Gamma's were the winners of the 1956 Penny Carnival. Their theme was "Hit the Headlines." The game for their booth was throwing folded newspapers into holes on a newspaper backboard. When the newspaper went through a hole.

aires with featured vocalist, Barb Coonrad. The three-hour dance, starting at 8:30 p.m., will give new students an opportunity to meet one another.

Evening Reception

The Student Union Open House and Chancellor's Reception during New Student Week will prove the statement "All Paths Lead to the Union" to be true. The gala event, beginning at 8 p.m., is on Friday, September 13, in the Student Union. A full evening has been planned to introduce new students to the facilities offered by the Student Union.

In the Main Lounge of the Union, students will meet Chancellor and Mrs. Hardin and other top University officials. Each college will be represented by its dean who will be happy to chat with incoming students. The Mortar Boards and Innocents Society will act as hosts and hostesses in the Lounge. Refreshments will be served by members of the Student Union Board.

In the ballroom, students may dance to the music of the Belle-
